Contains corresponding Articles with the Russian Treaty. It also provides, that until a peace shall take place between Britain and France, the port of Dantzic, and every other port and place under the dominion of the King of Prussia, shall be shut against the trade of England.

NEW-YORK, September 14.
FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE—By the several arrivals at this port from Greenock and Liverpool, we have received files of English papers, from which we have made copious extracts for this day's paper.

Among other articles is an official account of the retrograde movements of the Swedish army, since the re-commencement of hostilities with the French, and of the application of his Swedish Majesty for a renewal of the armistice, but it is not stated whether or not it has been renewed.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 12.
On Monday morning last the U. S. frigate Chesapeake and two gun boats arrived at Annapolis from Norfolk; and on Wednesday they sailed, with a fair wind, down the bay. We are unacquainted with the object of this expedition.

WASHINGTON-CITY, Sept. 18.
A letter is received in this city, dated Richmond, 13th inst. by which it appears that the court had that day given an opinion in the case of colonel Burr, that may be said to have put an end to the proceedings in this case. It goes to the exclusion of testimony, and of course to the acquittal of Burr, on the charge against him for a misdemeanor. The substance only of the opinion which is given above, that no testimony would be permitted to be adduced, is given in the letter.

After the opinion of the court was delivered several questions were addressed to the Chief Justice by the counsel for the U. States, as to the effect of that opinion, upon particular points. At length it was deemed the most eligible course to adjourn the court 'till the next day, in order that the counsel on both sides might be furnished with copies of the opinion, and be enabled to judge of its application to the evidence which might be offered to prove any particular fact.

The Court adjourned 'till Tuesday at 10 o'clock.

WILMINGTON,

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 29, 1807.

On the 11th inst. a general muster was held at Edenton, for the purpose of raising the quota of men from Chowan County by draft or otherwise, to make up the number of militia required of this State; when 48, the number required, including officers, volunteered their services.

Raleigh Register.

On the 11th inst. the Militia of Edgcomb was called together for the purpose of raising 127 men, their quota of the number to be furnished by this State, when, after a patriotic address from Major Balfour, and notice being given that such as were disposed to volunteer in their Country's cause must advance four paces in front of the regiment; after the drum and file had passed the third time, they were immediately joined by capt. M'Nair's Light Infantry, who displayed great patriotism upon the occasion.—Their example was followed by the whole of the regiment, 13 men only excepted, who manifested their zeal by 3 cheers. A 2d attempt was made to draw from the Regiment the 127 men only, but 304 rushed out of the Regiment, formed and marched after the drum and file, each contending to be first to revenge their country's wrongs, and lots were at last cast to determine who should have the preference.

Some apprehensions have been entertained that because Burr has succeeded in preventing the evidence of Gen. Wilkinson, from being given to the public in open court, that this evidence will be lost. It is not improbable that we may yet have it in our power to give, thro' the medium of the Aurora, a circumstantial detail of what was by legal judging suppressed, and also the whole of the evidence before the Grand Jury at Richmond.

The last sailing ship Robert Burns, captain Hairs, has arrived at New York, in 31 days from Liverpool, and brings London dates to the 8th August, and Liverpool to the 10th. Also dispatches from the American Legation in London to the Secretary of State. When the Robert Burns sailed, the American vessels were hurrying off, being in daily expectation of an embargo. A London paper of the 8th says, "that as yet there has been no embargo laid on American vessels."

The following remarks on the affair of the frigate Chesapeake, are from the London Courier of the 6th Aug.

"We have received Halifax papers of the 11th, containing an account of the proceedings towards the Chesapeake frigate. CAPTAIN HUMPHRIES APPEARS TO HAVE CONDUCTED HIMSELF THROUGHOUT THE BUSINESS WITH THE GREATEST PROPRIETY.

"The American populace appear, in their senseless rage, to be desirous of plunging into war with this country.—They seem unwilling to leave any chance of amicable adjustment between the two governments. All the most violent and scurrilous epithets that are to be found in the English language, are heaped upon this country. Public meetings have been held in almost all the towns, and each seems to be desirous of distinguishing itself by the superior intemperance and fury of its resolutions. Will the American government be able to stem this torrent, and act according to the dictates of reason and reflection? It is supposed that it will not be able to oppose the popular fury, but will be forced into measures of immediate hostility. When the Two Friends left Charleston on the 7th July, it was apprehended that an embargo would be laid upon all British vessels in American ports. As to hostilities towards us on the part of America, it would be idle to say that we can entertain the least apprehension respecting them. TWO FIFTY GUN SHIPS WOULD BE ABLE TO BURN, SINK AND DESTROY THE WHOLE AMERICAN NAVY.—That this country has sought a war with the United States, no man, the American populace excepted, will assert. We have carried moderation almost to meanness, and forbearance to such an extent that the Americans seem to have begun to believe that it proceeded from fear. We again assert, that Admiral Berkeley under the peculiar circumstances of the case, acted in a manner that deserves the thanks of his country—and we trust, every other British officer who may be placed in a similar situation, will act with the same decision.—There was a report last night that the Admiral and Captain Humphreys had been recalled.—We do not believe it."

