TREMENDOUS INDIAN ART EXHIBIT COMING TO PSU NOV. 22

PSU's Native American Resource Center is excited to announce that for an eight-week period from Nov. 22 to Jan. 15, a tremendous Indian art exhibit will be at the center through the courtesy of the Institute of American Indian Arts in Santa Fe, N.M.

The Lumbee Regional Development Assn. of Pembroke is co-sponsoring the exhibit along with PSU's Native American Resource Center. The exhibit would thus be up for both the Thanksgiving and Christmas holiday periods.

The person responsible for bringing the exhibit to PSU is Janis Maynor Locklear, director of the Lumbee River Native American Center for the Arts, which is in its third year of operation.

Mrs. Locklear and her staff visited the Santa Fe Institute in June of 1981 and immediately took steps to invite the exhibit to Pembroke. At that time Craig Locklear and Harold Locklear of Pembroke were attending a summer session at the institute. Craig now works there as an instructor, while Harold is art instructor for the Robeson County Indian Education Program.

"This is an exceptional opportunity for our students interested in art in Robeson County," said Mrs. Locklear. "It will give them a new perspective about American Indian art. We believe the students of PSU will also be greatly interested."

The exhibit, entitled "One With The Earth," contains 45 different items. Included are pottery, sculpture, paintings, beadwork, weaving and basketry.

Putting the exhibit together was the Bureau of Indian Affairs which did so for the nation's Bicentennial in 1976. Its purpose as stated was "to share with Native and non-Native America the richness and variety of Native American heritage which continues to contribute significantly to the life of our nation."

Mrs. Locklear and PSU have worked closely with Charles Dally, director of the Institute of American Indian Art Museum, in arranging the exhibit.

During the eight-week period that the exhibit will be in PSU's Native American Resource Center, it will be open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Mondays through Fridays. If groups wishing to visit the exhibit on Saturdays during this time will contact PSU's Native American Resource Center, it will be specially opened for them. The phone number is: 521-4214, Ext. 282.

From PSU, the exhibit goes to the Smithsonian Institute in Washington, D.C.

Mrs. Locklear has been working with some 150 gifted and talented Indian students in the areas of visual arts, music, dance, creative writing and drama from the seventh through the 12th grades. She recently returned from Washington, D.C., where on Sept. 29-30 her staff put up an art exhibit in the Department of Education.

FOUR NEW PSU ALUMNI CHAPTERS TO BE ORGANIZED

Walter Ozendine, PSU director of alumni affairs, has announced that four new PSU alumni chapters will soon be organized to go with the three previously formed. The new ones will be in the areas of Raleigh, Dillon, SC; Washington, D.C.; and New Jersey-New York.

All meetings will be after the Nov. 9 kickoff dinner to PSU's Annual Giving Campaign, and most will be used to promote PSU's homecoming, scheduled Feb. 12.

The proposed dates for the alumni chapter meetings: Nov. 30—Organizational meeting in the Raleigh area; Dec. 14—Organizational meeting in the Dillon, S.C. area; Jan. 17—Charlotte Chapter meeting;

Jan. 24—Greensboro Chapter meeting; Jan. 31—Fayetteville Chapter meeting; March 15—Organizational meeting in Washington, D.C. area; and March 29—Organizational meeting in New Jersey and New York area.

NOMINATIONS FOR ALUMNI AWARDS SHOULD BE MAILED IN

If you wish to nominate someone for PSU's two most prestigious alumni awards, the "Distinguished Alumnus" and "Distinguished Service" awards, you should send your letters to Walter Ozendine, director of alumni affairs, before Jan. 15. The winners will be announced at the homecoming banquet Feb. 12.

ANNUAL GIVING CAMPAIGN'S PHONE A-THON SET NOV. 8-19

Last year PSU inaugurated a very successful "Phone-A-Thon" to reach alumni in helping to promote the Annual Giving Campaign and homecoming. Students manned the phones in volunteering to help.

This year's "Phone-A-Thon" will be over two weeks—Nov. 8-12 and Nov. 15-19. Directing it will be Dr. Matt Morrison, director of PSU Radio and TV Communications.

FELICIA TURNER TO BE CHANCELLOR'S RADIO GUEST

Felicia Turner, cultural events coordinator of PSU, will be the radio guest of Chancellor Paul Givens on his weekly radio program, "From The Chancellor's Office," to be aired at 10:45 a.m. Sunday. She will discuss all of the entertainment events this academic year at PSU. The first of the year, Dizzy Gillespie and his Jazz Band, drew a large crowd to the Performing Arts Center.

PSU OVER ONE FOURTH WAY TO ANNUAL GIVING GOAL

Goal of PSU's Annual Giving Campaign is $100,000 this academic year. The year really got underway July 1 and gifts to the PSU Foundation, Inc., since then have numbered $27,877. The big fund-raising dinner Tuesday, Nov. 9 should be another big boost to it. The $50-a-plate tickets can be purchased from the PSU Office of Institutional Advancement, phone 521-4214, Ext. 252. Dr. Richard Pizano, director of that office, is leading this year's ticket campaign.

GOD'S FAVORITE COMEDY TO BE PRESENTED NEXT WEEK

The Neil Simon comedy, "God's Favorite," an adaptation from the Book of Job, will be presented at PSU's Performing Arts Center Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Oct. 14-16. A special matinee performance will be held at 1 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 15. This is a Pembroke Players production, directed by Chet Jordan who specializes in theatre.

Tickets are $3. Season subscribers are admitted for $2. PSU students are admitted free.

Coming up on Monday, Oct. 18, is the musical, "The Fantasticks," by Daedalus Productions of New York, to be presented in the PSU Performing Arts Center at 8 p.m. Tickets to that are $5. Season subscribers get in for $3. PSU students will be admitted for $1.

Telephone 521-0778 for more information or tickets.

Announcing that the Institute of American Indian Arts in Santa Fe, N.M. is bringing a special Indian art exhibit to PSU Nov. 22 to Jan. 15 were the above (left to right) Linda Ozendine, curator of the PSU Native American Resource Center; Jannita Locklear, director of the Center; and Janis Maynor Locklear, director of the Lumbee River Native American Center for the Arts who was instrumental in bringing the exhibit to PSU.

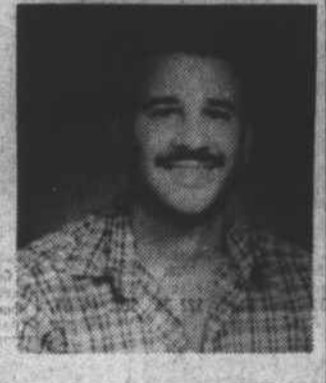

Dr. James B. Chavis (center of photo), vice chancellor for student affairs at PSU, recently led the state's Advisory Budget Commission on a tour of the PSU Student Center in showing the need for additional space for PSU students. Chavis outlined PSU's needs for $3.9 million to help construct a $6.3 million University Center where the old Pembroke Elementary School property is presently located.
