BILLY LEE'S BRAVES: A GREAT COMEBACK EFFORT TO INSPIRE ALL

Not since 1957 when we saw North Carolina beat Kansas and Wilt Chamberlain to win the NCAA basketball championship have we seen as thrilling a game as PSU's 77-76 victory over Catawba in last Friday's Carolinas Conference Tournament finals at Salisbury.

Everything seemed against the Braves. They were playing the top-seeded team on that team's homecourt with some 2,500-3,000 partisan fans present. Only a handful of rooters drove up from Pembroke in the snowy weather. Catawba had its mascot stirring up the crowd. Its cheerleaders had megaphones in action. The noise factor was overwhelmingly in Catawba's favor.

Pembroke State at one stage during the season ranked 20th among 21 teams in NAAI District 26. It was tied at one time for last place in the conference standings. For this tournament, the sixth seeded Braves had to beat the No. 3 and No. 2 seeded teams to even reach the finals.

Before the Catawba Coach Billy Lee of PSU was asked to have prayer with the PSU cheerleaders. He is a Christian young man who has filled many pulpits throughout Robeson County during the past year.

Catawba's "trees" dwarfed the "fleas" of Billy Lee. Their front line measured 6-9, 6-8, and 6-8 as compared to PSU's 6-6, 6-5, and 6-3. But the Braves gave 200 percent effort and simply outscrapped their much bigger adversaries.

From an 11-point deficit at one point, the Braves fought back to win their second straight conference title. It was one of Pembroke State proudest moments in sports-fantastic comeback from a season which seemed to be going into a tailspin. BURLIN LOWRY TO BE CHANCELLOR'S RADIO GUEST

The guest of Chancellor Paul Givens for Sunday will be Burlin Lowry of Gary, chairman of the PSU Board of Trustees for this year. The program, entitled "From the Chancellor's Office," airs at 10:45 a.m. over WAGR in Lumberton.

DR. ROBERT ROMAINE STAYS BUSY AS CONDUCTOR

Dr. Robert Romaine, chairman of the PSU Music Department who has had a number of activities during the past month, will be very busy during PSU's "Spring Break" next week. He will conduct a band clinic at Westover High School in Fayetteville Tuesday and the Duplin All-Country Band March 12-14.

FULL SCHOLARSHIP IS TOP PRIZE FOR SCIENCE FAIR
The top prize for Pembroke State's Regional Fair Friday, March 26, will be a full-year tuition scholarship to PSU. Eligible to participate in the Science Fair are grades 7-12. The grades will be divided into junior high and senior high divisions.

Projects must be pre-registered by March 22, says Dr. Jose D'Arruda of the PSU Physical Science Department, who is directing the Science Fair. A registration fee of $2 must accompany all entries. Those having questions should contact Dr. D'Arruda at 521-4214, Ext. 247.

Last year's initial Science Fair was tremendously successful.

SNOW DOESN'T STOP RED BALLOON SERIES

Despite snow flurries last Friday, the "Red Balloon Series" went on as scheduled at PSU's Performing Arts Center with 125 parents and children in attendance for the 7 p.m. performance of "The Prince and the Pauper" and "David Copperfield." In a special matinee performance that afternoon, the Performing Arts Center was packed with 1,600 in attendance.

Next program in the series is the Nee Ningy Band.

scheduled at 7 p.m. Saturday, March 13.

CONGRATULATIONS TO GARY SPITLER

Gary Spitler, Pembroke State's sports information director, learned this week that he has been chosen to be press coordinator for the World's Fair Baseball Games at Knoxville, Tenn., June 24-27. Teams taking part will be from the United States, Mexico, Australia, and Japan.

This is quite an honor for Spitler and PSU! Congratulations, Gary!

CINDY BURNEY WALTERS NOW INVOLVED IN MINISTRY

The former Cindy Burney who was runner-up for homecoming queen at PSU in 1973; is now involved with her husband, Joe Walters, in the Abiding Word Ministries based in Fayetteville. They are parents of three children, and he attended Rama Bible College in Oklahoma. They can be contacted at 484-2682.

SUPER SATURDAY PARENTS DAY IS RIGHT AROUND THE CORNER

This year's "Super Saturday-Parents Day" on April

3 at PSU will have some new wrinkles. A Cheerleading Festival is scheduled at 10 a.m. plus a N.C. Wrestling Federation Freestyle Tournament. The Golden Knights will also parachute onto the soccer field, plus the "Red Balloon Series" will feature the Flying Lemon Circus. All of these plus the Old-Timers Baseball Game and many other attractions

JOEY BELL of Pembroke, who is in his senior year of pharmacy at UNC-Chapel Hill, was one of the speakers Monday night for a Health Career Symposium at Pembroke State University, co-sponsored by the Health Affairs Division of UNC-Ch and PSU. It was part of the Health Career Awareness Project of the Robeson County School System.

Here is the Western Brass Quintet of Kalamazoo, Mich., which performed last Wednesday at Pembroke State University's Performing Arts Center. The quintet also conducted master classes with the PSU Music Department. Dr. Robert Romaine, chairman of the Music Department said: "I feel it is especially important for our students to be exposed to such talented musicians."

Joseph Shows His Love by Jayne [KJV]

Teacher: Today we shall have a story about a boy who showed his Love for his brothers who had treated him very mean. Will you tell the story for us Jerry?
Jerry: Yes, mam. Let us look back a bit to tell how we got to this place.
John: Joseph's ten brothers sold him to some Ishmaelites. The Ishmaelites sold him in Egypt.
Joey: Right. They sure didn't like their brother. I think that was because they thought their father loved Joseph best.
Jerry: You are right. After he was sold he was then in the service of Potiphar's house as the overseer.
John: Potiphar's wife was not nice to him. She even told her husband that Joseph tried to get her to commit adultery, but he would not do such a thing.
Jerry: That is why Potiphar put Joseph in prison. Maybe this was good for Joseph. Though it didn't seem to be anything more than a prison, it turned out to be a straight shot to the king's service. One day the king sent his butler and his baker to prison. Later Joseph noticed that they were all sad and long faced one day and he asked what the trouble was.

John: Think I know what their problem was. They had had a dream.
Jerry: Right. After they told Joseph what their dream was he said that God could explain dreams.
Joey: That's when they told him the dreams.
Jerry: True. Then Joseph told the butler that he would be free in three days. He also told the butler to tell the king about him. He didn't. Later, one night the king had a dream. Matter of fact he had two dreams.
John: Then the butler remembered his dream, huh?
Jerry: Yes, he told the king how Joseph had told him the meaning of his dream while he was in prison.
Joey: That's when the king sent for Joseph, huh?
Jerry: Yes. And after Joseph told the king what his dream meant the king made Joseph ruler next to himself.
Teacher: What lesson do we really learn here?
John: Keep on being good, it pays off.

Organizational Meeting Planned for Kidney Foundation

All concerned citizens of the area are urged to attend an organizational meeting March 9 at the LRDA Annex Building in Pembroke for the purpose of founding a chapter of the National Kidney Foundation. Since the larger percentage of the patients who are placed on the dialysis machines in Fayetteville are Indians, we should try to help with the organization of a chapter to help boost the morale of the patients and to encourage the ongoing research projects of the National organization. Larry Comer, head of the N.C. Chapter in Chapel Hill will be here to speak and will explain the steps necessary to establishing a local chapter. The public is invited to attend.
