Big Blue Contest Trojans Team

PETERSBURG, Va. — When Coach James Roland's Bluefield aggregation move in here Friday night for their game with the Va. State Trojans on Saturday, Oct. 5, they will find the Trojan camp pretty well primed for the battle. The Roland coached machine will be making the first formal protest against the Trojan's bid for a third term as CIAA football champions.

After three days of strenuous scrimmage during the first of the week, Coach Jefferson and assistants Moore and Verdell are tapering the Trojan machine down to a fine point. Although there hasn't been much tuition evident in the student body over the opener with Bluefield, there has been unusual interest this week in practice sessions of the squad. Although the question as to whether or not the Trojans can successfully defend their crown for a third time is a debatable issue on the campus, the odds have been shifting in favor of the local team with the discovery of several good prospects in the freshman squad.

Edward Bolden, 155 pound half back from Montgomery, W. Va.,

is almost a cinch to see action in the Bluefield game. His ball carrying against Petersburg Peabody high school school last week was one of the highlights of the game. Other additions to the Trojan camp of 1940 who probably will see action Saturday against Bluefield are George Freeman, a six foot half back weighing 185 lbs. from White Plains, N. Y.; Leroy McAllister, a recruit from Armstrong high school in Richmond, who is working hard at the guard post, and Victor Kerr, a Boston lad, standing over six feet and weighing 191 pounds and out for an end position.

Subject to change, the Virginia State Trojan line-up for the starting whistle will be George Burney and Coppin Cartwright at ends; Captain Don Harris and Theo. McCain at the tackle posts; William Bennett and Charlie Williams at guard; Fred Kersey at center; Willie Hurst and Kenneth Whitlock at the half back positions; Phil Medley at quarter, and Bob Glasker at the full back post.

ADS—I would appreciate an answer right away. I wish to know if I will get my old job back?

Ans: Not a chance . . . when you were let off it was a permanent change. Don't waste any more of your time waiting to get back on this job, but get out and hunt work elsewhere. Register at the agencies and you will get work sooner.

EJM—This boy I am going with says he wants us to get married as soon as I finish school and I want to know if I should or not?

Ans: Well . . . there is no need of worrying your brain about it now . . . for you have eight more months of school. I do think that you should take into consideration that you might not marry him and not allow him too much of your time for he is inclined to talk of marriage in order to get his way. Don't be fooled by him.

HB—I have been in business for 3 years and no one ever made the flop that I have. Is there anything that I could do to make enough to eat?

Ans: Get out of the tailoring business before you starve to death. Try to sell your equipment. It is my suggestion that you take a course in barbering if you want to run your own little business . . . you certainly would make more at this than you have made tailoring.

EJ—Answer me please and tell me if it would be wise for my husband and I to start housekeeping. Can I get my Astrology Reading now?

Ans: I certainly do advise that you go back to housekeeping for you can't be happy long at a time living as you are now. You need to be alone. Yes, you may send for my Astrology Reading. Send a quarter along with your full name, correct birthdate and address and I will send same, also my Lucky Day Chart.

BJT—This man promised to get a coat before the cold weather and I want to know whether to depend on him or not?

Ans: If you get a coat sister—you will have to buy it. This man is going to put you off indefinitely. I suggest that you get your old coat out and fix it up a bit to begin the season with. It will be Xmas before you can buy one.

EM—My boy friend used to come to see me three times a week but now he only comes once and sometimes not at all. Is it anything I have done?

Ans: No . . . nothing at all. Another young lady has appeared on the scene and here of late she seems to be taking up all of his extra time. It is my suggestion that you get you another fellow and give him something to worry about. He still likes you but he is falling fast for this other gal.

HBX—College isn't what I thought it would be. Tell me if I can expect a change and will I ever feel at home?

Ans: Oh yes. As soon as you become accustomed to it you will feel differently. It is my suggestion that you take an active interest in all sports there at school. You are smart enough to devote your spare time to sports and it won't interfere with your studies. The majority of girls feel the same as you do, but they buckle down to work and don't worry.

AA—Tell me if I would do good in my kind of business in this particular location?

