First Union National Bank of Pembroke Makes $5,000 Gift To PSU

Frank Daughtrey (right), city executive of Pembroke's First Union National Bank, presents a $5,000 check to

Chancellor Paul Givens of PSU as the first gift of a $15,000 pledge to PSU over the next three years. It is to help PSU in its $1 million centennial fund raising drive.

Pembroke-First Union National Bank of Pembroke has presented a $5,000 check to PSU to assist in its efforts to raise $1 million by its centennial in 1987.

been in Pembroke for little over a year and been very active in supporting PSU.

"I am proud to be associated with a bank which believes in institutions like PSU and supports them financially," said Daughtrey. "We at the bank want to show our support with action."

Daughtrey said when he arrived in Pembroke in November, 1984, he immediately attended PSU's fund-raising dinner. He was also a part of PSU's "C-Day" last April when PSU's Centennial Board of 100 had breakfast in Lumberton, then went out to solicit gifts or pledges toward Pembroke State's $1 million centennial goal. He is also a member of the PSU Braves Club.

"We are making efforts to increase our support financially and in the community of PSU," Daughtrey said.

The relationship between the bank and the university has been a strong one because Daughtrey stated over 40 percent of the staff and faculty at PSU have accounts at First Union. "We like this town-and-gown relationship," he said.

First Union has 275 banks in North Carolina with its headquarters based in Charlotte. Its gifts such as the one to PSU comes from the bank's Foundation for the Carolinas. "Our bank is No. 1 in the state in physical facilities serving customers and No. 2 in assets," said Daughtrey.

Daughtrey said that Dr. James B. Chavis, PSU vice chancellor for student affairs, is on his bank's board of directors and said, "We welcome any individuals of the University who would like to contact our bank to assist them in any way."

LADY BRAVES DID IT

They won in over time, after being down five points with three minutes to go. Campbell's Ladies trailed the whole game until the last three minutes and then went up five points. It looked pretty bad for our girls after leading and making clutch basket after basket and sticking with it so much. Golly what a bunch to stick to it. Our two little guards- Regan and Moxley were super in their floor work. Regan sneaking in for a lay-up and getting a quick pass from either Carl or Vann. Moxley a real fine play maker on either side of the floor and truly a scrapper for such a little. Brave was tremendous and cool you wouldn't believe it. The Pembroke 2-1-2 zone was a real intimidator with Campbell's, Edmondson-cold from outside most of the game but got hot in the last part and tying it up and it looked bad for us. However, Pembroke's students put on the greatest display of cheering you ever saw and truly helped to win the game. I've never seen anything like it in all my years at PSU. Much praise goes to Gary Spitzer for a remarkable job of promotion, the students and cheerleaders and their coach, the fraternities, both boys and girls. What a PSU night it was and Coach Lalou and Coach Linda were hugged by faculty and fans after the game sportsmanship was the main impression as players from both teams congratulated each other. My hat goes off to the fine Lady Braves.

Music Takes Forefront With Special Events at PSU

Music is indeed at the forefront at PSU in the week ahead with two special events scheduled plus a senior recital.

On Saturday, Feb. 22, in an all-day event, the PSU Music Department will host its 11th annual Instrumental Band Festival with 60 senior high and junior high bands from southeastern North Carolina taking part.

Countries from which the bands will come include Robeson, Cumberland, Scotland, Bladen and Hoke.

The festival will begin at 8 a.m. on Feb. 22 with auditions in Moore Hall, the music building. Rehearsals will then take place at 9:30 a.m. in PSU's Band Room and also the Givens Performing Arts Center. That evening at 7:30 p.m. there will be concerts in the performing arts center by the junior high and senior high bands selected.

Each junior high and senior high school throughout the region was asked to submit a list of musicians for this festival with them listed in order of priority.

"We chose at least one musician from each school," said Dr. Robert Romine, chairman of the PSU Music Department and coordinator of the festival.

For the evening concert on Feb. 22, two 90-piece bands will participate said Romine. The concerts are free to the public.

Guest conductor for the senior high band will be Lt. Commander Michael Pesses, assistant leader of the U.S. Navy Band. He has served as assistant leader of the Sixth Fleet Band in Gaeta, Italy, and officer in charge of the Navy's Show Band West in San Diego, Calif. He has performed on the French horn with Navy bands in Newport, R.I. and Great Lakes, Ill.

The guest conductor of the junior high band will be Michael Williams, a 1980 PSU graduate and director of bands at Stedman Jr. High. While serving as director of the Cape Fear High School jazz band, concert band, and color guard, Williams' bands and visual units received consistent "superior" ratings in both concert and marching contests and festivals statewide.

Four days later a three-day Junior High Band Contest will also take place at PSU Wednesday through Friday, Feb. 26-28.

And on Tuesday, Feb. 25, the PSU Music Department will present pianist Medra Dee Dial in her senior recital, beginning at 8 p.m. in Moore Hall Auditorium.

Miss Dial is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Dial of Pembroke. A member of Sigma Alpha Iota Music Fraternity for Women, she is recipient of the Ira Pate Lowry Music Scholarship and has been a Dean's List student. The public is also invited to attend this recital free of charge.

PSU Musicians On Spring Tour
PSU's concert band and "Singers and Swingers" were on their spring tour last week.

The "Singers and Swingers" continued the tour, playing Thursday at South Wayne High School and C.V. Aycock High School and then on Friday performing at Rosewood High School.

