

GIRL SCOUT VOLUNTEERS

What do you picture when you hear the words "Girl Scout volunteer?" An athletic, outdoorsy mother of three who combines Girl Scout volunteer work with home-making? Of course, that picture still fits many of the workers, but with more mothers entering the paid work force, the Girl Scouts are beginning to look to other sources for their volunteers. The traditional image of the Girl Scout volunteer may be in for a major overhaul.

Betty Busacca, Public Information Director for Pines of Carolina Girl Scout Council, views the change as a positive one.

"Why shouldn't healthy, young-at-heart retirees get involved with scouting, for instance?" asks Busacca. "We could certainly put their knowledge and experience to good use."

Busacca adds that the Girl Scouts would also like to recruit more young, single adults.

"There are a lot of single people out there who are looking for ways to make a contribution to their community. I can't think of a better way than Girl Scouting. Childless couples, too, could become involved in the program. Being a parent is certainly not a prerequisite to being a positive influence in a young girl's life."

Another popular misconception is that the only volunteer position in the Girl Scouts is that of Troop Leader. While the Girl Scouts continue to have a need for Troop leaders, the most desperate need right now is for people with administrative skills, says Busacca. Pines of Carolina has key positions for volunteers as Service Unit Managers, Council Trainers, Troop Consultants, and Troop Organizers.

Pines of Carolina is one of 7 Girl Scout councils in North Carolina. It costs over a million dollars just to keep one council running. The cost of equipment, camp maintenance and office supplies is astronomical, but the efforts of volunteer workers help keep some of the costs down. Busacca observes that "the dollar value of hours provided by our volunteers would boggle the mind. 14 United Ways provide about 40% of the operational cost, but the rest must come from the community."

The Girl Scouts appear to be experts at customizing job opportunities to fit the volunteers' available time and expertise. Such customizing is necessary since the organization has now grown to include about 158,000 troops in the U.S. and its territories. This growth means that the Girl Scouts need more volunteers than ever, but as Busacca is quick to point out, the benefits work both ways:

"This kind of work can give a person a practical background for a paid job or other opportunity later...and in this council, volunteers can become policy makers as well as workers. But I think the biggest return on the investment of time is the personal satisfaction—knowing you've made a difference in these girls' lives."

METRIC MEASURES
Helpful Information From The U.S. Metric Board

Q. Will "thinking metric" be difficult?

A. Not really. Most of us will need to know the terms meter, kilogram, liter and degrees Celsius. Even then, few people will have to use these with great precision on an everyday basis. For example, "thinking metric" means associating 20 degrees Celsius with room temperature or 37° C with body temperature.

VEGETABLE LASAGNA DINNER

- 1 package (1 lb. 7-7/8 oz. or 676 g) Chef Boy-a-r-dee® Lasagna Dinner
- 1 medium egg plant, cubed
- 1/2 pound (480 mL) mushrooms, sliced
- 2 medium onions, finely chopped
- 1 medium clove garlic, minced
- 1/2 teaspoon (2.5 mL) basil
- 1/2 teaspoon (2.5 mL) oregano
- 1/4 cup (.60 mL) olive oil
- 1/4 pound (340 mL) Mozzarella cheese

Follow the instructions on the package for cooking the noodles. Sauté the eggplant and the mushrooms for 5 minutes in the olive oil. Lower the heat slightly and add the onion and garlic. Continue sautéing until the onion turns clear. Add the sauce from the package, oregano and basil. Mix well. Lightly grease a 9"x10" (15.2 cm x 25.4 cm) casserole. Spoon a small amount of sauce mixture in the bottom of the pan. Next put a layer of noodles using four noodles; then a layer of sauce and vegetable mixture. Now put a layer of the Mozzarella slices and finish it off with 1/4 of the grated cheese from the package. Repeat each layer until the noodles are used. Top with Mozzarella cheese and the grated cheese. Bake at 350 F (176.5 C) for 1/2 hour or until bubbly. Serves 5.

