ED—I want to know if my husband and I will ever go together again and which of the boys that I go with now really cares for me?

Ans: All the love between you and your husband is dead and there is no use to continue to worry him. The fellows you are going around with now like you—but they are not searching for a wife. It will be a couple of years before you marry again.

JOH—Will I be successful in finding a job anytime soon?

Ans: Indeed you will but you

WMC—Tell me if my husband and I will ever get out of debt again and also would like to know if this boy I am fooling around with means me any good?

Ans: If you expect to get out of debt you must attend strictly to your household duties and leave off the boy friends. You cannot give your husband the cooperation with your mind on someone else. If you strive hard you can get out of debt this year.

RC—Would it be advisable for me to take the job that my brother has written to me about?

Ans: Without a doubt it would prove one of the best steps that you have taken in a number of years. The job will prove a permanent one—and at your age—this is one of the most important things for you to bear in mind.

GMC—The young man that I have in mind will he marry me?

Ans: No—and he isn't going to marry you at all. Go out with other fellows in and around your city and don't give him all of your time.

PW—I have made plans for nearly a year to take a trip during this month of January and am wondering if this would be a good time to go or should I wait until summer?

Ans: Why wait—no time is as good as the present to get away a few weeks and enjoy yourself. You have the money—and the month of January away from your work—so by all means go ahead and carry out these plans.

FG—The wife and me are separated and I wonder if it would be better to live with her again

FLOOD GETS $3,600 HARLEM HOUSING POST

NEW YORK—(C)—Roger W. Flood, co-manager of the Paul Laurence Dunbar apartments, 2694 Seventh avenue, was named manager of the Harlem River PWA houses, 192d street and Seventh avenue, Monday, succeeding Franklin O. Nichols, appointed last July and fired on November 23, allegedly because of "inefficiency." Mr. Flood, native of Roanoke, Va., studied architecture at Carnegie Institute of Technology, Pittsburgh, and at New York university. He will be required to take a Civil Service examination to qualify for the job, which pays $3,600 a year, but took over the new post on January 1.

HINT ROMANCE BETWEEN H. T. DEANEY AND MARIAN ANDERSON

NEW YORK—(C)—Because Tax Commissioner Hubert T. Deaneley boarded a cutter and went up the bay to meet Marian Anderson, internationally famous contralto, when she came in on the Normandie last Thursday, a romance was hinted by friends between the two, but the Commissioner explained his act by saying he is Miss Anderson lawyer, and he went out to discuss "business" with her.

Ans: Don't make a change right away. If you and she can't get together and both admit your mistakes then it is likely that the affair could be patched up satisfactorily.

DRIVE MOBILIZED FOR ANTI-LYNCHING BILL

Debate on Measure Scheduled For January 6 With Passage Certain If Forces Supporting Bill Carry On Demand Without Compromise. Every Pressure Needed

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 5—Supporters of federal anti-lynching legislation mobilized their forces today for a final drive for passage of the Gavan-Wagner-Van Nuys bill which comes to the floor of the Senate January 6.

While Washington observers are practically unanimous in agreeing that the bill will be passed if it can be got to a vote, they are also predicting that there will be a stubborn resistance and that the supports of the measure cannot relax for one instant until the vote is taken.

More than 70 senators at one time or another have either pledged in writing to vote for the bill or indicated unmistakably in polls and other ways that they were in favor of it. However, there is always possibility that southern senators will filibuster against the bill and it is known that many attempts will be made to amend it so as to take the teeth out of it.

Senator William E. Borah of Idaho already has introduced an amendment to strike out section five of the bill, which is the heart of the measure, providing for a penalty against counties where lynchings occur. It is expected that a stiff fight will be made to have this amendment adopted and every possible pressure must be exerted upon senators by the voters back home to keep them firmly in line against any amendment, and especially against this amendment.

In New York, on December 29, representatives of eight national organizations met at the office of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People to plan the final strategy for the arousing of their memberships for the drive for enactment. Organizations represented besides the NAACP were the Federal Council of Churches, The American Civil Liberties Union, the Society of Congregational and Christian Women of New York State, The Interdenominational Ministers Conference, National Urban League, Council for Social Action, and the Young Women's Christian Association. Also represented was the International Review, Official monthly magazine of the Negro Catholics of America.

The Conference agreed: (1) Have telegrams sent to senators from their local branches urging them to stand pat against any amendments and to vote for the bill.

(2) To instruct their membership that any legislative jam caused by a filibuster will be the responsibility of the opponents of the bill, since the supporters of the bill are ready to vote at any time; that rape is not the cause of lynchings, being charged in only one-sixth of the cases; that the county penalty clause is not a tax upon the innocent, but a preventive for lynchings and that it is contained in mob violence statutes in twenty-three states; that the decrease in lynchings has been caused primarily by the increased agitation for a federal anti-lynching bill; and that in 1937 the law enforcement officials have shown 100 per cent inability or willingness to do anything to punish lynchings since there has not been a single arrest.

All organizations and their members are urged to keep in constant touch with their senators on the bill by letter and telegraph and to watch the debate daily.

12,168 HAITIANS SLAIN SAYS ENVOY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27—(CN A)—Minister Elie Lescoz of Haiti estimated this week on the basis of refugees' reports, that 12,168 Haitians had been killed in the Republic since early Oct. He issued a statement shortly after a letter from Bishop J. M. Jan of Cap Haitien was made public here. Bishop Jan declared that nameless savageries had been inflicted on Haitians who had moved across the Dominican border in search of work.

Refugees told him, the bishop wrote to the archbishop of Port-au-Prince, that Haitians had been "thrown, group by group into the sea—food for sharks—or led into the woods near the city of (Monte Christi) to be massacred."

Leacon's revelations were made as President Roosevelt and the Dominican dictator Rafael L. Trujillo, completed arrangements for negotiations for a peaceful settlement of the difficulties by arbitration invoked by the Haitian Government under the Gondre Treaty of 1923. A five-

LIBERALS ORGANIZE TO HELP LABOR

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27—(CN A)—Based on the inalienable rights of labor to organize freely and bargain collectively, the American Association for Economic Freedom was created here this week by 168 prominent persons of variant political and religious beliefs.

The association roundly denounced so-called law and order committees whose objectives were to disrupt unionization of employes. It characterized their activities as "un-American." The formation of these groups was attributed to "our failure to adjust our traditional democratic principles to changing economic conditions."

member international committee will investigate.

Trujillo, accused by refugees as having personally directed the massacres, had previously rejected the Haitian proposal for an investigation.

FOUR WAITERS MURDER IN TRAIN CRASH

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 5—(CN A)—Eleven men narrowly escaped serious injury and possible death, when the locomotive and tender of a Pennsylvania mill train plunged into the street from a fifty-foot embankment.

The men, four of whom were badly injured, are employed as waiters by the railroad company, and were the only passengers on the train, were riding in one of the dining cars which left the rails with five other cars. The waiters, all residents of New York City, were given emergency hospital treatment and released.

The injured are: Elias Cohen, 2 W. 139th St., New York City; R. M. Elzey, 2572 Eighth Ave., New York City; Jeff Harris, 174 W. 141st St., New York; Robert Corbin, 70 Lenox Ave., New York City.
