CALLING DIRTY NAMES.
 There are a few basic ideals embodied in our United States constitution that can save this country from ever being dominated by a fascist or totalitarian philosophy if the people value the personal rights and liberties guaranteed them by the constitution.

By the same token, the people will lose those rights and liberties in proportion as they allow them to be encroached upon or destroyed by promised political cure all which limit individual can care for themselves.

If you are a laboring man, a bank depositor, a life insurance policyholder, the owner of a bit of stock or a bond in one of this country's industrial enterprises, or the owner of a farm or a home you play a vital part in the American system of free enterprise. You have the right to vote and keep your government your "servant," not your "master."

As you permit government to go into competition with private business by devious methods and designs, you promote the totalitarian idea, whether you realize it or not.

If you are a working man and don't strike against the government, with its power to tax, free speech, free press, freedom of worship, are wrapped up in tax exempt. If you are a business man, and government goes into business in your industry, the competition with you, you suddenly find you cannot compete with government.

road—government doing what the individual has done for himself, with government cooperation and protection, for the preceding 150 years.

The same excuse for greater centralized government, greater benefits to the people, were the inducements offered to the masses in every European country where free speech, free press, freedom of worship and free enterprise are but a memory today.

Our people can see the handwriting on the wall. No man blames anyone but himself if he allows the trend of government domination of the individual and free enterprise that wrecked the liberties of European nations, to gain headway here.

Lewis Armstrong Coming to Charlotte

Louis "Satchmo" Armstrong, the International "Trumpet King of Swing," says that his success in the music business is due to the fact that whenever he makes a personal appearance with his band he tries to give the people a great show. "I like to feel as though I am giving all I've got. When I 'swing out' I give both barrels and I get a great kick out of blasting those high 'Cs' and 'Gs' so that my fans get a thrill," says Louis.

When Louis Armstrong comes to the Charlotte Armory on Dec. 25, for an 8:30 floor show and a dance 10 to 2 a. m. he will bring along one of the greatest and most unusual groups of entertainers in any orchestra. There is Sonny Woods, who has been heard with the Armstrong band on many of their coast-to-coast broadcasts, singing those romantic songs everyone loves to hear. Then too, there is Midge Williams, the petite song stylist recently recruited from the NBC network, plus of course, Luis Russell, Jay C. Higginbotham and Henry "Red" Allen.

Maestro Armstrong has built up quite a reputation for himself as a motion picture actor. He did grand work with Bing Crosby in his first assignment "Pennies From Heaven" and returned to the screen in another rollicking musical with Jack Benny, "Artists and Models." Then came the Mae West film "Every Day's a Holiday," and then "Going Places," in which he was co-starred with Dick Powell.
