

POETRY.

FROM WALLER'S POEMS.

Of my Lady Isabella playing on the lute.
SUCH moving sounds, from such a careless touch!
 So unconcern'd herself, and we so much!
 What art is this, that with so little pains
 Transports us thus, and o'er our spirits reigns?
 The trembling strings about her fingers crowd
 And tell their joy for ev'ry kiss aloud:
 Small force there needs to make them trem-
 ble so;
 Touch'd by that hand, who would not tremble too?
 Here Love takes stand, and while she charms
 the ear,
 Empties his quiver on the list'ning deer.
 Music so softens, and disarms, the mind,
 That not an arrow does resistance find.
 Thus the fair tyrant celebrates the prize,
 And acts herself the triumph of her eyes:
 So Nero once, with harp in hand, survey'd,
 His flaming Rome, and as it burn'd he play'd.

[FROM THE SAME.]

An apology for having loved before.
 They that never had the use
 Of the grape's surprizing juice,
 To the first delicious cup,
 All their reason swallow up:
 Neither do, nor care to know,
 Whether it be best or no.
 So, they that are to love inclin'd,
 Sway'd by chance, not choice, or art,
 To the first that's fair, or kind,
 Make a present of their heart:
 'Tis not she that first we love,
 But whom dying we approve.

A dispute, it seems, lately arose in one of the Universities, concerning precedence between doctors of civil law, and doctors in medicine; it was referred to a facetious proctor, who decided—"that as customary, the thief should go before, and the executioner follow him."

POWER OF MUSIC.

Or what should decide any young man who hesitates about learning to play the fiddle.
 A few years ago, a man who lived at Allerton, (Eng.) by trade a tailor, but who occasionally could handle his fiddle as well as his needle, on his way home, from whence he had been exercising his musical talents, for the entertainment of his neighbours, in a field about three hours, in the morning, in the month of June, was attacked by a Bull.—After several efforts to escape, he attempted to ascend a tree; not however succeeding in the attempt, a momentary impulse directed him to pull out his fiddle, and fortifying himself behind the tree as well as he could, began to play; upon which the enraged animal became totally disarmed of his ferocity, and appeared to listen with great attention. The affrighted Joe Snip, finding his fierce and formidable enemy so much appeased, began to think of making his escape, left off playing, and was moving off without even the slightest desire to know who should pay the piper. This, however, the bull would not suffer; for no sooner had bur Orpheus ceased his fascinating strain, than the bull's rage appeared to return with as much violence as before. He was therefore glad to have recourse a second time to his fiddle, which instantly operated again as a magic charm upon the bull, who became as composed and attentive as before. He afterwards made several more attempts to escape, but all in vain; for no sooner did he stop his fiddle, than the bull's anger returned, so that he was compelled to continue fiddling away till near 6 o'clock, (about 5 hours) when the family came to fetch the cows, by which he was relieved and rescued from a tiresome and frightful situation.—He is, perhaps the first man upon record who may really be said to have fiddled for his life, and who has so truly fulfilled the Poet's idea, that "Music hath charms to soothe the savage breast."

CURE FOR THE DYSENTERY.

[Extracted from "The Philadelphia Medical and Physical Journal," edited by Dr. B. S. Barton, vol. 1, p. 130.]
 "Last summer, when I was near the settlement of the Oneida Indians (in the state of New-York) the Dysentery prevailed much, and carried off some of the white inhabitants, who applied to the Indians for a remedy. They directed them to drink a decoction of the roots of Blackberry bushes (Rhus Occidentalis) which they did; after which not one died. All who used it, agreed that it is a safe, sure and speedy cure:

Valuable Lands!

For sale, low for cash or young Negroes, the following valuable property, viz:
 That well known plantation, formerly the residence of my father, lying on the stage road to Fayetteville, between the 37 and 38 mile posts. It is well covered with Cypress and Pine trees and light wood.—Also, another piece of 250 acres, on the west side of the river, back of Mr. William Sutton's. It is allowed to have the best timber and light wood in that part of the country and the whole of it lies handy to the River. Also, several other tracts of land in Bladen county. Likewise, a Mill SEAT with a good CORN MILL, on an excellent stream, within a quarter of a mile of the above plantation, lying in New-Hanover County. All this property now offered for sale is situated in a healthy part of the country and is well worth the attention of any one desirous of purchasing valuable country property.

Ten Dollars Reward.

ABSCONDED on Saturday the twenty-first of October last, my Negro fellow CHARLESTON OF CHARLTON. He is well known about Augusta as a drummer; is slight and well made, of very black complexion; about 5 feet nine inches high, and years of age. He has a deep mark or cut on one of his eye-brows (which not recollected.) The above reward will be paid for his apprehension and delivery to me, or on his being lodged in jail.
 JAMES CORMICK.

Thirty Dollars Reward,

For the recovery of a negro man named BARNEY, about 45 years of age, 5 feet 6 inches high, stout made, of a good appearing countenance, speaks plain, has long hair, somewhat of a dark mustee kind, one of his legs is much larger than the other. The said Barney eloped from my plantation on Coopers River, near Charleston, South Carolina, in May 1807, and from information made his way for North Carolina. As his former owner resided near Wilmington, in said state, and on his way was apprehended, but afterwards made his escape, and is supposed to be in or near Wilmington. If apprehended and sent on to Charleston, South Carolina, all reasonable expences, together with the above reward, will be paid, on delivery of said negro to
 THOMAS BALDWIN.
 Feb. 13.

10 DOLLARS REWARD.

Runaway a negro fellow named ROBERT, belonging to C. Schaw—Near 6 feet high, black and sleek, well made and erect and very plausible. He is probably about Wilmington, or it not, may be harbored at or near the plantation of the late Mr. Merrick, on the Sound. Ten dollars reward will be given to any person who will apprehend the said runaway, deliver him to the subscriber or lodge him in some jail.
 May 22. A. M. HOOPER.

Ten Dollars Reward.

RUN-AWAY from the subscriber a negro fellow named TONEY, about 30 or 35 years of age, by trade a Ship Carpenter, and from 5 feet 10 inches to 6 feet high, formerly belonging to Mr. John Henderson, deceased. He took with him a grey jacket and blue pair of trousers. As he has a wife at Mr. Hooper's bluff, it is probable he may be lurking about in that neighborhood. All persons and particularly masters of vessels, are warned not to harbour the said runaway or carry him off, as the severest penalties of the law will be enforced against them on proof.
 April 17. tf

TWENTY DOLLARS REWARD.

Run-away from the subscriber about the 1st of November last a negro man named SCIPIO, between 5 feet 10 inches and 6 feet high, of a yellow complexion, impudent in speech, and well known about Wilmington. I will give the above reward to whoever will secure him in any jail, so that I may get him again, or I will give one hundred dollars reward to whoever will convict any captain, master or owner of any vessel, who has taken him off, as I am told is the case. I hereby warn all captains, masters and owners of vessels or others from harboring or taking him out of the state or employing him in any way.
 W. F. STRUDWICK.

NOTICE.
