DR. FRANCIS J. GRIMKE, AN EXEMPLAR OF THE COLLEGE
BRED NEGRO

On Thursday, October 14, I served as honorary pall-bearer to lay to rest the mortal remains of my esteemed friend, Dr. Francis J. Grimke, a graduate of Lincoln University in the class of 1876.
The chief eulogy was delivered by Dr. Walter H. Brooks, his classmate, intimate friend, and fellow pastor in the city of Washington for more than fifty years.
The Lincoln University class of 1876 was the first regular college class to be graduated from any Negro college or university in the U. S., or, for that matter, in the world. Of that class Honorable Solomon P. Hoop, ex-minister to Liberia, Honorable Thomas Miller, ex-member of Congress from South Carolina, and Rev.
Dr. Walter H. Brooks, for 55 years pastor of the 19th Street Baptist Church, Washington, D.
C. survive their classmate, Francis J. Grimke, Lincoln University might well be proud of these 4 octogenarian alumni.

I regard Dr. Francis J. Grimke as the embodiment and exemplar of the value and power of liberal culture and a justification of the higher education of the Negro.
Wisdom is justified of her children. Immediately upon graduation from Princeton Theological Seminary, he was called to the pastorate of the 15th Street Presbyterian Church, where for fifty-eight years, barring a brief period when he repaired to the pastorate in Jacksonville, Florida, for reasons of health, he has stood in this pulpit at the national capital, and proclaimed to all the people the exaltation of righteousness with the uncompromising directness of a Hebrew prophet. "Righteousness exalteth a nation and sin is a reproach to any people," was a never failing refrain which he played upon one clear harp in diverse tones.

years, a training which lasted from one to three years and was made possible by the General Education Board with the co-operation of the University of Chicago, members of whose medical staff serve as consultants on all the Provident Hospital service.

"During the past year, there were 18,788 individuals treated in the clinics and a total of 84,329 visits were made. If we add these visits the 4,798 emergency cases, there is a total of 20,586 patients and 93,127 patient visits. A total of 54,444 prescriptions were dispensed to clinic patients and 3,576 to hospital patients. The Social Service Department procured 731 pairs of eye glasses, 403 braces and surgical appliances, and a large number of pairs of shoes.

"During the year 1936, nearly 3,000 patients were admitted to the hospital for a total of 30-823 patient days. Over 7,000 X-ray examinations were made, 26, 000 laboratory examinations were done, and over 180,000 meals were served. The total cost of hospital services for the year 1935 was $172,000. This, when added to the total cost of operating the clinic ($72,040), makes an operating budget of $244,000 for the year. The total actual income from private patients was about $60,000. The bulk of the additional income for patients' care was derived from the Ill-Emergency Relief Commission, Community Chest Fund, General Education Board donations administered through the University of Chicago, the Public Health Institute, and individual donations. But even with these sources of income, the hospital had to spend over $60,000 from its capital funds in order to make up the remaining portion of the operating deficit.

It was in an atmosphere of utter sincerity and true southern cordiality that Mrs. Bettie De-Bose and Mrs. Bernice Williams, mother and sister respectively of Mrs. J. A. Valentine, and Lauline Beeckwith were entertained at a tea given in their honor.

The hostesses were beautifully attired. Mrs. Chas. Shepard was gowned in black and white (marquette over flowered taffeta, red-dingote style) Mrs. Lillian Buchanan regally attired in black moire taffeta splashed with gold with long sleeved form-fitting jacket and Mrs. Charity Rivera daintily gowned in pea green lact with bolero jacket.

The table was well appointed following the common color scheme of pastel shades of green pink and yellow against silver.

Presiding at the coffee urn was Mrs. Chas. Shepard, while at the farther end of the table was Miss Evelyn Vidal presiding at the tea urn. A background of music was furnished by Miss Rosa M. Withers at the pianoforte.

The guests were met at the door by Mrs. Lillian Buchanan and Charity Rivera.

The guests were as follows:
