Words Of Life

By Rev. G. K. A. Haase
Pastor Of Free Methodist Church

Last week we reviewed the miracles of the birth of the Christ Child in the atmospheric heaven, in the starry heaven, and in the spiritual heaven. Today, we desire to trace our steps into the near future, to bring us directly to the very entrance of the Christ in his earthly ministry.

Briefly, the answer to the astronomers of the East were directed by the Jewish priests to the town of Bethlehem of Judea, which the priests foretold by studying the scriptures. There the Wise Men found "him who was born King of the Jews." Their gifts foreshadowed the three offices the child was to fill: Gold was a tribute to a King; Frankincense an offering of worship to a priest; and myrrh an embalming material for burial.

The prophecies of Simeon to Mary at the dedication in the Temple; The child was to be to the enlightening of the Gentiles, and also to the glory of Israel. "He is set for the fall and rising again of many in Israel; and for a sign which shall be spoken against." Great sorrow was also to come to Mary, like a sword pierced through her heart: Luke 2:32-35.

King Herod, called "The Great," tried to countermand the Word of God by the slaughter of all babies in the vicinity of Bethlehem two years old and under, confident that "He that is born King of the Jews" must surely be among them. That child would have been had it not been for a God-inspired dream to Joseph to flee into the land of Egypt, the jurisdiction of Herod; Matthew 2:11.

The final glimpse into the future of the Messiah we have twelve years later. Every Hebrew male becomes eligible for church membership at the age of twelve. Mary and Joseph took him then to Jerusalem for the feast of Passover, together with many friends and relatives of Nazareth. In the confusion of the celebration, Mary, like many other mothers, lost contact with him. It would have saved her, and many other mothers, a great deal of anxiety to keep close contact with Him. She supposed that he was with the other pilgrims from Galilee. After a vain search for Him for three days, she found him in the Temple, disputing with the Rabbi about the interpretation of certain prophecies. When Mary gently reproved Him that He had caused them great sorrow, He answered innocently, "Did you not know that I would naturally be in my Father's House?" (Revised Standard Version, and German translations.)

The Temple was "The House of God," and thus he plainly confessed that He was the Son of God. Both Mary and Joseph did not fully understand the meaning of that statement, but Mary remembered it verbatim, and often thought about it. When, after the Ascension, she related the events in the life history to Luke, the historian, she told him exactly how they had occurred to her, Luke 2:41-52.

This brings us therefore, to the very beginning of the ministry of Jesus Christ, the Savior of the World.

Sanford Gives Key Assignments To Youngsters

Raleigh - Three men whose average age is 29 have been given key assignments on youthful Gov. Terry Sanford's office staff.

At a news conference, Sanford said 29-year old Hugh Cannon, a former partner in Sanford's Fayetteville law firm, would occupy the No. 1 post and carry the title, "assistant to the governor."

Sanford's administrative assistant will be 25-year old Tom Lambeth of Winston-Salem, and his press secretary will be Graham Jones, 33, formerly of the Durham Morning Herald.

All three men were active in the 43-year old Sanford's campaign for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in two primaries, and in his final quest for the office in the general election.

Sanford also said Henry Hall Wilson, a 39-year old Monroe lawyer also active during the campaigns, was his choice to succeed Paul Thompson of Fayetteville as Democratic national committeeman.

In naming his three top assistants, Sanford noted he had changed the titles somewhat. He told newsmen he was trying to develop titles which more clearly define the actual jobs to be performed.

Cannon is to keep Sanford informed on matters dealing with the general duties of the office, serve as liaison between the governor and various state agencies. Also represent Sanford at various events.

Lambeth will be charged with the duties of the old post of private secretary. He will make travel arrangements and appointments.

Jones will handle press and
