ell Your Legislators

our View On Issues

Now is the time for all good citizens to think carefully on sues which will be before the legislature soon to meet in

Now is the time for all good citizens to express themselves their duly elected representatives of House and Senate. Now is the time for all good citizens to begin to accumulate formation in detail in order to have an intelligent rstanding of the issues ahead.

ntative and your senator wish to have the benefit Your representative and your senator wish to have the benefit your thinking. They wish to have the benefit of the thinking missioners, members of town boards and other local ficials.

What are the problems of the towns and of the county which s in the Legislature might help solve?

It is certain for the first time in many, many years that ew taxes may have to be provided, Gov. Sanford and citizens erally have pledged full support to education enrichment grams which will cost $106 million. Sanford's statement in is inaugural address that if it required new taxes to give orth Carolina this push forward for quality and rank they ust come. This statement got the loudest applause from the n-packed Raleigh city auditorium,

Sanford is leaving no stone unturned to prepare the way operly for the enactment of this program is Legislature. even took occasion when addressing some so North Caroa furniture manufacturers who honored him at a dinner in 'hicago to ask these "solid businessmen" for their backing or the program. A good many, if not a majority, of these ig-time manufacturers (big time for North Carolina) were epublicans. Traditionally the men of this status resist new ixes of every sort with might and main,

It is upon such men in the state's business world that the e of the great new education program may finally depend. anford woos them ardently.

So it must by some new taxes.

Where do you want these taxes placed?

Think through that one and give your senator or representive the benefit of your thinking.

Talk to them now. Don't wait until the Legislature is meetng and then bedevil them to death with time-consuming in-erviews of little consequence.

OTHER FOLKS SAY: hocking School Statistics

Appalling and shocking are the only adjectives strong enough to describe statistics about North Carolina schools just dug up by the North Carolina Advisory Committee on Civil Rights. escribe statistics about North Carolina schools just dug They show that North Carolina ranks extremely low among 11 Southern states in percentage of students attending schools accredited by the prestigious Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. This state is last (or 11th), in ercentage of white students in accredited schools, seventh in number of Negro students and ninth in the combined total. Just what do these statistics mean? In the first place, the outhern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools is a venerable organization established early in this century to evaluate quality of public schools throughout the Southeast, Colleges use its services to determine qualifications of students seeking higher education. A North Carolina student, for example, planning to go to Georgia Tech or Harvard would have better chance to win admission if he graduated from an accredited high school.

In the second place, a statement by the State Department of Public Instruction deprecating the importance of accreditation is faulty in logic and sounds more like a rationalization of North Carolina's poor standing than a real explanation of the facts.

Dr. Charles Carroll and his associates say that most North Carolina high schools put emphasis on accreditation by the State Department of Public Instruction rather than the Southern Association. Yet they argue, at the same time, that the partment's standards are similar to those of the association. If they are similar, why is the broader accreditation not preferable? Certainly it gives graduates of North Carolina high schools a better standing among colleges all over the nation than state accreditation does.

For example, all high schools in Greensboro, and High Point, are accredited by the Southern Association and many have been for years, Greensboro Senior High was accredited in 1920.

North Carolina prides itself on being a leader in public fucation. Yet we are near the bottom among all the Southeastern states in number of students accredited - even Miss-issippi.

Why is this true?

The other states have just as many rural and povertystricken areas as we have -- some even more. It is true, of course, that North Carolina has no large citles compareable to Atlanta, Birmingham, New Orleans, Miami and Norfolk, But the total quality of our schools should give us a better anding.

Could it be that North Carolina's schools are too highly entralized? Have we relied too much on providing a floor for the poorer schools at the expense of raising the celling on uality? Does state management discourage local initiative--acher supplements and enrichment -- without which few hools can attain accreditation?

The Southern Association does put emphasis on quantitave statistics -- such items as as amount of money spent per tive statistics -- such items as as aniount of money open go a child, classroom space, salaries, et al, -- but these in turn go a long way toward determining quality. In this dawning New Day in Education, North Carolina p soul-searching about the quality of public achools. There are signs that we have fallen far behind-en farther in our own region than we had dared suspect. And a good part of the trouble lies in our continuing failure recognize that local enrichment of the public schools is a vital requisite for adequate education. Governor Sanford and the 1961 General Assembly should deeply probe this whole subect. It was examined by the N.C. State Education Commission n 1948 and by the N. C. Public School Finance Committee of 1958. What does North Carolina Propose to do about the de-teriorating quality of its public schools?

