coked at, and dropp ed againi.....otbets were treated in the fame Manner.

It was but a Trifle and not worth ftaying for ; but I could not tell her fo. That would lave been beating a Retreat, and to beat a Retreat, when the oppofite party beats to Arms, is an Inftance ot bad Genera!!hip in a toldier, and it is not lefs cenfurable in a Lova r......widely as Loce and War leem to differ, there is a greater Aiffinity between them than the Callous imagine, or thole, who have nee"ver read the Amours of Venus and Mars, are acquainted with; (Ludicrous as that ftory is, yet, ye Men of Gallantry, it teaches a Leffon worthy of your Notice.....Secresy lecigktens the Feaft, but the fulpicious old Vulcan, with his invifible Net, foured theirs.) a quick appreher:ion, and a Premptnets to impruve cepportunities, are as effential to a Lover as to a Ge-- weral, and even that Tendernels, which no Man engaged in the delishtful Wartare of I ove fhould ever be with fer properly tempered will never be deente a Blot in the Ef. cutcheon of a Cancidate for martial Fame.....

But whither, vagrant Pen, art Thou going! Not, I hope, inte, Honoria's Chamber, to protane her Joys, or to wound her Peace........Forgeting the lovely Brunetre, thou haft artempted a Subject, which; ho vever agreeable it is to the Heart, has puzzled and contounded more and better Heads than mine, and is foreign to my Purpofes tor, though boih lufceptible of the tender Paffions, yet neither of us had Conqueft in our View.
We had never feen each other before, and perhaps never would again. She appeared very ayrireeable to Me, and I, of Courte, wifhed to make myfelt to to her..... There was but a Moment for it; fo taking time, for once, by the Forelock, I endeavored to model a Convertation for that Purpofe.

I ne:ver practice Relerve, unlefs with the Relervad, and but fometimes then. It has fomething luficious and ungenerous in ir, therefore 1 hate i .......She was of the fame Opinion, yer fhe Arialy obferved all that Punctifio which Decency enjuins the Sex.--There vas a Partition, Breaft-high, between us, and tise upper part of it, folded outwards, kept me at a dilagreeable diftance; yet before the little Moment had elapled, we got better acquainted than two phlegmatic Souls would have done in fifty different tete a tetes, with neither Partitions nor iDoors between them.

Whether it was Defign, Inftinct or Accident, I know not ; but as I attempted to take the Money out of her Hand, my Fingers touehed sers...-There is lomething of electrical Magit in thefe Touches, but their fhucks are infinitely more in Unifon with Nature.---.....----My Heart felt this, and was io plealed, with it, that I could not recall Hiyy Hand, had the Indies been tho Lure, without giving hers a gentle Preffure.-.Our Eyes meeting, at that Inftent, explained; in one Morient; all the different Movements of our Hearts $\}$ and when She withdrew her Hand from mine, a mutual Sigh, at their Separation; confirmed the Intelligence of our Eyes

> (to be continued.)

JOHN McDONNELL takes this method to acquaint his friends and the public, that he has juft opened an affortment of goods fuitable for the prefent and approaching feałon, conlifting of W HITE blue and green plains; common and very fine oznabrigs, Irifh brown holland, and fheeting do. ticklingburghs; portabella flannel, duffil blankers of a good width and quality, plain ftrip'd and figur'd calimancoes, mens and womens thread hofe, fine India chints, printed linnen, and corton gown patterns, neweft fafhion'd filk hats; mits; figur'd and plain ribbands, mens beaver carolina and felt hats, do faddles, ladlery and hardware, broad hoes and falling axes ; all which, he will fell cxtraordinary cheap for cafh or ready pay in merchantable produce, his friends may have the tufual thort credit if demanded; As he finds encouragement from the public in the linnen branch; he means to always keep up a well afforted Irifh linnen ware-houfe, where any perfon may buy in the whole-fale way nearly as cheap as can be imported from England.
N. B. Said Mc Donnell has alfo for fale, e few hogheads of melaffes weft-India fucars and Jamaica rum, which he will fell vor? low by the hogfinead or barrel.
tbcuf: Wilmington Nov. 1770:

To be SOLD, by the fubfcriber cheap for cafh or produce;

RUM, fugar, cznabrigs, checks, falt; linnens, broad-cloth, blue and white negro cloth, &rc. &ec. ALSO, will be expoled for fale on the 3 oth inftant, eight or ten negroes, all uled to country work; amongit which are two coopers and fone breeding wenches; the terms will be known at the time of fale........All perfons indebted to me by bond note or book-debt that has been due four months or upwards, are defired to fettle the fame, or they may depend their accounts, &c. will be pat into the hands of an Attorney, if not paid within two months from this date.

RICHARD BRADLEY. tbcuf. Wi/mingtor, Nor. 15 .

WILMINGTON, (Capl-fear) printed for ADAM BOYD:

