Did You Know?
 THAT
 The "HEART" party for Phillip Merrill is to be at the Folk School on March 10th? It is hoped that YOU will come and invite others who like to have a good time while doing a "good deed for the day." Look for the announcement elsewhere in this paper.

Not all young people are wasting their time in front of television—One example of how a young couple employs their leisure wisely is Jack Carpenter, and his wife, Mary Lou. They recently learned to weave rugs, with the help of Mrs. Murrial Martin, teacher of weaving at the John C. Campbell Folk School.

These young folks cut one and one-half inch strips from discarded cotton garments, or other sources, sewed them together in order to have continuous wool for the shuttle. These strips must be chosen for their color, so it is necessary to have a color scheme in mind when the rug is begun. There are four colors put on a warp, which forms the fringe of the finished rug. One only has to see the rugs the Carpenters have just completed to know they had a plan, and worked toward that end.

The rugs are not only beautiful, but useful! By weaving during their leisure time, and using what they had, they had very little expense, but the most important thing is, they worked together, and are proud of their accomplishments! Now that we are all faced with the problem of increased leisure hours, we might find a hobby such as the Carpenters found.

 English peas should be planted right away if they are not already in the ground—if you are not sure of the variety you should use, see your extension agents. Get your potatoes and onions out soon, too—and if you think you are not earning anything while you garden, just remember that our Horticulture Department at N. C. State College says that our time in the garden should be estimated at $3.00 per hour! Where else can you make that much money? And especially with such luscious results?

THAT
 Folks who worry about getting rid of a lot of trash are not burning their old papers, nor making compost with much of the other excess "stuff" they have. If you want to make a compost pile, you should find out the proper method instead of going at it blindly.

Consult your local extension office for directions. And please DON'T throw your trash on the roadside. Help to create a feeling of public responsibility on the part of oldsters as well as youngsters! This is a serious situation, and one which requires the cooperation of all of us!

THAT
 Patrolman "Bud" Ensley gives a lot of his leisure time to directing an Explorer Troop—and says that "if a community will sponsor, and help with Boy Scout Troops, they need not worry about where their youngsters are, nor what their principles are!"

Where is a parent who wouldn't like the sound of that statement? Would YOU be willing to HELP? Too many of us are prone to say "Let Bud do it!"

Johnny Moore Celebrates Birthday
 Mrs. R. A. Martin entertained with a party on Monday afternoon from 2 til 5 honoring her son, Johnny Moore, on his 11th birthday.

The dining table was covered with a yellow and brown cloth featuring the cowboy style and centered with the birthday cake of brown, green, and yellow, with white tapers used on the table.

Balloons were given as the favors.

Games and dancing were enjoyed by the group.

During the social hour, the honoree opened his gifts, and the hostess, assisted by Jimmy Whisman and Billy Moore, served refreshments to the fourteen guests.

South Carolina meat-type sows farrow 9.6 pigs per litter

When Allen Willis went all the way on the Purina Program he bought eight farrowing stalls for his modern farrowing house. "I especially like these crates in winter," he says, "and I'll take them any time for efficient handling of sows and pigs."

All his life, Allen Willis of Cottageville, South Carolina, has been a hog producer—with run-of-the-mill hogs. Late in 1959 he decided to go all the way with meat-type stock. For years he had fed some Purina to his sows and litters, but did not entirely follow the Purina Program. When set up with his modern multiple-farrowing house and 100-hog-capacity Pig Parlor, he decided to go all out on the Purina Program.

This decision has had its rewards. First farrowings in the new setup yielded an average of 9.6 pigs per litter from 14 sows. With the good start he gave them (Purina Baby Pig Chow and Pig Startena), his herd averaged around 9 weaned pigs per litter.

Since Willis had the first two litters certified, much of his young stock is now sold for breeders. Many meat-type hogs he feeds cut out an average loin eye of 4.4 square inches. "With good stock," says Willis, "and a good feeding and management program, I'm on the right track. I started this hog operation with the idea of building something for myself and my two boys. I couldn't ask for a better foundation to build on than good breeding and the Purina Hog Program."

RESEARCH SHOWS BENEFITS OF CONTROLLED (OR LIMITED) PULLET FEEDING

Continuing tests on many thousands of birds have proved to Purina poultry scientists the definite advantages of controlled (or limited) feeding of pullets. These include:

1. More large eggs... fewer smalls, mediums and peewees...and production is just as great.
2. Lower laying-house mortality.
3. Big saving in feed costs. It takes 20% less feed on Purina's Controlled Feeding Plan, because the amount is limited to 80% of full requirements.

Some poultrymen have sought to limit growth by loading the ration with fiber. Unfortunately, pullets eat as much as 25% more of such rations when fed on an unlimited plan. While fibrous ingredients are inexpensive, the cost of mixing, shipping and handling makes high-fiber rations too expensive to feed on an unlimited basis.

HOW YOU CAN GET RID OF LICE THIS WINTER

Hog and cattle lice are just as big a nuisance in the winter-time as they are in summer. A new generation hatches every three weeks... and each female has up to 100 offspring! Multiply this problem by the fact that lice are great travelers and will spread quickly through your entire herd unless you take steps to stop them.

You can go after lice any time with Purina Hog and Cattle Dusting Powder. There's no need to worry about cold-weather spraying when you use this economical Purina Health Aid. At first sign of lice, fleas or mange, rub a handful or two of Hog and Cattle Dusting Powder into the hair coat. This finely ground insecticide dust gets down close to the skin where it does some good.

Pick up a sturdy, 20-lb. fiber pail of Purina Hog and Cattle Dusting Powder at our Store or Mill.

Community Party Nights At Folk School To Start Friday, March 10

The season for regular weekly community parties will begin on Friday, March 10, at 8:00 p.m. On this particular occasion, the theme will be, "Have A Heart For Phillip," Phillip Merrill, who for many years has shared in the summer activities of the Folk School, Murphy, and Hayesville.

Many will recall that it was Phillip Merrill who directed the 4-H members of both Clay and Cherokee Counties in the dances, symbolizing each episode of the State 4-H Health Pageant they presented in the Coliseum, during 4-H Week in 1955, Dr. Carey Bostian, Chancellor at that time, said of their pageant: "It is the best thing ever presented during 4-H Week!"

In June, 1960, just prior to the time Phillip Merrill was to leave for the summer work at the Folk School, he suffered a heart attack. This meant he would not only NOT come for that course, but that he would work only part time for a year!

That's why his friends in Clay and Cherokee are anxious to stage a benefit party for him.

Should anyone wonder why he "needs" to be remembered by his friends—work in the field of the musician does not bring a large income, and a former illness has, for many years, made it necessary for Phillip to avoid physical strain. This combination of circumstances has made it impossible for him to build any emergency financial reserves.

This party will enable everyone to show their appreciation to one who has been such an inspiration and help to our area. At the same time it will be real fun to meet our friends, of all ages; enjoy dancing; see youngsters get their "Grab Bags"; take part in the Cake Walk (all Homemade Cakes); buy fresh pop corn; attend a real auction; enjoy delicious refreshments—all for a very good cause, and at a very small cost—children 50 cents each, all others 75 cents each.

hi, fella... fly that kite safely!

Take a group of youngsters... a warm, breezy spring day... and add a kite high up in the sky. This is a fine combination for fun — or disaster.

To make it fun — and not disaster — here are three safety rules to follow:

- Fly kites in open fields, away from electric power lines.
- Use perfectly dry string — never wire or metallic string.
- If a kite catches in a power line, let go at once. Don't pull!