This is great public relations for PSU.

Career Fair Set at PSU
Feb. 26

On Wednesday, Feb. 26, a "Career Fair" will be held at the PSU Lowry Student Center from 9 a.m. until 1 p.m. with approximately 40 companies to be represented. They will be sharing career opportunities with PSU students.

This Wednesday PSU students were taken on an industrial tour of Burlington Industries at St. Pauls. On March 20, they will be taking a tour of Boise Cascade of Lumberton.

Wisconsin Professor Speaks at PSU

Dr. Basil Jackson, clinical professor of psychiatry in the Department of Health Sciences at the University of Wisconsin at Milwaukee will make a talk on "The Faith of Psychiatrist" Friday, Feb. 21, in the Chancellor's Dining Room at PSU. Lunch will be served at noon, and his talk will follow.

Dr. Jackson earned his M.D. from State University of New York and both his Ph.D. and Th. D. in New Testament Theology from California Graduate School.

He was invited to speak at Pembroke by Rev. Bob Mangum, pastor of Prospect United Methodist Church.

Dr. Gibson Gray Makes Talk
In the continuing "Church, State and First Amendment" lecture series at PSU, the next speaker will be Dr. Gibson Gray, chairman of the PSU Political Science Department.

He will lead a discussion Tuesday, Feb. 25, at 7:30 p.m. on the topic: "Church, State and American Culture: Political, Legal and Comparative Perspectives." Old Main's Native American Resource Center at PSU is the site of the talks.

The talks are free to the public. They are sponsored by the PSU Department of Philosophy and Religion, the PSU Office of Continuing Education and the N.C. Humanities Committee.

Tonja Dial of Rowland... the 1986 homecoming queen of Pembroke State University.

If talent scouts were looking for the perfect girl to be an Indian princess in a movie or on television, they could probably find no better candidate than Tonja Faye Dial, who was crowned Saturday night as the 1986 homecoming queen of PSU.

A 19-year-old sophomore, she is a very pretty girl with perfect white teeth. She smiles shyly and seems embarrassed at the recognition she has received as queen. Winning over six other coeds brought her a crown, a bouquet of roses, and a trophy--plus a kiss from Chancellor Paul Givens.

Being recognized for her beauty is nothing new for Tonja. She was chosen the "Best Looking" in South Robeson High School from where she graduated in 1984.

The daughter of Calhoun and Shelby Dial of Rowland, she is majoring in biology with plans to be either an x-ray technician or physical therapist.

Her mother was present to see her win as was her older sister, Samantha, who is a senior at PSU majoring in political science and planning to attend law school. Her younger brother, Terrel, could not be at the homecoming because of illness, and her father was working out of town. "They were all real happy for me," said Tonja. "Samantha said she knew I would win. So did mother."

As it turns out, last year's homecoming queen, Pandora Sampson, also of Rowland, is Tonja's best friend. Pandora, as the retiring queen, helped the chancellor with the crowning. "Pandora told me, 'I told you so,'" said Tonja.

However, Tonja admits she was "shocked" when her name was announced as the winner on the public address system. "I was in a daze then and also afterwards at the dance which followed the homecoming games." Her escort was Patrick Mitchell of Lumberton.

Tonja is a Zeta Tau Alpha pledge at PSU. In high school, she was a member of the Future Business Leaders of America and the Vocational Club.

She is a member of Ashpole Methodist Church at Rowland where she has served as secretary of the United Methodist Youth Fellowship.

Tonja's hobbies are listening to music, going shopping, dancing, playing with animals and spending time with friends. Her family has two dogs-a watch dog and an inside dog, she says.

Observes 91st Birthday

Mrs. Davie Locklear of the Prospect Community was honored on her 91st birthday Saturday, February 8, 1986 at Island Grove Church by her family and friends of the community. She was born January 31, 1895.

her marriage to the late Everett Locklear around 1915.

Locklear has not been able to get out and the family would like for you to remember her and her family in your prayers.

Please note that the sign at the back says 95th birthday. It is hard to tell a 2 from a 5 on the census that was taken in 1900. Some say that she might even be 100 years old, but the family goes by her Social Security Record.

$60,000 Funds awarded for school-based clinic

The Robeson County Health Department has been selected as one of 17 organizations in the state to receive funds aimed at reducing adolescent pregnancy and related problems, according to Human Resources Secretary Phil Kirk.

The funds will be used to establish a school-based health center at West Robeson High School in an effort to reduce unintended teen pregnancies in Robeson County.

West Robeson was selected, in part, because of the high number of Indian students enrolled there. According to Miss Houston, the teen pregnancy rate in Robeson County is higher for Indian women than for any other race.

The school-based clinic will provide sexuality counseling as well as other services targeted to the specific needs of adolescents, such as: sports physicals, immunizations, health screenings and referral for medical treatment when necessary.

According to a press release from the Department of Human Resources, any school-based projects receiving state funds will not be allowed to: distribute contraceptives, prescribe contraceptives, provide abortions or provide transportation for abortions.

The grant will support the clinic for one year, after which time another $60,000 may be awarded following a review of the project. A total of $960,000 has been allocated for Adolescent Pregnancy and Prematurity Prevention projects across the state in 1986, with the funds being administered through the Division of Health Services.

Six other county health departments are among those funded by the state. They are the health departments for: Martin, Tyrrell and Washington counties; Gaston County; Cumberland County; Henderson County; Forsyth County and Catawba County.