Capital Clipboard

Hector McLean, banker and former mayor of Lumberton, was a kid of five in the Man-

To this good day, the old walls of the Mansion have not echoed to the midnight colic-cry of a gubernatorial new-born babe. STATE COMPETITION

When the State finally decided recently to add legis-lative bills to the printing done at Central Prison, it moved the government anot ness.

firm step into private busithe past 25 years has averag-ed introducing about 2,000 bills per session. Think for a moment of the number of bills that must be printed on some of the more important pieces of Legislation and you can see that Raleigh printers this year are losing some good solid business to the State.

being one of our ultra-modern areas, with manana culture and all that. Nevertheless, we note that after 29 years, the State Board of Education in that paradise on the Pacific has turned from the state's print-ing office to private publish-

While the tax-free state could likely do the job more cheaply than it can buy books from the publishers, it ran into a serious hitch: some of the publishers got tired of leasing their plates to one of State Board of Education, realizing the school children about 70 per cent of the basic private publishers.

for its textbooks.

We think of California as

The N. C. Legislature over

He was the youngest.

by Eula H. Greenwood

Although most of Raleigh's Aimough most of Raleigh's summer vacationers--and we have our full share--prefer sand and sun to mountain greenery, owning or rent-ing cottages at Morehead City or Weitherstills come of the or Wrightsville, some of them hie to the hills come summertime.

In this group in the future may be Mr. and Mrs. L. Y. Ballentine, whose official ad-dress is listed as Varina, but who also live a lot on the top of the Hotel Sir Walter here. Known to their wide circle of friends and close acquaintances as Bess and Stag, Mrs. Ballentine runs the N. C. Automobile Dealers Association, whose beautiful offices are on the ground floor of the Sir Walter, and Mr. Ballen-tine is Commissioner of Agriculture. He is also a working farmer, operating a dairy which provides Raleigh with much of its milk.

They are building a home in the Boone area, certainly one of the real garden spots North Carolina--partiof cularly from April to October.

To use an old agricultural cliche, they make a peach of a pair--and we daresay the people of Watauga will love very much their new neighbors from Wake. OUR OWN FIRST LADY

Nice is Mrs. lackie Kennedy. Young and handsome are President John and Governor Terry, Let us not, though, pay so much attention to these others that we overlook Mrs. Terry Sanford, our own First

Bet you didn't know she is a native of Kentucky, grew up a farm out from Hopkins ville, lost her parents while still in her teens, and then went to live with an aunt in Howel, Ky. Her name before marriage was Margaret Rose Knight. Her parents were John Richard Knight and Elizabeth Ford Knight, She was a co-ed majoring in English at UNC when she and her future husband met.

On July 4, 1942, they were married -- and he left a draft exempt FBI job four weeks married later to enlist in the Army, She taught school for a while * Chatham County.

Mrs. Sanford's first two years of college work came at Christian College in Columbia, Missouri. When young Sanford returned to Chapel Hill after the war to complete work on his law degree, his young wife served as assistant to the Dean of Women at UNC.

MORE THAN ORGANIZATIONS

To our desk has come the new and beautiful edition of "North Carolina Organizatcompiled by the N. C. Il of Women's Organions" Council of izations of Chapel Hill. Well edited by Mrs. W. S. Carawan of Columbia, N. C., the book is well laid out and full of helpful information.

