Louis Ready To Aid Dad When He Gets Proof

Detroit, June 30 — (ANP) — Joe Louis, world's heavy weight boxing champion who grew up thinking his father was dead, declared Friday he stands ready to give financial aid to an inmate of the state asylum who claims to be his "dad" if he gets the proof.

The new champion made this statement while resting at the home of his mother, Mrs. Lily Brooks, after daily papers carried news articles Thursday stating that his father was incarcerated in an institution for the mentally deficient.

"I always thought he was dead said the Brown Bomber. "I never saw him, and my mother also believed him dead. I'm sending someone down there now to check, and if he is my father, I'm certainly going to help him."

The mother admitted the 55 year old patient "probably is Joe's father" and repeated Joe's words that "we're going to do all we can for him. He's been missing all these years, and I was positive, he was dead. I have not heard from him in 22 years." Word came from the state asylum at Mount Vernon, Ala., that a "Monroe Barrow" had been a patient there since 1915 or one year after Joe's birth. The sheriff said he had tried to escape several times but was always captured and returned. The official added he was well acquainted with the Barrow family background and was positive Monroe Barrow is the fighter's father.

Dr. E. L. McCafferty, head of the asylum has asked the champion to contribute to his father's support.
