ANNUAL GIVING CAMPAIGN HOLDS SECOND MEETING

The 25 members of PSU's Annual Giving Campaign will hold their second meeting at 4 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 23, in the Chancellor's Board Room. Tickets are ready and are expected to be distributed at that meeting.

PSU already has $24,349 in hand before it begins its drive to raise $100,000 during the remainder of this academic year. This $24,349 was an overflow from last year's campaign with that amount of money being received since July 1.

PSU also has $5,400 pledged, giving it $29,749 before the acceleration begins on the 1982-83 campaign. Tickets distributed Thursday will be for the $50-a-plate dinner Nov. 9.

COLONIAL DAMES ESTABLISH $1,000 SCHOLARSHIP AT PSU

The Historical Society of the Colonial Dames of the 17th Century has established an on-going $1,000 scholarship at PSU. It has been designated for an academically talented Native American student who must demonstrate financial need.

The name of the scholarship will be the R.E. Smith, Jr. and Cora T.Y. Smith Scholarship at the request of Mrs. Cora T.Y. Smith of Florence, SC. The scholarship becomes effective immediately and will be entered in the University catalog as a permanent award.

ANN WELLS TO BE GUEST ON CHANCELLOR'S PROGRAM

Ann Wells, former chairman of the PSU Faculty Senate and a professor in the PSU Communicative Arts Department, was one of the PSU people who went to Pakistan on an educational mission during the summer. She will be interviewed by Chancellor Paul Givens on his radio program, "From The Chancellor's Office," to be aired at 10:45 a.m. Sunday over WAGR in Lumberton.

DIZZY GILLESPIE & BAND TO PERFORM AT PSU SEPT. 30

Dizzy Gillespie, described by the Los Angeles Times as "one of the jazz wonders of the world," and his jazz band will perform at Pembroke State's Performing Arts Center at 8 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 30. The Washington Post calls him "the greatest living trumpeter in any music."

Tickets are $6.50 each for the best seats in the house. Others are in the $5.50 and $4.50 range. PSU students with I.D. cards will be admitted for $1.

Season tickets for all of PSU's entertainment attractions are $15 per individual, $12.50 for senior citizens, and $35 for family. The season subscriptions include the opening gala at 6:30 p.m. before the show.

Remember: No season subscriptions will be sold after this initial performance, only single admission tickets. Please call 521-0778 for ticket reservations.

PSU ART INSTRUCTOR CHAIRS CHILDRENS ART FAIR

Katherine Pasco, PSU art instructor, served as chairman for a Children's Art Fair held last Saturday at Glenville Park in Fayetteville. The fair was sponsored by the Fayetteville Museum of Art and the Fayetteville Recreation and Parks Department.

STALEY LECTURE SERIES FOCUSES ON MARRIAGE

With the divorce rate at epidemic proportions today, the Staley Lecture Series at PSU Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 27-28, is timely indeed. Its theme is "Christian Marriage in Modern America." The lecturer is Dr. Elizabeth Achemeler of Union Theological Seminary in Richmond, Va.

She will speak at 9 p.m. Monday on "The Nature of Christian Marriage." Her talk at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday will be on "Having a Christian Marriage." Both talks will be in Educational Center 223. Each will be followed by refreshments in room 210. The public is invited to these lectures.

32 FOREIGN STUDENTS ENROLLED AT PSU

This year 32 foreign students, representing 10 different countries, are enrolled at PSU. The group is led by Japan with 12 students and Nigeria with eight. Korea has four, and Finland has two. One each is from Iran, Cuba, Jamaica, Liberia, Mexico and Sierra Leone.

They recently had an enjoyable social. They usually meet for lunch on the first Monday of each month from 11:30 to 12:30 o'clock in the PSU cafeteria.

Glowing Tributes paid to Hamilton McMillan

"I only wish that all of his (Hamilton McMillan's) grandchildren, great grandchildren and their children could have been here today to hear this. I'm sure they too would have been very proud."

Miss Jane McMillan of Red Springs, a retired school teacher who taught for 39 years, voiced the sentiments of her family Tuesday at Pembroke State University at the outpouring of attention for Hamilton McMillan (1837-1916), a state legislator from Robeson County who was one of the founders of Pembroke State University.

Three other of McMillan's grandchildren were at PSU for the memorial tribute in his honor. They were Hamilton McMillan and Mignon McMillan, both of Red Springs, and Catherine McMillan Tudor of Anderson, SC. A great grandson, E.H. Alexander of Red Springs, was also present. The PSU Native American Resource Center was packed for the occasion.

At the time of McMillan's introducing legislation in 1885 in the General Assembly, Indians of Robeson County were denied schools of their own and were not recognized as a people. McMillan's legislation gave these Indians a name and provided that they and their descendants would have "separate schools for their children, school committees of their own race and color, and shall be allowed to select teachers of their own choice..."

McMillan also sponsored and the legislature passed "an act to establish a normal school in the County of Robeson." The state appropriated $500 toward this cause and what became Pembroke State University was born in 1887.

"This is a historical occasion, one that is long overdue," said Adolph Dial, chairman of PSU's American Indian Studies Department who is chairman of the Hamilton McMillan Memorial Committee. "Hamilton McMillan was a friend to the Indian people and all people of Robeson County. As a legislator, he was one of North Carolina's finest."

Welton Lowry, who gave the invocation for the occasion praised McMillan as "a man who was bold enough to step out."

Dr. Dalton Brooks, director of institutional research at PSU, read with eloquence and enthusiasm a poem about McMillan.

Low Barton, Pembroke historian and man whose idea it was to have a Hamilton

Tuesday in a special memorial tribute by the Lumbee Indians whom he so greatly helped.

Hamilton McMillan Memorial, said "My heart is filled today. Hamilton McMillan died two years before I was born. He brought blessings to so many Robesonians---not just Indians. He brought the great results we see today. He was a man like no other man. He was great at everything he attempted. We Indians didn't have many friends, but he was one of them, and he transformed our lives. I can't talk about him without being emotional. I've heard the older people talk about him---about what a man he was and how he touched our lives. He was a man of courage with a great humanitarian spirit. People loved him. They told me how much they loved him. He fashioned the world for me before I was born---and he'll never be forgotten as long as there are Indian people."

Clifton Oxendine, former PSU dean and professor emeritus, said: "Hamilton McMillan was the greatest benefactor the Robeson Indians ever had. We've been too slow to honor him. Our gratitude has been too slow. Today we'd like to pay that debt. He did more for the Indian people as a people than any man I know. He was a historian of the first order. He evolved the theory that our people were descendants of the Lost Colony at Manteo. He was a citizen of the first order in all areas of life. And he was a friend and a brother to the Lumbee Indians."

Jane McMillan, who acted as spokesman for the McMillan family, said: "Today, we are thankful that Hamilton McMillan was one of those forefathers who had faith in education---particularly that he had faith in the education of the Robeson County Indians. Without their own schools and no compulsory school laws, it would have been easy for their education to be neglected. We are therefore thankful and proud that he played a small but we hope important part in the beginning of this great University. We are also thankful for men like W.L. Moore and many others who had quite a struggle to keep the school going and refused to give up when the going got rough."

Miss McMillan added: "We are grateful for the many tributes paid to our grandfather, Hamilton McMillan, through the years and the outstanding tribute paid to him today. I only wish that all his grandchildren, great grandchildren and their children could have been here to hear this. I'm sure they too would have been very proud. On behalf of the family, I would like to say thank you."

MEN ARE DEFENDING CAROLINAS CONFERENCE CHAMPIONS SCHEDULES RELEASED

PSU basketball will get underway on Nov. 19 with both the men's and women's teams taking to the hardwood. The Braves will host Methodist following the Lady Braves' opener with Radford at 7 p.m.

The defending Carolinas Conference champions return six lettermen from last year, three being starters. But gone is NAIA Honorable Mention All-American Roger Carr. Added to the program are a crop of newcomers. The 1982-83 roster will comprise of five freshmen, one junior college transfer, four sophomores, one junior, and one senior.

The Braves will be hoping to improve upon last year's 13-16 record as PSU Coach Billy Lee enters his fifth season with a 59-58 mark.

The women's cage team, after finishing 16-9 last year, will be returning a powerful team this season with 10 returning lettermen and all five starters returning. The squad will be led by Donna Moody, a senior forward/center from Fayetteville.

WOMENS TENNIS TEAM LOOKING FORWARD TO A GOOD YEAR

PSU's women's tennis Coach Ann Webb is optimistic about the Lady Braves' season in 1982-83.

And it is no wonder as the netters have several strong returnees and some talented newcomers.

"This year's team has the most talent we've ever had at Pembroke State," observed Coach Webb, who is also Assistant Athletic Director at PSU. "We are looking forward to a good year."

Coach Webb continued, "We will be strong at the top of our ladder with Britt at number one, Carter at number two, and Caviness at No. 3." Making the No. 1 spot stronger in the spring will be the addition of freshman Monica Hamm of Goldsboro.

At the No. 1 singles spot will be senior Byrd Britt of Lumberton. "Byrd is very strong fundamentally. She knows the game and how to play it. She is capable of winning it all in the number one position," Coach Webb added.

The No. 2 singles position will be filled by junior Kay Carter of Lumberton. Coach Webb added, "Kay got lots of valuable experience last spring in the first position. She is on top of her game and ready."

The No. 3 and No. 4 singles spots will be managed by freshman Betsy Smith of St. Pauls and senior Debbie Caviness of Goldsboro. "Betsy played No. 1 at St. Pauls last year and is a very nice addition to the team. She gives us the depth we need."

The other team members include No. 5 singles player senior Julie Hall of Mt. Gilead, No. 6 singles performer freshman Tonya Lynam of Wake Forest, sophomore Kathy Gooden of Clarkton, and freshman Carla Hobbs of Fayetteville.

"Our toughest opponents will be Guilford and High Point," predicted Coach Webb, "and both of those teams went to the nationals last year."

The Lady Braves opened the 1982 half of their 1982-83 schedule falling to national power High Point 9-0 last Friday.

The remainder of the 1982 Pembroke State University women's tennis schedule is as follows: (HOME MATCHES IN ALL CAPS).

Pembroke Homemakers Meet

The Pembroke Homemakers Club held its September meeting Tuesday at Locklear Court. The president, Ms. Lucy Locklear, called the meeting to order. Devotion by Ms. Rebeauty Martin. The members joined in singing the National Home Demonstration Council winning song.

Ms. Sadie Ray Blanks, program leader, introduced James Hall of the Robeson County Ambulance Service as speaker. The theme was "First Aid Training For The Home" was discussed and was very informative.

Plans were made for fair entries, and a fair booth. The club voted to give $15.00 to the Easter Seals Campaign. Hostesses for the meeting were Cammie Lowry and Margaret Sampson.

Parson Sisters Visit Abroad

Jacqueline and Carolyn Parsons, daughters of Mrs. Viola B. Parsons and the late James G. Parsons spent the summer in Moons, Belgium visiting with their sister, Julia P. Willoughby and her husband, Paul M. Willoughby. While visiting they toured the countries of Belgium, Holland, England, Luxembourg, France and Germany. Their extended travel included many sites such as the Eiffel Tower, Arc of Triumph, and Versailles in France; Buckingham Palace, Tower of London and Madame Tussaud's in England. Their tour of Germany included a ride down the Rhine River and a visit to the Maraburg Castle.

THE McMILLAN MEMORIAL WAS PART OF THE WEEK LONG CELEBRATION OF INDIAN HERITAGE WEEK.

Shown are Jacqueline and Carolyn Parsons in Belgium.

Members of the Hamilton McMillan family from Red Springs gathered at Pembroke State University Tuesday to hear a memorial tribute to the state legislator (1837-1916) from Robeson County who helped to found PSU.
