

and a sister of the prince, both of whom are possessed of youth and beauty, fought on horse-back in this action with sabres, and encouraged the soldiery both by example and by words.

Cadix, June 5. For the better security of our establishments in America, the court has again demanded three or four officers out of every regiment belonging to the crown, who are to be sent thither with a number of draughts which have been made out of the different corps, as well as out of the eight regiments which form the garrison of this province. All these troops are to be embarked at Alicant, where there head-quarters are fixed. It is also said, that all the Regiments have orders to send the deserters belonging to their respective corps to St. Lucar de Barrameda, where they will be embarked for the said settlements.

Ratisbon, August 2. The Declaration made in the Elector of Bavaria's Name to the Emperor's Envoy at Munich, in answer to the Grievances of the Dyet concerning the Tolls established in that Electorate, which occasion the Dearness of Provisions here, contains in Substance, That his Minister did right in not taking Charge of the Letter written by the Dyet to his Electoral Highness, because it is not customary for the Electors to keep Correspondence with this Assembly; that the Assertion, of new Custom Houses for Tolls being erected in Bavaria, is false; that the Members of the Dyet ought to deliver a List or Bill, specifying what Provisions they may want in the Course of a Year, otherwise they must blame themselves, if they find themselves deprived of the Franchises and treated on a Level with the Burghers.

Upon this Declaration the three Colleges have unanimously resolved to beseech his Imperial Majesty to represent to the Elector, by way of Answer or Reply on their Part, That hitherto the Electors have made no Objection to accepting Letters from the Dyet; that his Highness himself, but a few Years ago, held a Correspondence with this Assembly; and that if a comital Minister refuses to receive Remonstrances from the Dyet, one ought not to think it strange that they should break off all Communication with him; that the Erection of new Tolls in the Electorate is sufficiently proved; that to specify the Quantity of Provisions every Envoy wants, is a Thing impracticable; that the Place where the Dyet resides ought to enjoy the Franchise of Provision-Carriages, and to this Bavaria did agree by a special Compact; that the Ministers cannot in this Respect be distinguished from the City, for if the latter is obliged to pay the new Tolls, its Inhabitants will sell them the Provisions at a high Price; so that the Prejudice will fall on the Ministers only; that, after all, if the Elector will not alter his Resolution, the Dyet will be transferred to another Place.

Riga, July 10. The Empress, who in her Tour has visited the Port of Rogerwick, appeared extremely well satisfied with the Works erecting there, and the Diligence with which they are carried on. The Largeness and Depth of this Port make it capable of receiving all the Russian Fleet. This Circumstance is of very great Importance to Russia, as in Case of Necessity, the Fleet may continue its Operations a greater Length of Time, the icy Season not being of such long Duration at Rogerwick as in the other Ports of Russia, and consequently they can sail out of it much sooner, as well as return there later.

Rome, July 24. We have Numbers of Persons ill here, occasioned by the bad Food they eat during the Dearth; but their Sickness is only a tertian Fever, and very few of those afflicted with it die.

Amsterdam, July 21. Gregory de Joan, a Greek Merchant, who had long been settled in this City, died here lately, aged 110.

Stockholm, July 13. On the 7th of this Month an Equerry from the Empress of Russia brought six fine Horses as a Present to our Queen.

Advices from Cagliari in Sardinia bring, that several Felucca, employed in the Coral Fishery, have been lost in a Storm of Wind.

Paris, July 26. Upon a Supposition that this Court has come to a Resolution to make the Bond Creditors upon Canada take 75l. in the 100 l. and to convert the remaining 25 l. into Annuities at Four per Cent. these Creditors, both French and Foreigners, propose to make Remonstrances in order to induce the Court to change its Resolutions, or at least to obtain some Indemnity to make Amends for so considerable a Loss.

July 13. By a letter from Bengal, in the East Indies, dated Dec. 24, 1763, we learn that major Adams, who was then with his army on the banks of the river Carmanassarius, had wrote to Sujah Dowlar, the king of Delha's Vizier, into whose country Cossim Aly Cawn retreated after his