Ans: Yes — but not as good as you have done elsewhere in the past. Try it for a few months anyway.

NORTHWESTERN SPORTS SENIOR END, SOPH. BACK EVANSTON, Ill. — Two Negroes will wear the Purple and white of Northwestern university this football season, Jim Smith, senior left end, and Danny Williams, sophomore right half. Smith is starting his final year at the flank post while Williams who has looked good in practice is being spoken of as another Bernie Jefferson.

Holds Bout For White Champs

JERSEY CITY, N. J. — Mayor

Frank Hague, chief supporter of President Roosevelt for a third term, does not want to recognize Joe Louis as heavyweight boxing champion of the world.

So Thursday night he staged "A Bout for the World's WHITE Heavyweight Championship" here between Maxie Baer and Pat Coniskey.

The fight was built up here by its promoters, backed by Hague and the publicity for the fight frequently repeated the theme that it was a WHITE championship only.

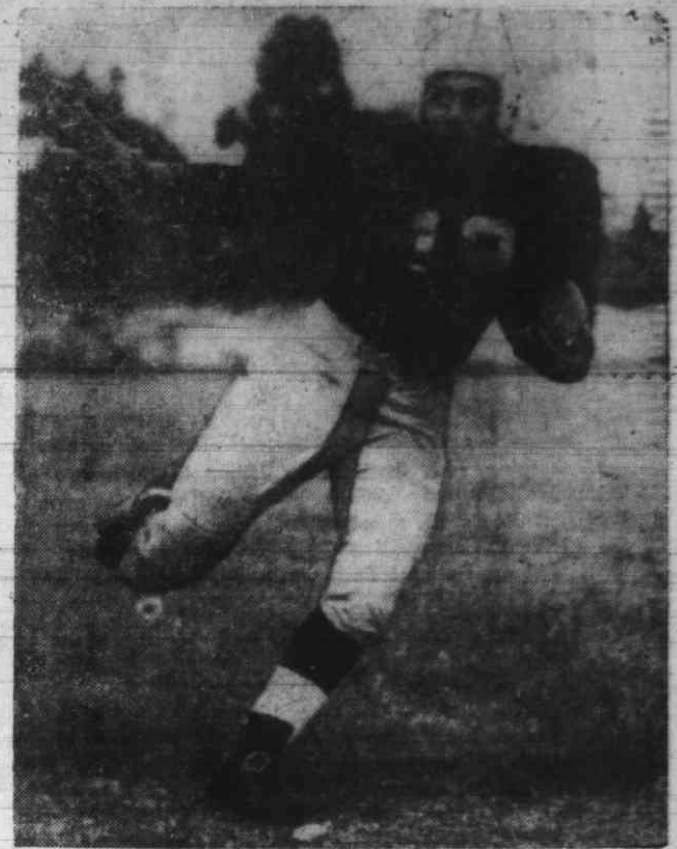

Jack Dempsey was the referee and Jack Kearns managed the fight, but these known boxing figures had nothing to do with the race, angle which was of pure Jersey City origin.

That the fight was publicized in this fashion was verified last week when the fight headquarters at Journal Square, admitted it was for the "White Championship." "Yes, that is true" was the answer given at fight headquarters.

The fight itself was held in Roosevelt Stadium. Roosevelt Stadium was named after President Roosevelt when it was dedicated by Hague with Roosevelt on hand during the 1936 Presidential election.

Hague and the Democratic Party in New Jersey brought Joe Louis here in 1936 to speak at a Democratic rally and then laughed at him because he did not make a brilliant talk. His talk actually was a neutral one.

Hague's Negro leader here is Robert S. Hartgrove, an attorney, who is on the staff of Julian Rainey, eastern colored Democratic director in New York. Rainey two weeks ago sent out a fake release that Joe Louis was for Roosevelt. Immediately John Roxborough and Julian Black, Joe's managers, nailed the faked release and issued a statement that Joe is not interested in politics and has never announced any choice of a candidate.

FRANCIS WHITE.

The Aggies will have to pull all tricks out of the bag against the Francis outfit Scheduled to do much of the ball carrying is this elusive express train, Francis White, freshman halfback. White is one of the fastest backs ever developed at the local institution. Time alone will tell but he should prove a potent factor in whatever successful campaigns the Aggies conduct this fall.

