Yvonne Holder, a senior at Union Pines High School and a resident of Vass, has signed an athletic scholarship to attend PSU and play basketball next fall.

Announcement was made Friday by PSU women's basketball Coach Linda Robinson.

"We are very pleased to have Yvonne coming to Pembroke State next fall as she is a complete student/athlete," stated PSU Robinson. "Yvonne has a good academic and athletic background and I've had my eyes on her for four years. She is a winner."

Coach Robinson continued, "She makes good passes and is a good floor leader. She should be able to come in and help us early."

Holder was a three-sport athlete at Union Pines High School. She was selected as "Female Athlete of the Year" for the past three out of four years.

In basketball, Holder was a starter on the varsity team for four years, was named all-conference in both her junior and senior years, and was named MVP of the conference tournament in her junior year.

In addition, she was awarded "Best Defensive Player" on her team her junior year, MVP of the team her senior year, and holds the all-time record as the leading scorer at Union Pines. She was also named second team All-East in 1981-82.

Her other athletic achievements have included playing tennis for four years where she was all-conference in both her junior and senior years and was named MVP of the conference tournament also. She posted an 18-1 record. In softball she started at shortstop for four years and was the team's MVP in her freshman year.

Martha Cooke, senior all-around athlete at Mooresville High School has signed an athletic scholarship to play volleyball at PSU next fall. Martha was All-Conference and voted Most Valuable Player in volleyball this past season at Mooresville.

"We are extremely happy to have Martha join our volleyball program," stated PSU volleyball coach Tommy Thompson. "Martha is a fine student/athlete and will make a tremendous contribution to our women's athletic program. Cooke has been a varsity starter for three years and has helped take her volleyball teams to both conference and state championships. She also played basketball and softball in high school.

"Martha has tremendous potential on the college level. She is fundamentally sound, a hard worker, and most important she is a fine young lady," praised Thompson. Martha plans to major in physical education while at Pembroke.

THE BALTIMORE EXPERIENCE

Program has not lost sight of Primary Goals

by Herbert H. Locklear
Cutbacks in public service employment adversely affects many community organizations and advocate programs. Such cutbacks have become a reality for budgeting and comprehensive planning.

The Community Services Program of the Baltimore American Indian Center has not lost sight of its primary goals, in spite of funding cutbacks and staff shortages, says Ms. Portia Locklear, the program's director. "We've depended upon temporary staff via the CETA Program and on volunteers for the past recent years," she said. Portia too is employed at the Center in one of the temporary positions.

Having worked in the program for over a year, Portia says that the main purpose of her job is to identify and meet the social and economic needs of the Indian Community. The thrust of the Community Services Program is "Intake and Outreach Services." She says that much of her time is spent in trying to assess problems brought or referred to her and to make decisions about how to resolve them. Portia admits that due to such limited resources of the Center, most problem resolution comes by referral to other resources such as the Department of Social Services.

Ms. Vivian Locklear, Neighborhood Outreach Worker, has been with the program for six months. She sees her role as providing an opportunity to "...better herself and the Indian people in the community" for whom she works. Vivian says that she is concerned with the "health" of the community, along with many other issues. One thing she has done to put that concern in action is to organize and conduct weight control program including an exercise class. Vivian's temporary employment status expires May, 1982.

Barry Richardson, the Center's Acting Executive Director, says that the programming opportunities for this part of the center's program would be greatly enhanced with permanent staff. He has requested funding for the position of Neighborhood Coordinator for the next fiscal year.

Both Portia and Vivian share freely their satisfying experiences while employed with the program. Both feel that much more could be accomplished if longer and more secure positions were available.

Warriors Stumble in Easter Tournament

by David Malcolm

HOKE COUNTY 5, PEMBROKE 3

Hoke County, loser of its first 13 ball games this season, made it two wins in a row with a come-from-behind 5-3 victory over Pembroke in consolation action of the Lumberton Easter Tournament last Friday.

The Bucks jumped on Pembroke starter Wendell Jacobs for two runs in the top of the first inning, but the Warriors came back to take the lead with runs in the third, fourth and sixth innings. Mickey Carter came on to relieve Jacobs in the fifth and looked good for the two and a third innings he pitched. Carter picked off one runner at first base with a lightning quick move in the fifth and just missed getting another later.

Carter started to get into trouble in the seventh, however, and Coach Ronnie Chavis replaced him with James Bird. Before the inning was over, Hoke County had pushed three runs across the plate.

Pembroke got its leadoff batter on base in the bottom of the inning, but with one out the Bucks turned a double play that ended the game.

Leading the Pembroke hitting was Steve Cummings who collected a pair of doubles in his three times at bat to finish the tournament with a .600 batting average. James Breeden was 2-for-3 with a double, a single and a RBI.

Lumberton-The Pembroke Warriors continued the up-and-down style of playing that has plagued them all season in last week's Lumberton Easter Tournament, losing two and winning one.