"James Wilson, one of the three seamen taken from the Chesapeake was hanged at Halifax on the 1st instant, agreeably to the sentence of a Court-Martial. The other two were informed were sentenced by the same Court-Martial to receive nine hundred lashes each. The Depositions and Documents proving the nativity of these wretched Americans, are given at great length in the National Intelligencer."

Lord Hawkbury has addressed a letter to the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, stating that "according to a determination of the Privy Council, ships being American property, but not the built in America, or condemned as prize within the United States, sailing under sea letters, cannot be considered as American vessels, and consequently not entitled to import into G. Britain Vessels arriving prior to the 31st of October will be permitted to an entry."

A letter from Hamburg, dated July 8, says—"The British consul at Altona has officially announced to Mr. Forbes the American Consul here, that neutral ships laden with neutral property, bound to Gluckstadt and Altona, will be allowed to enter the Elbe, and also to depart therefrom with neutral lading."

The emperor of Russia was decorated in the insignia of the legion of honor, on his visit to Bonaparte, who in return wore the ribbon of St. Andrew. In their last interview the two emperors remained together three hours; and the testimonies of friendship, which they gave each other at parting are said to have created the most lively emotions among the army and people.

Captain Lamson, arrived at Salem from St. Petersburg, informs, that while at Copenhagen he perceived a considerable degree of satisfaction among the Danes at the success of the French arms, on account of its effect upon the English, against whom there is a prevailing antipathy. Captain L. saw two fleets of English transports, with troops, pass over the Sound for Stralsund, their number said to be 40,000; and he passed another fleet below the Seaw and the Naze. These troops had been long before expected by the Russians, so as to have made a diversion in favor of the common cause; but their arrival was too late to produce any effect.

The United States schooner Revenge, bound to England with dispatches from Government, was spoken by capt. Walker, of the Ship Liberty, on the 17th ult. on lat 48 31, long 23 30, then out 17 days.

From the last Liverpool Price Current—

"Both pot and pearl ashes have been upon the decline since the late arrivals from New-York; and as the prices, particularly of pots, are still high, the consumers buy sparingly, in expectation of further reduction as the supplies become more plentiful.

"The tanners have continued to purchase such parcels of low barks as have offered at 10s. 6d. a 11s. 6d per cwt. but there is no prospect of their being able to give higher prices; and the demand from the dry salters, even for the better qualities of this article, is still exceedingly limited.

"Our cotton market has remained extremely heavy for many weeks past, owing to the unsettled state of continental affairs, (which greatly curtails the export of twist and manufactured goods,) added to the very heavy arrivals the last month, particularly of inferior bowed Georgias. The wretched quality of these supplies having formed a complete barrier to speculation, the imports of this season have received no relief from the monied men, who in former years were used to speculate freely in upland cottons, when prices were low, or even moderately reduced. The general run of the new crop of Orleans that are arrived is by no means good; many of the gin marks are bad coloured, and dirty, and on the whole the cotton is extremely feathery and light in the hand; however, there is not nearly so great a falling off in the quality, as in that of the uplands; and we therefore conceive, that clean healthy Orleans cotton will be likely to meet a ready sale. The demand for Sea-Island cotton (excepting the very fine descriptions) continues limited.

"Owing to a gradual decline in the prices of wheat in this country, and the very heavy supplies of American flour and grain that have lately arrived, the sale of these articles have been very limited for some weeks past; but the holders are still at the annexed prices; and as the demand for flour in particular, generally increases at this season of the year, the market may probably become more lively soon, with some advance in prices.

"The prices of rice have not undergone any alteration of consequence since our last; and the demand for fine samples continues steady, whilst the middling and inferior are not enquired for.

"Good staves, of all denominations meet a ready sale at the prices quoted, and are likely to continue in demand; whilst the inferior descriptions are plentiful, and dull of sale.

"The demand for American timber of all descriptions has continued steady, without any material alteration in the prices of any description, and there is a prospect of its continuing to command a sale at these quotations.

"There has been more demand the last month for the low qualities of tobacco for exportation, and prices of this description are in consequence a little enhanced; whilst the better qualities continue pretty steady for the home trade, and the prices of last month are fully supported.

Later advices state "that cottons are still lowering, viz. inferior qualities."