White hails from Englewood, Colorado, and is a graduate of the local high school there. He is 20 years of age, 5 ft. and 21 inches in height and weighs 174.

OHIO STATE HAS FIRST STRING END

ILLINOIS EXPECTS GREAT THINGS OF SOPHOMORE FULLBACK

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. — (ANP) — Great things are expected this year of Bert C. Piggott, sophomore fullback who has stood out both as a freshman and in practice this fall. He is one of two colored candidates for the University of Illinois football team, the other being John Goodrich of Birmingham, sophomore right halfback. Piggott, who comes from Hinsdale, Ill., is 5 feet 10, weighs 185 pounds, and is a student in the school of physical education. Last year's first team end, Flip Anders, failed to return this fall.

Previously it was charged that Coach Bob Zupke was prejudiced against Negro players but many observers contend that Negro players have not been used previously because they lacked the necessary ability.

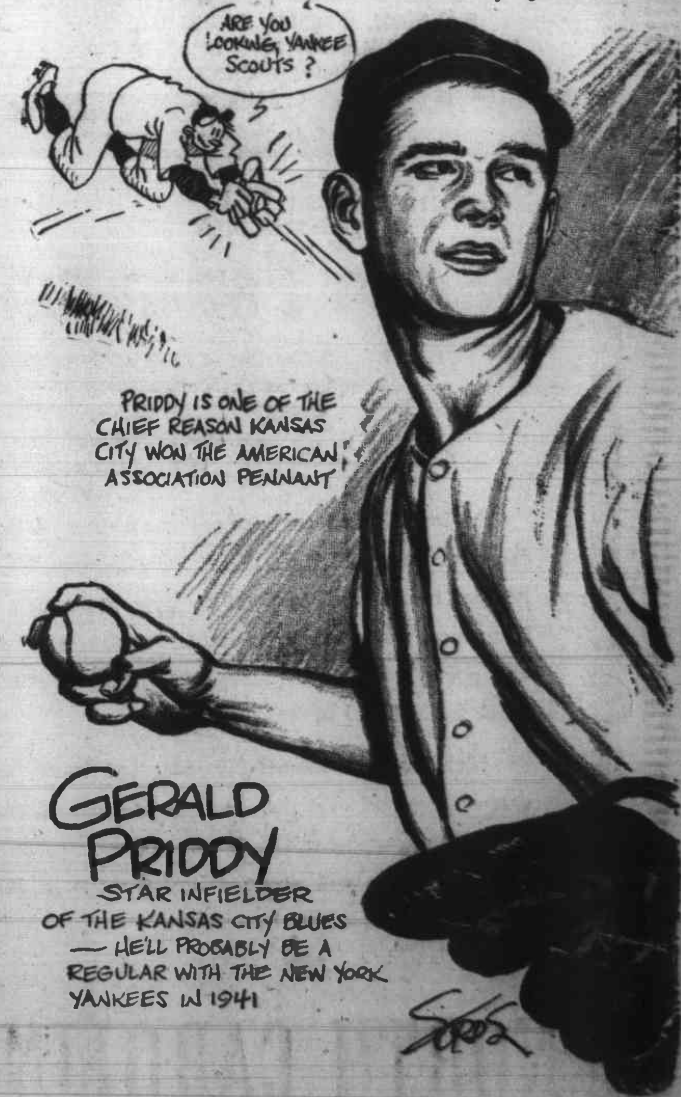

ARCHIE HARRIS IS INDIANA'S LEADING ALL-AMERICAN CANDIDATE

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. — (ANP) — Archie Harris, senior end on the Indiana university's football team, is admitted by Coach Bob McMillian to be the leading Hoosier candidate for All-American honors in 1940. Harris, who stands 6 feet 3 and weighs 207 pounds, is the lone Negro varsity player. He is 22, comes from Ocean City, N. J. and is a champion shot putter and discus thrower in addition to being a sterling defensive flankman and sensational pass catcher, snaring 13 last year for a total of 175 yards and an average of 13.69 per pass.