LUMBERTON 9, PEMBROKE 2

The Warriors, who entered the 5th annual affair with an overall record of 6-5, got off to a good start against Lumberton and led until the bottom of the fifth inning. The Pirates sent nine batters to the plate, getting four hits and a handful of walks, and came away with six runs.

Starter and loser James Bird (4-3) walked the last three batters he faced to load the bases before being pulled in favor of lefthander Perry Strickland. Uncharacteristic wildness by Strickland and an error helped bring all three of those runners in.

The Pirates scored a pair of insurance runs in the bottom of the sixth. Though the tournament hosts got only one hit off Strickland, they took advantage of several walks and a Pembroke error to put the game out of reach.

Pembroke scored its only runs in the first inning when it sent up seven batters and came away with two runs on three hits.

Steve Cummings paced the Pembroke hitting with a pair of singles and a RBI in three plate appearances. Shain Melvin was a perfect 3-for-3 for Lumberton with two doubles, a single and a RBI.

PEMBROKE 11, ORRUM 0

Orum right fielder Truitt Tyner ruined Eric Locklear's bid for a second straight no-hitter with a pair of singles, but the Warriors' big right-hander was otherwise near perfect as Pembroke pounded the Raiders 11-0 in a consolation game of the Lumberton Easter Tournament last Thursday.

Locklear, who held Hoke County hitless in his last start, struck out nine and issued only one walk, but gave up two one-base hits to left field to Tyner. Though a thorn in Locklear's side, Tyner was a help to the Warriors as a team as he committed two costly errors that turned a pair of routine fly balls into doubles.

Devy Bell swung the big bat for the Warriors against Orum, going 4-for-4 with two doubles, two singles and four RBIs. First baseman Steve Cummings, in a terrible batting slump for much of the early part of the season, was 2-for-4 with a double, a single and RBI. Benny Demery had a double and a single in two official at-bats, while David Jacobs was 1-for-2 with a single.

Auditions for TV appearance in Baltimore

At a recent audition of gospel singing groups in Baltimore, the South Broadway Spirituals, a choir group of Native Americans, was selected over several competitors for a guest appearance on WBAL-TV Baltimore. Mr. Arthur Bugg, Producer of the Gospel singing for the television station states that the selection of "Spirituals" was "...really easy." Bugg said the thing that impressed him most is the group's apparent "sincerity."

According to Bugg, he has auditioned some groups who are well-known in the Baltimore area, he feels that the Spirituals "comes across as one of the most genuine groups he has heard." The group will soon be invited to the studio to tape a show to be aired "the last of May or early June."

It was found in talking with various members of the group that the Spirituals were formed in 1976. They are composed of Mrs. Doshia Jacobs, lead; Hal Hunt, tenor; Solomon Maynor, Baritone. Music is provided by Mr. John Walker, Guitar; Mr. Roscoe Tyler, Guitar; with Miss Kathy Maynor on the piano. Miss Bonny Payne plays Bass Guitar.

Says Mrs. Jacobs, "I just love to sing. I feel that it is part of my destiny to praise the Lord in song."

The Spirituals have traveled across Maryland into several states at the invitation of many different churches, organizations and individuals. Says Hal Hunt, "I guess one of the highlights of our career together is what we were invited to sing at the 'Congressional Prayer Breakfast.' The experience to which Mr. Hunt referred was The International Breakfast of Prayer at which Native Americans from all over the nation met in Washington, D.C. to discuss the religious and social needs of the Indian people.

Roscoe Tyler, Guitarist, states that being a part of the Spirituals has "helped me to feel that I have a contribution to make. I've enjoyed working with the group."

John Walker, has been a musician for several different rock and roll groups. As such, he has played in many clubs. Since that, Mr. Walker has dedicated his life to church. He states that he is now finally doing something about which he can feel proud.

The South Broadway Spirituals gospel group get their name from the church at which all are members.

In speaking with members of the group, each one has a different "most outstanding" experience to relate. But the one thing which is shared equally by all is their enthusiasm and interest in what they are doing.

YOUR GARDEN

Freezing Vegetables

Home vegetable growing is growing. In fact, the U.S. Department of Agriculture estimates that three-fourths of all American families now grow at least some of the vegetables they use. In addition, more and more families are canning, freezing, or otherwise preserving the food crops they are growing. A recent survey revealed that the reasons more families are turning to home vegetable gardening include saving on food costs; many believe home-grown vegetables taste better; and families enjoy the healthful exercise of gardening.

You can save money preparing your next meal if you use left-over vegetables. To prevent waste and spoilage, the money-conscious consumer can store leftover vegetables in bags, such as "Glad" Food Storage Bags. Such bags help keep left-overs fresh - whether in the "fridge" or freezer.

Peas are an excellent vegetable to use in leftover recipes. Not only do they freeze well, they are also easy to grow and require no fertilizer. Peas are generally a cool-weather crop, so plant early or late - and enjoy a wide variety of dishes made with peas all year-round.