COKE PROVIDES SCHEDULE CARDS FOR SPRING

Coke of Lumberton has again provided the handy schedule cards for Pembroke State's spring sports. Drop by PSU's Sport Information Office for your copy.

Also, McDonald's of Lumberton deserves our thanks as they presented TERRY CLARK, a student at PSU, the McDonald's-PSU Shoot-Out Championship at half-time of the homecoming basketball game. Clark was presented the award by PEGGY GRANT of McDonald's. McDonald again sponsored the shoot-out at each home basketball game during the past season.

WINTER SPORTS ENDING TOURNAIMENT TIME IS HERE

The winter sports seasons are about to come to a close as the next couple of weeks roll around.

The women's basketball team will enter the Carolinas Conference tournament as the top-seated team. The tournament is set for Feb. 18-20 at High Point College. The championship is set for 6 p.m. on Saturday.

In men's basketball, the men's Carolinas Conference Tournament runs Feb. 23-26 at Catawba College. The Braves of Pembroke State are the defending Carolinas Conference champions. The Braves downed Guilford, host Catawba, and then Wingate to win the tourney last year. Time will tell on this year's event.

Meanwhile in wrestling, the Braves travelled to the Carolinas Conference Tournament on Wednesday and will travel to the NAIA District 26 Championships on Saturday at Pfeiffer. The Braves received two wild cards for wrestlers to attend the National Championships Feb. 27-28 at the University of Wisconsin-Parkside WILLIE DYE at 134 pounds and ALAN DAVIS at 150 pounds.

SPRING SPORTS READY TO BEGIN RIGHT AROUND CORNER

Pembroke State's six spring sports will swing into high gear within the next couple of weeks.

The baseball team will travel to NC State on March 1 to open their 1982 schedule. HAROLD ELLEN will be leading the Braves as head coach of the diamonders as assistant coach TOMMY THOMPSON assists.

The Lady Braves women's tennis season opens on March 2 when the lady netters host Coastal Carolina at 2 p.m. at PSU. The women's net squad is led by coach ANN WEBB.

The golf team will kick off their 1982 schedule in a dual meet at St. Andrews on March 4. PSU Coach LACEY GANE expects his linksters to be a contender for the Carolinas Conference and NAIA District 26 Championships.

The track team, under new coach LARRY RODGERS, could have their best year ever. Back for his final season at PSU is running star GARRY HENRY who should reap all the awards in the 5,000 and 10,000 meter races.

Together with All-Americans JULIUS MEEKINS, CARL POWELL, AND CHARLES SWINDELL, the Braves are a contender for the National Championship. Be sure to see the tracksters in action!

Coach BOB McEVOY's men's netters will open their campaign on March 14 hosting West Chester State at 2 p.m. The Braves should field a much tougher team this year.

Softball will be the final sport to begin as the Lady Braves are led by new coach LALON JONES. The Lady Braves will begin their season on March 16 hosting Wingate at 3 p.m. Another state championship team could be in the making with the '82 Lady Braves!

HOMECOMING GOOD TIMES FOR ALL

With the men's and women's basketball teams both winning their homecoming basketball games, homecoming was fun times!

In addition, we hope all alumni and friends enjoyed the activities. The new inductees in the PSU Athletic Hall of Fame included CARL PEED, basketball; RON COLLINS, baseball; and LES LOCKLEAR, football, basketball, and baseball.

CAR CARE CORNER
Tips For More Safety, Economy, Convenience

Aligning the wheels of your car is virtually impossible without special equipment, so always take alignment problems to a professional with the right equipment. You can, however, easily determine whether the alignment needs to be checked by a trained mechanic.

The Reader's Digest Complete Car Care Manual offers this suggestion on checking your wheel alignment: the most common cause of abnormal road handling is uneven tire pressure. Inflate tires to correct pressure and check with an accurate gauge. If this does not solve the problem, or if the car suddenly feels strange after a sharp impact with a curb or pothole, have the alignment checked.
