LAUNCH DRIVE FOR LIVINGSTONE RALEIGH PASTOR SUED

Street Parade And Game Outstanding Feature Of Saturday's Activities

With preparations completed for welcoming 2000 alumni and other visitors, this campus is filled with excitement. The school colors of maroon and gray are to be seen on every hand. For the convenience of visitors, pointers indicating the different buildings have been set up. The fraternities and clubs of the campus, acting under the direction of Katie Kelly, instructor of the Physical Education, have taken over the decoration of buildings and grounds.

The spectacular homecoming parade, which leaves the college campus at 10:30 Saturday morning, will traverse this line of march: down Fayetteville to Umstead; out Umstead to Pine; down pine to Pettigrew; across Pettigrew to Fayetteville; thence back to the campus. In addition to floats prepared by campus organizations, individuals and firms throughout the city have furnished floats or decorated cars. Music will be furnished by the Drum and Bugle Corps of Raleigh, and the College Band. The Boy Scouts, under the direction of M. Pendarvis, will take part in the parade.

A feature of the homecoming game, which will be played in College Park, beginning at two o'clock between North Carolina College for Negroes and Virginia Union University, will be the crowning of Miss N. C. N. The Queen, Ophelia Watson, was chosen by acclamation in a recent student election.

Durham Institution Celebrates Homecoming November 6

Saturday at 2:30 the Panthers of Virginia Union will invade the stronghold of the North Carolina Eagles. They come equipped with three good weapons; weight, experience, and a fighting spirit. As to weight they average slightly more than the Eagles. As to experience, they are a team which has met some of the strongest teams of the C. I. A. A. and has been kept together as a unit for the last two or three years. Their fighting spirit is evidenced by their having held last year's Champions, Virginia State, to a 12-7 score and their holding the mighty Morgan eleven to a bare last-minute victory.

The Eagles will be ready, willing and able to fight Union to the last. They are anxious to "take their bitterness out" (over last week's game with Shaw) on the Panthers. Last week, for the first time of the season, the Coaching staff felt gladdened over the offensive and defensive play of their men. When this machine starts rolling Saturday the Union boys are likely to find the Eagles on the big end of the score when the final gun sounds. Those who probably will start for the Carolina team in this bound-to-be-terrific game are as follows:

- Alex Alston Right End
- "Steve" Thomas Right Tackle
- Emmett McCullough Left Tackle
- James Holden Right Guard
- H. Pope Left Guard
- Dave Thomas Left Guard
- "Willie" Payne Quarter Back
- "Train" Hutchins Full Back
- "Buddy" Stroud Half Back
- H. Alston Half Back
- Joe Hill Half Back
- Lawrence Lightner Center

HOME COMING QUEEN

Miss Othelia Watson, cute and selected by the students of N. C. College as Miss North Carolina College.

GRADUATE MANAGER

James T. Taylor, graduate Manager of Athletics; general secretary of the Alumni Association.

A. Heningburg Makes Address To Teachers

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn.—ALPHONSO HENINGBURG, President of the American Teachers Association, and Assistant to the President of North Carolina College for Negroes, addressed the East Tennessee State Teachers Association here Friday night. October 29. The speaker outlined 3 plans of procedure for the program of the Tennessee teachers during the present year; first the intelligent management of our economic resources; second making available to boys and girls in our high schools particularly such information and assistance as will be of most service to them in earning a living; 3rd, a challenge to the teachers for a program of preparation for citizenship. Relative to this question of citizenship, the speaker said, "We need last and always to teach our children that this country is their country; that on its battlefields their fathers have fought and died; that the walls of the buildings in this city of Chattanooga symbolize the bent backs and the horny hands of the Negro laborers; that the smiling fields of this great Southland have plowed and tilled for more than fifty years by our brothers and our sisters; our mothers and our fathers and their mothers and fathers before them. We must first, I say, convince ourselves of our rightness in this thing; then, confident in the justice and the wisdom of our position, make sure that we lose no time; that there slips from us no opportunity to carry forward this battle for complete citizenship in this our country."

LINDSEY FAUCETTE TO CELEBRATE HIS 83RD BIRTHDAY

LINDSEY FAUCETTE, who in a few days will celebrate his eighty-third birthday. Mr. Faucette has the distinction of being the only business man in Durham to operate a business with the same firm name for fifty-six years. He is engaged in the baggage transfer business.

Mr. Faucette says his mother lived to be over ninety-five years of age, and in her one room home White Rock Baptist Church was organized. He, also, states that John Merrick and John Wright boarded with his mother when they first came to Durham.

He has lived in Durham County all of his life, and has the respect and confidence of both races and all classes of people. When he began the transfer business, he received only ten cents per load, an often loaded his truck with several trunks, took them to Trinity College, fifty years ago.

Mr. Faucette is a life-long member and deacon of the White Rock Baptist Church, and is very enthusiastic and proud of his church and community. He was a close friend of John Merrick and Dr. A. M. Moore, founders of the North Carolina Mutual Life Insurance Company. He says he and Mr. Merrick went to school long enough to learn addition, but left before subtraction was taught. Mr. Faucette says: "I am a firm believer in Durham's Negro business institutions, and the founders of N. C. Mutual left a heritage in Durham that every Negro should seek to perpetuate. I feel it an honor to wear these gray hairs, because few people live to grow them." Then, sentimentally, he said, "It takes brains to grow gray hairs."

Mr. Faucette should be an example to every young man who is seeking an opportunity to develop business.

NORTH CAROLINA COLLEGE TO SPONSOR PEACE MOVEMENT

The YWCA and YWCA of N. C. College are planning to sponsor a Peace Movement Program which will not only cover their campus, but the city of Durham as well. There is to be a series of programs. Arrangements are now being made for the first program which will be given on Armistice Day. Watch the time for the announcement.

Miss Combs of Atlanta, Ga. has recently been on the campus of North Carolina College in connection with the National Peace Movement.

Pres. Shepard Honored By Students

Before many Durham residents had started about their work on the day, students of North Carolina College for Negroes had begun their celebration of the birthday of Dr. Shepard, their President, Friday morning. Men and women students, preceded by the college band, began their march to the President's home. After the enthusiastic singing of "Happy Birthday To You," the visitors, whose number by now included practically all of the faculty, sang "There is a Balm in Gilead," one of the most inspiring of the Negro spirituals. "Go Ring Them Bells on N. C. Campus," a stirring football song, closed this early morning serenade.

At the weekly forum, a voluntary chapel hour directed by and for students, and held each Wednesday at noon, each class president brought greetings from his group. Tokens of appreciation were presented by the Home Economics Club to the President, and by the entire student body to both Dr. Shepard and his wife. The President's mother was a happy spectator during the forum ceremony. Requested by Melvin Sikes, President of the Student Council, to say a word, Dr. Shepard told how greatly he had been

Dr. O. S. Bullock Charged With Illicit Relations

(Special to The Carolina Times) RALEIGH, N. C.—Rev. J. E. Marks, through his attorney, has charged Dr. O. S. Bullock, pastor of the First Baptist church here, with the alienation of his wife's affection and is asking $20,000 damages.

Rev. Marks was for several years assistant pastor of the First Church, and his wife, Mrs. Sarah Brown Marks, is Supt. of the Junior Department of the Church School. Both Rev. and Mr. Marks are graduates of Shaw University. Rev. Marks beside his pastoral work is a teacher in a rural school. Mrs. Marks was for a number of years a teacher in the State Blind School and is now active in church and social life.

Dr. Bullock broke the news of the proposed suit Sunday in a call meeting of the church. He stated he received a letter from Mr. Mark's attorney bidding him to come to his office, whereupon he was informed of the suit, but told that the suit would be settled out of court for $2000.

The members of the church gave Dr. Bullock a vote of confidence and exonerated him of all guilt. They also turned out of the church Rev. Mr. Marks.

In his charge, Rev. Mr. Marks alleges that Dr. Bullock invaded his home on South Blount St., committed illicit relations with his wife, and that he (Rev. Marks) caught Mr. Bullock in the very act.

The alleged date of the crime goes back five years and friends of Dr. Bullock charge that the whole plan is a conspiracy to black mail the popular minister, who is said to have large financial holdings in Raleigh and High Point. They charge that Rev. Mr. Marks is the "cat's paw" of a powerful clique in the church bent the idea of getting rid of Dr. Bullock at any cost.

Several years ago Dr. Bullock was hailed in court by Miss Ella Evans, daughter of the late Rev. Thomas Evans, charged with being the father of her son. The case, which lasted two weeks and drew the largest crowds ever to come to Wake County court, resulted in a mistrial. In the second trial Dr. Bullock was acquitted. Miss Evans alleged that the crime was committed while she was employed as secretary to Dr. Bullock.

Dr. Bullock came to Raleigh fifteen years ago from High Point, and is credit with having improved the physical plant here more than $50,000. He is sixty years old and a graduate of Lincoln University, Pa. He is married and has one daughter, a teacher in the Municipal College, Louisville, Ky.

Salisbury School To Receive Aid From Churches

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The Philadelphia and Baltimore Conference of the 7th Episcopal District of the A.M.E. Zion Church presided over by Bishop C. C. Alleyne, announces plans for the mammoth Livingstone College Campaign drive which begins on November 22, and ends December 15. Headquarters for the Philadelphia and Baltimore Conference has been established at 1420 You Street, N. W.

According to the Rev. E. W. Alsterk, Chairman of the General Committee, a concerted effort is being launched by the Philadelphia and Baltimore Conference, and from all indications $4000.00 will be raised with every member of the A.M.E. Zion Church in this area, together with alumni and friends; working unflinchingly for the success of the effort.

It is to be remembered that the A.M.E. Zion Church has launched a $100,000 Campaign Drive touched by the two demonstrations of the day. "It is my hope," he said, "to remain young with you as long as I possibly can, for I know that in our youth lies the hope of our people." Just before the close of the session, there came from "Father Time" a Western Union messenger, bringing from the venerable master of the hour-glass and the scythe greetings and best wishes for many more happy birthdays.

for Livingstone. It is the aim of the leaders to leave no stone unturned to raise this fund, which will enable the college to again take its place among the leading colleges of the country. The general committee is composed of: Rev. F. W. Alsterk, Chairman; Rev. G. M. Edwards, Vice Chairman; Rev. D. C. Pope, Secretary; Miss Amelie R. Harris, Ass't Secretary; Rev. D. C. Lynch, Corresponding Secretary; Dr. H. J. Callig, Treasurer; Rev. S. G. Spottswood, Chairman Publicity Committee; Dr. H. T. Medford, Chairman Program Committee; Mr. Chas. H. Anderson, Rev. Martin L. Blalock; Dr. A. A. Crooke; Rev. E. N. Drew; Rev. F. D. Douglas; Rev. R. T. Hunter; Mrs. Alice Jackson; Mrs. M. Jones; Rev. W. R. Jones, Rev. Stewart Patterson; Rev. James C. Taylor; Dr. Victor J. Thiam. A committee meeting is scheduled to be held at John Wesley Church 11th and Corcoran Streets, N. W. Washington, November 3, at 8 p. m.

REVIVAL MEETING

Dr. R. W. Underwood, noted pastor and evangelist of Goldsboro will begin a ten days meeting Monday evening November 8, at the Ebenezer Baptist Church on East Gileen Street. Everybody is invited to come and enjoy this "Gospel Feast".
