Baha'is appeal to State Officials For Relief

Baha'is throughout Central North Carolina and their friends have written several letters to their Congressmen in Washington calling their attention to the severe atrocities being leveled against the Baha'is in Iran. Representatives Bill Hefner, Charles Rose and Steve Neal of districts in Central North Carolina have replied expressing their sympathy and support for the plight of the Baha'is in Iran, and their willingness to express this in the House of Representatives Subcommittee hearings on Human Rights and International Organizations.

Representative Bill Hefner, in his reply to members of the Baha'i Community of Richmond County, said, "Thank you very much for your letter expressing your deep concern over the treatment of the members of the Baha'i Faith in Iran. I share your consternation over the religious persecution, torture and executions being carried out against members of the Baha'is Community in Iran. I have already contacted the Foreign Affairs Committee's Subcommittee on Human Rights and International Organizations. I expressed my concern to the subcommittee and asked that I be kept informed of its work."

Two more Baha'is were executed in Iran after two months' intense pressure failed to force them to convert to Islam and gain their freedom, according to reports received by the Baha'i Community of Central North Carolina from the Baha'i National Center in Wilmette, Illinois. Today's report of the killings follows by only a few days a House Foreign Affairs Subcommittee's hearings on the situation of the Baha'i religion in Iran. The two men, Sadullah Babazadih and Nasrullah Amini were secretly shot by firing squad on May 16 in the village of Khaniabad near Tehran. The bodies of the men had been buried for an entire week before their families accidentally discovered they had been executed. Both men were members of the local Baha'i governing body in that town.

If the Greenland and Antarctic icecaps would melt, the world ocean would rise about 200 feet. New York City would be submerged, with only the tops of the tallest buildings sticking out above the water.
