Mr. Davis and Mr. Nohrden worked together many years in San Juan and throughout the years, a friendship has grown between the families. The Davis family left Puerto Rico a year ago and both families have looked forward to this visit.

Capital Clipboard

As of last week the three leaders in the race for Speaker of the House in the 1963 session of the N. C. General Assembly were Clifton Blue of Aberdeen, Algernon Augustus Zollcoffer, Jr. of Henderson, and Thomas H. Woodard of Wilson.

Although, as some have sagely said, it is mighty early to begin talk about a Speaker for two years from now, it is not TOO early.

At this time four years ago Addison Hewlett had things pretty well lined up--though not as well as Clifton Blue has at this time. Joe Hunt, 1961 Speaker of the House, had enough commitments two years ago to put him in this time.

We hear that Blue has a definite 40 members lined up on his side. That is one-third of the 120 members of the House.

Zollcoffer is in his third term in the House; Woodard is in his third term; and thus with eight terms under his belt, Blue has more legislative experience than his two opponents combined.

To us, it looks as if Clifton Blue and Lt. Gov. Cloyd Phillips will be the big bosses of the 1963 Legislature.

TWO CHANGES?
A few days ago when we wrote here of some big changes upcoming in the ranks of the appointees hereabouts, somebody suggested that we name names.

Well we are not in the business of mind-reading or name calling, but it is known that there will be some turnover of personnel this summer and fall.

We have heard that D. S. Coltrane, one of our really great men in N. C. State Government and Director of the Dept. of Administration, may retire this year. He will be 68 on July 27. Then Hodges appointed Highways Director Willard Farrington Babcock might also be found among the missing before frost.

We will mention some other possibilities later.

WITH THE ALPHABET
Well, we see by the press that Statesville people have decided to let their drinkers continue to go to Claremont (Catawba County), Cleveland (Rowan County), and Charlotte (Mecklenburg County) for their legalized booze.

Knowing Statesville as we do, there is serious doubt here that ABC stores will come soon to that Iredell County city. Defeat of the whiskey stores in the election held there June 3 is a serious blow to former Sen. C. V. Henkel's five-hundred-thousand-dollar program to make Statesville a Piedmont convention center via the Vance Hotel.

And, while in the alphabet,

Mrs. Betty Crook was chosen as a model by Robert Peto, famous hair stylist at the Beauticians Convention held in Atlanta, Sunday and Monday.

Mr. Peto who has worked in Europe and Saks in New York now teaches at University of Ohio and owns shops in Cleveland, Ohio. He chose Mrs. Crook both days for newest styles in hairdressing. Mrs. Crook has been employed at Duchess Beauty Shop in Andrews.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Hooper and son Kevin spent Tuesday through Thursday at a campsite on Tallula River near Clayton, Ga. Friends from Franklin joined them on Wednesday. They were Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Rogers, son Van, Mr. and Mrs. William Bryant. Although the group caught their limit of fish each day, Kevin Hooper, youngest member of group was credited with catching the largest trout, measuring fifteen inches in length.

LITTLE CHANGE
It is easy to fall into foolish thinking via the headlines. Most of the big papers last week ran at the top of page these words: "19,000 Workers To Benefit From New Wage Law"

The story underneath referred to the fact that the State Minimum Wage Law was changed last week in this way: firms having as many as four employees must pay at least 75 cents an hour. Until the law was changed, firms having five or less were not covered.

Now it is estimated that lowering the figure will affect 19,000 more employees. This is true. But virtually all of these employees are ALREADY getting 75 cents or more per hour--and the mere passing of the law will not add ONE CENT to their pockets, will mean nothing.

So to say that "19,000 workers will benefit"--or words to that effect, is only headline mouthing.

ON THE FLOOR
As we pointed out here several weeks ago the 1961 version of the N. C. General Assembly will probably wind up its work on June 17.

Nevertheless, a lot of peculiar winds are blowing around the legislative halls. There will be floor fights over the tax program. Tempers are short. The food tax has not been adopted as yet--tobacco and four per cent are still looking in at the door.

Just a lot of the legislators left Raleigh last weekend hot under the collar. They knew what they did not want, but could offer nothing better. Still June 17 looks like the date--with a lot of feelings left unfinished.

ASC News
by L.L. Kisselburg

The Market prices for 1961 crop corn will depend largely on the extent to which farmers participate in the New Feed Grain Program.

If Participation in the Feed Grain Program is low, say 25 percent in seven leading states non participating farmers would provide around 3,200 million bushels of corn. This would be only about 300 million bushels less than probable domestic and export needs. Sales from CCC stocks and from "overrun" production on participating farm could easily make up the difference. Market prices might then remain well below the support level, perhaps below $1.00.

If Farmer participation is high, say 50 per cent non participating farmers would produce only about 2,500 million bushels of corn or about 1,00 million bushels less than the quantity needed for feed, industry, and export.

This amount would reduce CCC stocks and come from farms that participated in the program.

If half of farmers participated, they will take out price support loans until the market price rises, close to the support level. The market price will tend to stabilize at that level.

The average numbers of acres diverted from production of corn under the 1961 Feed Grain Program in North Carolina is exactly one half of the average on farms throughout the nation.

The average per farm payment for diversion in North Carolina is some what better than half of average payment for the nation.

During the first four weeks through May 12 of the sign up under the 1961 Feed Grain Program 37,122 farm in North Carolina had signed up to participate in the program.

The average farm in North Carolina will divert a total of 11 acres from the production of corn while the average farm for the nation will be 22 acres.

For all farmers signed, advance payments under provision permitting about half of the payments to be made this spring come to more than $5,000,000. This represents a total possible payment for these farms of approximately $13 million.

For Cherokee County at this time 116 farms have signed to divert 906 acres and have received advance payments better than $19,000. This represents a total possible payment for these farms of approximately $44,000.
