JBH—Would it be wise for me to keep the business up that I am in or rest up for a while. Also have I been deceived by the girl that I am in love with?

Ans: You do need a rest but right now is not a good time to try to get it—continue with this business. No—you haven't been deceived by the girl you are with—you will find this out in a short time.

KRW—Should I quit the job that I am on and do as I have in mind and would I be successful?

Ans: Wait just a few more weeks before making up your mind—definitely. You should not be too hasty in making up your mind—for the other thing you have in view does not appear to be the best business venture.

OD—Do I love this old married man I have been going around with?

Ans: Absolutely not—and you just don't realize what good times you are missing by associating with him. You scare the single boys off when you run with married men. This party does not care anything for you and it would be to your advantage to give him up altogether.

PW—Will I be successful in making the trip that I have in mind?

Ans: Yes—and things will turn out just as good or better than you now expect. You have nothing whatever to fear.

CL—What do Willie mean acting like he has lately? What should I do now?

Ans: You should stop writing to him—for he is trying to show you that he isn't the least bit concerned about your affairs any longer. Willie is going to enjoy life for the next few years and does not want to be tired down to anyone.

WE—Have been reading your column and thoroughly enjoy it. Will I get either of the jobs I have in mind?

Ans: Go right after the job that you inquired about some three or four weeks ago—for it seems to me that this is the one you will get and be more pleased with.

LSF—Is it for me to go north and I would like to know if my side will get better?

Ans: Remain in the south this winter—you couldn't possibly do any better in the north than you are doing right now. See a doctor about the pain you are having immediately.

PWC—I am planning to take the county examination and wonder if I need worry seriously about passing?

Ans: No—you shouldn't although you must realize that it is going to be "rather catchy." If you have mastered your

NAACP Joins Protest On N. Y. Hospital Head

NEW YORK, Dec. 24.—Protests are flooding Mayor LaGuardia from numerous organizations and individuals in Harlem who have been infuriated by the statements of Dr. S. S. Goldwater, commissioner of hospitals, which imply that all Negro doctors, internes and nurses are inferior to whites.

Dr. Goldwater's statements were made in testimony before a commission authorized by the state assembly to investigate urban conditions among the colored population of the state.

In his testimony on December 18, Goldwater asserted that Negro medical people came mostly from inferior schools and, therefore, were not accepted on the same basis as white students. He also declared that Negro nurses were less competent than white nurses, and that it took more of them to man a given hospital than it did white nurses or a mixed group of nurses.

Demands for the ousting of Dr. Goldwater as hospital commissioner have been raising upon Mayor LaGuardia on the ground course thoroughly you won't have anything to fear. You will get during the year, of 1938.

I Wish My Readers And Friends A Very Happy Holiday Season And A Prosperous New Year

that most of Dr. Goldwater's statements are untrue, or only partially true, that they were made deliberately to disparage Negro professional men and women, that Dr. Goldwater has stubbornly maintained a bar against the admission of Negro internes and nurses to most of the N. Y. city hospitals, and that competent Negro applicants with the same or better qualifications and preparations as white students have been systematically denied opportunity by Dr. Goldwater's policy.

The protests maintain that in a metropolitan city such as New York, the head of a great department of the city government should not be prejudiced against any race or color.

Several of the protests have cited the fact that Negro graduates of some of the medical schools which Dr. Goldwater calls inferior have passed with the highest marks in some subjects in taking the state medical examination.

Numerous groups were represented in a delegation which protested personally to Mayor LaGuardia December 22. The NAACP was represented by Thurgood Marshall, assistant special counsel, but when Mayor LaGuardia in a sharp exchange with the delegation gave a plain indication by his remarks that he "would talk the matter over with Walter White," Mr. White immediately dispatched a telegram to the Mayor backing up the protest without reservation and calling for the ousting of Commissioner Goldwater.

"I wish to advise that I endorse without reservation the protest of the committee," the telegram stated. "Through-out his administration as commissioner of hospitals, and in all our dealings courage and with a distinctly disparaging attitude toward Negroes generally and Negro doctors and nurses in particular. For these reasons, we are convinced that his re-appointment as hospital commissioner would be a grievous mistake."