Although not nearly as thick and cumbersome -- and lacking all the facts -- the book reminds us of the old "North Carolina Almanac" put out by Mrs. J.C.B. Ehringhaus. w living in Edenton, and Mrs. Carl Goerch in the early 50's. By the way, wonder what ever ppened to the "Almanac" haven't seen one in many

SENATOR SAM ERVIN * SAYS *

Washington Those of us who witnessed the inaugural oath by President Kennedy at the Capitol were part of a drama that has always fascinated men everywhere who see democracy in action, Kennedy as the 35th occupant of the White House, demonstrates anew the strength and the un-ion which binds this country into the greatest of all nations. Tar Heels A host of North Carolinians were on hand at the Capitol for these ceremonies. This year's festivi-ties were probably the most colorful ever. Led by Parade Grand Marshal, Lt. General James M. Gavin, war-time commander of the famed 82nd Airborne Division, more than 33,000 civilian and military marchers participated in the 1961 Presidential Inaugural Parade, North Carolina, like all other states of the union, sent its sons and daughters to participate in the parade. Committee Meetings - Mosr of my time not spent in the debates has been used Senate recently in attending meetings of the Senate Armed Services Committee and the Senate Judiclary Committee, The latter held hearings on the appointment of Robert Kennedy their chief competitors. The for the cabinet post of At-torney General. Depsite charges of inexperience by some critics, I urged his confirwould thus be deprived of some excellent books, are getting mation because I believe that the President should have the power to pick his advisers.

textbooks in California from have known Robert Kennedy since the days when he ser-ved as Counsel to the Senate Rackets Committee of which I was a member He has a great capacity for work, has superior intelligence, and is a man of outstanding courage.

Hodges I accompanied former Governor Luther Hodges to the Senate Commerce Committee which was considering his nomination for Sec-retary of Commerce. Gover-nor Hodges and I were schoolmates at the University of North Carolina and my long association with him has been most pleasant. He made an excellent impression on the Committee and will be the first Cabinet member from North Carolina since Secretary of the Navy, Josephus Daniels, who was a member of Woodrow Wilson's Cabinet.

Kennedy Administration -Much has been said and written about the new Kennedy Administration. My impression has been that the new Administration has conscientiously tried to assemble a talented group to head the Cabinet. Many problems beset our country both at home and abroad. We need the best minds available to form workable programs without upsetting our economy. I am confident that the new President and Vice-President will summon out best energies to the tasks ahead.

The Murphy Explorers Club net Thursday, January 19, in te basement of the First he dist Church. The Club decided to attend church as a group the follow-ing Sunday at the First Bap-tist Church. They also plan to tour the prison camp after heir next meeting.

After the business meeting, the group viewed a film "Blue Angles," which was obtained for them by Mr Ensley.

Shoal Creek News

Tourists visiting in North Carolina often comment on our excellent highways, and for good reason. North Carolina citizens now enjoy the largest state-maintained road system in the nation-more than 70,000 miles in all! And our state-wide program continues unabated, providing additional hard-surfaced roads to make markets more accessible to farmers and to transport workers to their jobs in nearby industries.

Another system gaining wide-spread approval in North Carolina is that of the "legal control" of the sale of beer and ale. which has been adopted by most of our progressive communities.

CITIZENS BANK AND TRUST COMPANY

State of North Carolina at the close of business on December 31, 1960

ist-	AODETO
ong nce way	 Cash, balances with other banks, including reserve balances, and cash items in process of collection. United States Government obligations, direct and guaranteed. 	$ 1,638,571.98 3,434,479,15 er-	3. Obligations of States and political subdivisions.	L243.848.76
tute	4. Other bonds, notes, and debentures,	153.082.28 ri-	5. Corporate stocks (including None stock of Federal Reserve Bank	100.00
e	6. Loans and discounts (including None overdrafts).	3,181,554.79
	 Bank premises owned 102,039,12, furniture and fixtures 33,055,82 (Bank premises owned are subject to None liens not-assumed by Bank) Real estate owned other than bank premises. Investments and other assets indirectly representing bank pre- 	135,095.54 16,979.65
100	mises or other real estate.	None
1762	10, Customes' liability to this bank on acceptances outstanding	None
•	11. Other assets	132,117.02
	12. TOTAL ASSETS	9,935,829,17
		and the second se

The Editor:

We are a big country, and we have a big government, and it is easy for a little part of a big country, with all the work going on, with all the problems that come up, to be overlooked.

But regardless how big and how rich our nation is, we in Western North Carolina should try everything possible to raise our standard of living. The government has to know that this is our wish and our intention, but the only way they will know is if we tell them often enough. There are several ways that the federal government can help. One is to build a government-owned and run defense plant, Millions of workers all over the country are employed in defense work. All products manufactured for the defense of our nation are paid for by the caxpayers. There are literally thousands things that we can manufacture in Western NorthCar-olina for the defense department, since we have the room to put up defense factories, and the people who can build and manufacture anything. If it is something new that is not manufactured in Western North Carolina at this time, our people can learn it in no

Raise Our Standards

Letters To The Editor

merce and other interested groups can make arrangements, and should make arrangements, to go to Washington, to the Department of De-fense, to Members of Congress, and just keep on going and going until we achieve the desired results --- a few government defense plants that courists.

Diverse Effect. time. Another way would be for a Dear Editor: lower federal gasoline tax, or The per capita income of no federal gasoline tax, for the Western North Carolina is lower income regions in our some $600 lower than the state average. It is to be sure, a country, until such time that the income in those regions 31% increase in power rates at least reaches the national would have a diverse effect average. The savings in fed-eral gasoline tax could make on our low economic status. The results would produce a considerable change in our some discharges or increase economy. More tourists would certainly want to take advanin prices to meet the expense by our local firms. tage of it, more trucking com-panies would establish their It is true that electric power has added to our living standheadquarters in the poorer ard and provides us with many sections. All around, it would home comforts at a reasonbe a way to make a begin-ning to even out the standable price, but we don't want to price ourselves out of busiard of living within our own ness in Western North Carolina, do we? If there is just cause for nation. We don't want anything special or unreasonable for our the need to increase the rate, region, except that we want to I have no objection. It may be that we do not understand; only see all the poorer sections of natural to oppose any increase in price, so why not let us be shown the facts and figures. position to really enjoy the material goods produced in our nation in the Twentleth A 31% increase would increase Century. my annual bill by about $46.44. What can people do to bring all this to the attention of the What about the local firms ... how much per year? Fred Mashburn powers - that - be in Wash-ington? The civic groups, Andrews, N.C. Lancer's the Answer in Compacts! SEE THE FINE SELECTION AT DODGE Headquarters ... where you don't worry about the weather because you choose a new Dodge in our INDOOR showrooms! E. C. MOORE 107 VALLEY RIVER AVE. MURPHY, N. C.

It Pays To Advertise Oh, merchant, in thine hour If on this item you should ccc, Take our advice and now be directors of chambers of comyyy, Go straight ahead and advertii: You'll find the object of some uuu---Neglect can offer no ex qqq. Be wise at once, prolong your dasa. can give employment to at least ten thousand people.

An Unknown Business, soon de kkk.

Can this approach be suc-cessful? Well, there are two ways to look at it. One is to say that this approach cannot succeed, and that is a defeatist attitude which will keep our standard of living at the same low level it now is. '.he other approach is to say, "We'll try and we'll keep on trying." That is the only way we will find out if this approach will succeed or not. A little persit ence sometimes goes a lo way, and a lot of persisten might even go a longer w vet. The efforts described ce tainly should be no substin for our efforts to attract pr vate industry and more

Heinz Rollman Waynesville, N.C.

Don't Just Happen

We've heard and believe it that traffic accidents don't just happen --- they are caused. And very often winter traffic ac-cidents are caused by people who refuse to fact up to the fact that winter driving and walking demand increased caution and alertness from motorists and pedestrians.

These people know they can't walk surefootedly nor stop their cars quickly when road surfaces are slippery --- that they can't see clearly through a mist of rain, sleet, or fog---that others can't see them clearly nor stop suddenly for them der the same conditions.

If an accident does occur, they'll blame it on the weather. But shifting the blame won't mend broken bones or put breath back into a lifeless body.

Every time a person steps out in traffic, he is responsible for his own safety, and --- to a degree --- for the safety of those he meets. Refusing to accept this responsibility doesn't re-lieve him of it. Nor does it make his pain and discomfort any easier to bear if his carelessness lands him in the hospital, So, let's take an adult attitude toward this business of traflic safety. Let's realize, like the State Department of Motor Vehicles warns, that our safety is our own responsibility and that the way to stay hale and hearty is to take special precautions when the weatherman gets ornery. It's a sign of maturity to be able to fact up to situations.

THE CHEROKEE SCOUT

, JERUE BABB, Publisher ... PHYLLIS B. BABB, Editor:

Established July, 1889

ublished Every Thursday - Second Class Postage Paid at 7 Hickory Street, Murphy, Cherokee County, North Carolina.

Dutside of Retail Trading Ares - 1 Yr. $5,00 : 6 Mos. $3,00'

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

Who hath not learned that then alone he has his own boughts to guard, and when truggling with mankind his mper, and in society his

Mary Baker Eddy

Human affection is not poured forth vainly, even though it meet no return. Love enriches the nature, enlarging, purifying, and elevating

Mary Baker Eddy

Now it you would like a copy of "North Carolina Organizations" -- it's undernamed, inci--- write POB 1132, dentally Chapel Hill, for information on how to secure it.

MANSION CHILDREN While it has been many years since we have had children in the Governor's Mansion as young as Betsy (11) and Terry (8) Sanford, all of our mors of the past 45 years --with the exception of Mr. and Mrs. GreggCherry--have had offspring springing there. Superior Court Judge Bill Bickett was a gay blade a-round the Mansion in 1917-21. The Ehringhaus administration saw three children at the Mansion -- and two of them, Matilda and Haughton, were---or are--twins. The Broughtons had four children: Melville and Robert, Raleigh at-torneys, Woodson, in the investment business in N. Y., and Alice, who also lives in New York. The Max Gardner's had three sons tearing about the Mansion in the late

Lawyers Make The Laws In Raleigh

Raleigh . If the makeup of the 1961 General Assembly is anywhere in line with its pre-decessor, most of the law-making done in Raleigh this year will be by lawyers. Of the 170 men and women comprising the 1959 Le-gislature, 80 were attorneys. Forty-seven of the 120 members of the House were at-torneys, and 23 of the total of 50 in the State Senate.

There were only two phy-sicians in the 1959 session. They are both returning this alling address) in Cherokes, Clay and Graham Counties, N. C.; owns, Union and Fannin Counties . Ga., and Poll County, Tenn. 1 Year - $3.00 6 Mos. $1.75 time -- Dr. Rachel Davis III, Kinston, representing Lehoir County, and Dr. J. M. Phelps, Creswell, Washington County representative.

our land gradually get into a

 Demand deposits of individuals, partnerships, and corporations Time deposits of individuals, partnerships, and corporations Deposits of United States Government (including postal savings) Deposits of States and political subdivisions. Deposits of banks Other deposits (certified and officers' checks, etc.). TOTAL DEPOSITS. Source and the saving states of banks TOTAL DEPOSITS. Source and the saving states of banks TOTAL DEPOSITS. Source and the saving states of banks Acceptance executed by or for account of this bank & outstanding. Other liabilities 	4,829,551,16 3,568,191,70 228,111,32 449,741,67 None 39,404,38 None None 211,801,38
24. TOTAL LIABILITIES	9.326.801.01

CAPITAL ACCOUNTS

 Capital*. Surplus. Undivided profits Reserves (and retirement account for preferred capital 	200,000,0 300,000,00 109,028,10 None
29. TOTAL CAPITAL ACCOUNTS	609,028,16
30. TOTAL LIABILITIES & CAPITAL ACCOUNTS	9,935,829,17

This bank's capital consists of: First preferred stock with total par value of None, total retirable value None. Second preferred stock with total par value of None, total retirable value None Capital notes and debentures of None Common stock with total par value of $200,000,00 Total deposits to the credit of the State of North Carolina or any official thereof $61,960.63

MEMORANDA

31. Assets pledged or assigned to secure liabilities & other purposes. . 32. (a) Loans as shown above are after deductions of reserves of (b) Securities as shown above are after deductions of reserves of . . 1,027,090.46 222,542,10 2,766.51

I, Mildred B. Ray, Cashier, of the above-named bank, do solemnly SWEAR that the above statement is true, and that it fully and correctly represents the true state of the several matters herein contains and set forth, to the best of my knowledge and belief.

Correct --- Attest MILDRED B. RAY, W. D. WHITAKER, W. F. FORSYTH, PERCY B. FEREBEE

Directors

State of North Carolina, County of Cherokee, ss: Sworn to and subscribed before me this 18th day of January, 1961, and I hereby certify that I am not an officer or director of this bank. My commission expires April 21, 1962.

FANNIE B. PULLIUM Notary Public

