

case he should have taken the route by Belano and Pieve di Cadore, to reach Villach and join Prince Charles at Leybach. The General in Chief had left the residue to the army at the Isone, under General Duitesme, and proceeded himself to the Piave to superintend the movements which he had ordered to be made.

Lieut. General St. Cyr maneuvered to reconnoitre and impede the enemy; he formed a column from the divisions Regnier, Lecchi and Verdier, and remained himself at Campo San Pietro, with the Polish regiment commanded by General Peyri. Gen. Regnier a Navale had orders to march on the 24th at day break to Castle Franco. The enemy, perceiving their dangerous situation, commenced the attack. They precipitated themselves on the division Regnier, who received them with great bravery, and soon threw them into confusion. They returned several times to the charge, but were always opposed by the same bulwark. In the mean time Lieut. Gen. St. Cyr made a movement with the Polish regiment, & turned the enemy. It was now nothing but a complete flight as far as Castle Franco, where our troops arrived as soon as the Austrians. All that had not either been killed on the field of battle, or taken prisoners, offered to capitulate.—6000 infantry and 1000 horse fell into our hands; which were many more than we had opposed to them of effective men; but they perceived, as the necessary result of our arrangements, that their loss would be inevitable. General Prince Roban, who commanded the corps, several colonels, and many other officers, are among the number of our prisoners—6 colours and 1 standard, 12 pieces of cannon, all their baggage waggons, and an immense quantity of baggage, are the result of our victory. Two standards were lost on the field of battle. We have to lament the loss of 100 men in this engagement; and have recovered the garrison captured by the enemy at Bassano.

A corps of Croats, which it is presumed made part of the above column, remains at the gap of the mountains; and it will be difficult for it to escape us; the measures which have been taken, ensure it a similar fate.

The General of Brigade Lacour is at Villach; he is pushing his advanced posts to Clagenfurth, and is endeavouring to open a communication with the Grand Army.

The advanced guard under General Espagne makes fresh prisoners every step. The roads of Idria and Leybach are covered with dead horses, blown up ammunition waggons, and thousands of scattered cannon balls.

NEW-YORK, Feb. 17.

Captain Weston, of the Sch'r Mariner, from St. Bartholomews, informs that an arrival at St. Bartholomews, had brought intelligence of the British having taken possession of the Plata River. This seems corroborative of the news, lately published, of their taking Buenos Ayres. This town is about fifty miles from the mouth of the river de la Plata, situated in a beautiful country, and is a place of considerable trade and great riches.

Captain Hitchcox from Curacao, informs us, that on the 25th January, in the Mona Passage, he was boarded by three French line of battle ships, who were waiting for a reinforcement of 10 sail of the line—they had captured and then in tow, the sch'r James Lenox, Wilson, of North Carolina.

NORFOLK, Feb. 24.

By Captain Ferguson's Packet, we have received the Baltimore papers of Friday, but they contain no article of European intelligence, so that we are still in suspense as to the further operations of the grand armies. Our readers will recollect, that in our last it was stated in the article which we copied from the Baltimore Telegraph, that Mr. Adams, who had arrived from Lisbon, had seen the official bulletin of the French army, which contained the account of the defeat of the allied army, surrender of the Russians, &c. We observe by a subsequent paper to that which we copied from, that Mr. Adams desired that it might be contradicted, "for that he had not said that he saw the official bulletins, and that nothing which he had said authorized such an assertion." Thus it turns out that this important information rests on the authority of a Lisbon report.

WILMINGTON,

TUESDAY, MARCH 11, 1806.

Joshua G. Watson, Esq. is appointed President of the Bank of Cape-Fear, in place of George Hooper, Esq. resigned.

Extract of a letter from a member of Congress to the Editor, dated February 26.

"Yesterday, a bill from the Senate suspending the commercial intercourse between the United States and certain parts of the Island of St. Domingo, passed its third reading in this House. I enclose you a statement shewing the amount of money disbursed in each year on account of the Navy. [This statement shall appear in our next.] Nothing has as yet been done with the resolutions on our tables, relative to British aggressions on our commerce."

A ship called the Leander, lately sailed from New-York; she was cleared out for Jaquemel, but, before she sailed, suspicions arose that she was intended for some other quarter—Those suspicions were made known to our government, which instantly dispatched orders to prevent her sailing; but before they arrived the expedition had sailed. It is said that Gen. Miranda is on board, and it is probable the ship is intended for South-America. This business is taken up very seriously, as it is generally believed that the funds for carrying it on have been furnished by a foreign power, who would not be averse to see us embroiled with Spain.

NOTICE.

IN consequence of the Legislature having by an Act of the last session repealed the Act passed in the year 1800, divesting the Trustees of the University of the escheated property, the Board of Trustees entered into a resolution, directing their several Attorneys to notify in their respective districts the said repeal, and also to give public notice of the willingness and readiness of that Body to enter into compromises for all property which has been considered as escheated and claimed under the original donation of the Legislature.

All persons therefore who are in possession of, or claim, property of that description, situate in the district of Wilmington, are hereby accordingly notified, of the repeal above-mentioned, and are hereby further informed that the subscriber, or the Attorney and one of the members of the Board of Trustees in said district, will receive propositions for compromises, and with the other members belonging to the district will proceed to act upon such propositions agreeably to former resolutions and ordinances of the Board on the subject.

A Little Act by a Little Body.

ON the night of the Fire in this town, after great exertion & being much fatigued and very thirsty, seeing some bottles of wine lying in the streets that belonged to John Calhorda, I asked his clerk who was standing near, for one of them, which I took up, but not being able to get the cork out, I laid it down again and went away—JOHN CALHORDA has since warranted me for the said bottle of Wine, and on the oath of his clerk obtained a judgment for sixty-two and an half cents.

Wilmington, March 11, 1806.

RICE PLANTERS

WHO may be in want of DUPRE'S new invented PANDULON SCREEN (under Patent) can be supplied by applying to Joshua Potts, Wilmington, or to John C. Baker near Smithville.

The Screens are warranted to sift Ninety hundred weight per day, making a complete separation of the Flour, Small Rice, Merchantable Rice, and rough or head Rice, with the labour of one hand.

They will be finished in Charleston complete in all the parts, and delivered at either place above mentioned, for fifty five dollars each, the purchaser paying the freight.—They will be so marked, and accompanied by such particular directions, that any person of ordinary capacity will be adequate to the task of fixing them for use.—The simplicity of their construction, and great durability, together with the immense saving of manual labour, and the more perfect cleaning of the grain, renders them a truly valuable acquisition to every Rice Planter. They can be had for the additional charge of one dollar, be rendered so far further useful as to answer the purpose of a REEING SCREEN, which separates the rough from the ground Rice before it is put into the Mortar, and occasions a great saving of the crop. They also may be attached to any common pounding machine. Persons wishing to have them so fixed will please apply as above, and leave a description of their machine, which being made known to the proprietors, the Screen will be furnished in such a state, and with such instructions, as will enable any Millwright to put them in operation.