The NAACP points out that it has been opposing Commissioner Goldwater's policy of discrimination and exclusion for many years and that it has handled many cases of protest from applicants, nurses, doctors and internes who have tried to secure their rights in the municipal hospital system here. On one occasion, the NAACP reports, a certain hospital refused to accept a colored girl in its nurses training school on the ground that white girls in the school who came here from southern states would be offended if the colored girl were admitted. The office of Commissioner Goldwater preferred to cater to the prejudices of the out of state southern student nurses rather than give opportunity to colored New Yorkers who are helping to pay taxes to keep up the hospitals.

The Fayetteville State Teachers College begins this year to move up to a four-year institution. As a consequence, there will not be a senior class until the year '38-'39. The first graduating class under the four-year curriculum is expected to come out in the year 1938-'39. The large number of students which have come in the second quarter of this year is evidence that the students appreciate the opportunity of the better preparation a four-year institution gives.

Borah Would Cut Heart From Anti-Lynching Bill

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24. The latest development in the fight for enactment of the anti-lynching bill is an amendment introduced by Senator William E. Borah, of Idaho, proposing to strike out the entire section 5 of the Gavagan-Wagner-Van Nuys anti-lynching bill, H. R. 1507.

Section 5 is the heart of the bill, without which it will be of no value. Section 5 provides for damages of from $2,000 to $10,000 to be recovered from a county in which a lynching occurs by the surviving kin of the victim of the mob. Under the section, suit may be brought in the federal court to recover these liability damages.

In taking the lead to strike out this section and thereby completely emasculate the anti-lynching bill, Senator Borah is maintaining his perfect record of fighting anti-lynching legislation. Senator Borah always has opposed the anti-lynching bill and gave his assistance in each of the filibusters against it.

Section 5 of the bill, the so-called penalty clause against the county, is regarded as being the only guarantee in the bill that counties and communities will be spurred to act to prevent lynchings and punish lynchings. Without this section, lynchings may well continue on the same scale as at present with the so-called "good citizens" of the county unconcerned about enforcement of the law because non-enforcement will not affect them one way or the other.

With the penalty clause, the responsible citizens of the community will bestir themselves to see that law enforcement officers perform their duties and prevent possible liability suits against the county.

This amendment offered by Senator Borah constitutes the greatest menace to effective anti-lynching legislation. It must be opposed vigorously, and all citizens are urged to write their senators prior to January 4 urging them to resist any attempt to amend the anti-lynching bill.

After a short but sharp discussion in the Senate on December 20, unanimous consent was given to Senator Barley's request that the anti-lynching bill be called up in the Senate on Thursday, January 6. Senator Tom Connally of Texas made rapping remarks and objections, complaining that he had not been consulted on the setting of the date.

Senator Connally stated: "We realize that we cannot postpone action on the anti-lynching bill forever," but in the next breath he intimated very strongly that he intended to filibuster against the bill by saying: "We shall be here in January and we may be here a good long while in Jan., too."

Senator Connally said that he was supposed to go on a mission to Puerto Rico with a subcommittee of the Senate and he had not expected to return until the tenth of January, but he would change his plans and certainly return by January 6.

MISS. BOSS SOLVES LABOR PROBLEMS BY WHIPPING

ORGANIZERS

JACKSON, Miss., Dec. 24.—Jack Beasley, president and sole owner of the Jackson-Packing Company here, which employs many Negroes at low wages, has invented his own personal system of keeping the workers from organizing for better hours and pay.

His system is to "take a club and beat the hell out of a couple of Negroes."

The Beasley system is reported as follows: "Several attempts have been made by groups, mostly Negroes, to organize common labor unions and demand higher wages. When such an occasion arises, Mr. Beasley said, 'I take a club and beat the hell out of a couple of Negroes and conditions immediately settle back to normal.' He stated that these incidents occur about every two months. His method of affecting a settlement, although not conciliatory by nature, is quite effective. He has some Negro workers who act as spies among the plant personnel, and who are constantly on the lookout for some attempt among the workers to organize in order to raise the wage rate.

When one of these men puts the "bee" on a so-called organizer—Presto, Mr. Beasley gives him the works. He boasted of the fact that not one of them has ever been on relief. He thinks that all labor unions and strike organizers, white or colored, should be run out of town, and from his general attitude, I think that he would always be volunteer No. 1 to see that such measures were carried out."

"God is ready and willing to work, if we are ready and willing to let Him, and to be used by Him." —D. L. Moody.
