

Pembroke Boy Scouts Troop #327 Receives Honors

Boy Scout Troop 327 of Pembroke recently was recognized as one of four top troops among forty representing eight counties which compose the Cape Fear Council. The Pembroke boys distinguished themselves at the Island Adventure Cape Fear Council Fall Camporee when they were presented the Presidential Award, the only Robeson troop to be so honored. The other three recipients were from New Hanover and Brunswick Counties.

The Camporee was held October 12-14 on Masonboro Island off the Wilmington Coast with more than seven hundred boys participating.

This feat is another sign of the growing prestige of the local 327 Troop. The Scout Master, Scouts, and their proud parents wish to express their deepest gratitude to the Pembroke businesses and individuals who supported and contributed to the recent fund raising campaign to better equip and prepare the scout program. It is hoped that the community will continue to support Troop 327 in future projects and activities.

Communicative Skills Committee Meets

Members of the Communications Skills Committee met recently with Ms. Cathy Maples, Supervisor of Communication Skills and Foreign Language in the Robeson County School system, to plan for future amendments to the present communicative arts continuum.

In the October 24 meeting, members drafted a proposed program assessment instrument to be used system wide beginning December 3. The assessment provides information from which teachers can identify strengths and weaknesses of the current communicative arts curriculum. Teachers can also specify materials needed to enhance the communicative arts program, select areas for future arts program, select areas for future staff development workshops in communicative arts and formulated an inventory of preferred communicative arts methodology.

The committee designated January thru March 1985 for the system wide selection of textbooks for grades 1-8 language arts and grades 2-8 spelling. March was also designated for integration of revisions for the system's Reading-Language Arts Continuum. The distribution of thesauri and blank video cassettes to each school was completed at the committee meeting.

The committee scheduled November 8, November 27 and January 8 as dates for future meetings.
