

Captains of vessels and their crews, will be remembered by the citizens of Wilmington, with gratitude.

While the editor bewails this sad catastrophe and laments its consequences to many of his fellow-citizens, he has cause to rejoice and be thankful, that he is not among the number of unfortunate sufferers. The only injury he sustained was the derangement of his printing apparatus in the hurry of moving, which will necessarily preclude the publication of the Wilmington Gazette next week.

A CARD.

Gratitude and inclination both require the public expression of my heart felt acknowledgments to Captains Moody, Ellis, Bourn, Chandler, Mouniford and Williams and the crews of their respective vessels, for their friendly, prompt and very efficacious assistance during the disastrous event of this morning.

T. N. GAUTIER.

HIGHLY IMPORTANT.

Suspension of Intercourse!

Extract of a letter from a Member of Congress to the Editor of the Petersburg Intelligencer, dated,

Washington City, Jan. 29, 1806.

"I herewith inclose you a copy of a Resolution brought forward this day in the House of Representatives, by Mr. GREGG of Pennsylvania, relative to our vessels and seamen."

WHEREAS Great-Britain impresses Citizens of the United States, and compels them to serve on board her ships of war; and also seizes and condemns vessels belonging to citizens of the United States, and their cargoes, being the bona fide property of American citizens, not contraband of war, and not proceeding to places besieged, or blockaded, under the pretext of their being engaged in time of war in a trade with her enemies, which was not allowed in time of peace:

AND WHEREAS the government of the United States has repeatedly remonstrated to the British government against these injuries, and demanded satisfaction therefor, but without effect—Therefore,

RESOLVED, That until equitable and satisfactory arrangements on these points shall be made between the two governments, it is expedient that from and after the day of next, no Goods, Wares or Merchandise, of the growth, product or manufacture of Great-Britain, or of any of the colonies or dependencies thereof, ought to be imported into the United States; Provided, however, that whenever arrangements, deemed satisfactory by the President of the United States, shall take place, it shall be lawful for him, by proclamation, to fix a day on which the prohibition aforesaid shall cease.

29th January, 1806—Read and ordered to be committed to a committee of the whole House on the state of the Union.

A letter from Havana, of the 26th ult.—(received at New-York) says: "The celebrated General BOWLES died three days since in the Moro-Castle, reduced to skin and bones. He had for more than 40 days previous, refused to eat any thing but oranges and cut; those he cut and sucked—and we have reason to believe that he had strong reasons for what he did."

Capt. McClintock, who arrived here a few days since from Demarara, has obliged us with the following extract from his log-book:

At 7 A. M. of the 26th Dec. being about one league from the land of Portorico, and running down the south side, was boarded by a Spanish felucco privateer, when they immediately took possession of the brig, alleging there was an actual war between Spain & America, and that we were of course a legal prize. They then run us into a small and dangerous bay, and notwithstanding their repeated assurances of honorable treatment, the whole of their infernal gang came on board and began their concerted scheme of plunder; after pretending to examine the brig's papers they went into the hold, from which, after breaking open 2 hhd. of sugar, they took 3 boxes of goods valued about 1000 dollars, the most of the light articles belonging to the vessel, and completed their piracy by robbing the officers and crew of a great part of their clothing; and then very generously piloted us again to sea; for the consideration of one Joe.

Entered at the Custom-House, in the month of January, 1806, from foreign ports, 310 hhd. & 205 barrels Sugar. 258 hhd. Rum, 222 hhd. Molasses, 9 hhd. 55 bags Coffee, 11,438 bushels Salt, 191 casks yellow Paint.
