

THE WOMAN'S PAGE

Homemaking Institute At Bennett College March 17-25

Home-Making Institute At Bennett To Spotlight Modern Family Life

GREENSBORO — Family life will hold the spotlight in the forthcoming 15th annual Home-Making Institute at Bennett College, March 17-25. Activities will center around the theme, "Family Relationships in a time of Stress."

Since specialists more or less agree that the family is the basic unit upon which our present day social order is founded, it is all important that family heads and advisers of young people should consider seriously how best to direct individuals in cooperative wholesome living that leads to ideal citizenship. It is doubly important then, particularly in times of stress, that the Negro, denied so many advantages, give attention to its family unit. To this end, the Institute committee has carefully planned a week's program which shall touch each phase of family life, considering the family as a group as well as its individual members.

Parents of the Greensboro community and throughout Guilford County have been sent a special invitation to attend the Institute, take part in its discussions and view exhibits that will aid them in planning for their families. As an inspiration to wholesome family life, a plaque will be awarded on Friday night to the family which will be judged as most closely reaching the ideal in cooperative effort.

The program will be as follows Monday, "Religion in Family Life Today" Speaker Dr. Benjamin E. Mays, president, Morehouse College, Atlanta, Ga. Music by Providence Baptist Church Choir.

Tuesday, "Making Adjustments Within the Family" is the topic to be discussed and the music will be by the Bennett College orchestra.

Wednesday, a play, "The Home of the Dolittles" written by Gwendolyn Morgan, Bennett College, '45, will set forth the advantages of well planned family living. Music by the other relatives and friends.

Girls Chorus of Dudley High School.

Thursday, piano recital by Miss Catherine Bacon, sponsored by The Association of American Colleges, New York.

Friday, panel discussion, "Present Day Problems in Family Relationships."

MENS' CLUB ORGANIZED AT UNION BAPTIST CHURCH

At a meeting held at the home of Mr. Lee Pointer, 312 Dowd St. last Thursday evening, the ushers of Union Baptist church successfully carried out a long contemplated step, the organization of Mens' club.

Officers and members are: R. L. Chavis, President; M. C. Hart, Vice Pres.; G. B. Russ, Secretary; L. P. Pinter, Treasurer; R. D. Rogers, Chaplain; Bruce White, McKinley Cates, Edward Watson, and Rufus Hill.

After the business session, a delightful repast of green peas, fried chicken, boiled ham, potato salad, peached and cake was served thos in attendance.

Miss Etta Moten, who was the house guest of Mrs. B. A. J. Whitted, at her home on Fayetteville Street, for several days, left Wednesday night for Bluefield, West Virginia, to appear in Concert Recital.

The many friends of Julius M. Bumpass, Sr. will be glad to learn that he is slowly improving at his home on Dunston Avenue. Mrs. Catherine Bell of Longwood, N. C. has returned home after spending a few weeks in the city as the guest of her sister, Mrs. Rennie Gore of 1417 South Street.

Mr. and Mrs. McKinley Smith, of Benbow Road, Greensboro spent the weekend in the City as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Betts, on Umstead Street. While in the city they also visited the other relatives and friends.

Bennett College To Glorify Family Life At 15th Annual Home-Making Institute

At left (oval) Dr. Benjamin Mays, President, Morehouse College, Atlanta, who will open the 15th Annual Home Making Institute at Bennett College on Monday night, March 17, with an address on "Religion in Family Life Today." At the Piano is Miss Etta Moten, star of stage and radio, who appeared earlier in the evening in Concert Recital at the North Carolina College. At the right, close to the piano, are the twins, Dorothy and Gwendolyn, 5, attendants at the Institute on Saturday and Sunday evening at her home on Ninth Street.

DURHAM SOCIAL NOTES

The Maxahela Class of St. Joseph AME Church met at the home of Mrs. Lillie McDade on Whitted Street, Tuesday, March 11 at 8 p. m.

The Julia Warren Circle met last Sunday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Laura Strayhorn on Dunbar Street.

The CIC Club had a very interesting session last Sunday evening at the home of Mrs. C. J. Gates on Pekoe Street.

The Durham Ushers' Union held its monthly meeting program at the St. Matthew CME Church Sunday March 9, 1941 at 3 p. m. The program was carried out in a splendid way and was highly enjoyed. It was as follows: Devotions, Rev. Tolbert, Saint Paul

Response, Mrs. Minnie Ford; Solo, Miss Edna Cain, Mount Vernon; Reading, Miss Varja Davis; Solo, Mrs. Edna Jackson; Recital Miss Narcissus Lunford, CME; Music, Ushers' Song, Congregation

Address, Joseph Goodloe; Selections, Quartette; Welcome Address, Ernest Col. The Pastor's Aid Club of St. Joseph AME Church met at the home of Mrs. Annie Hedgespeth on Mincy Street.

Miss Ella Clark sponsored a few of his friends on his birth Tukyery Dinner at the home of day last Monday night at Mrs. Evelyn Rogers Thursday home on Plum Street. The evening was carried out splendidly and very much enjoyed.

The ACE League of St. Joseph AME Church rendered a program Sunday under the leadership of the Look Out Committee at 6:15 o'clock. The Topic for discussion was: "The Grace of Christ, The Son."

Miss Minnie Seward entertained a number of friends at the home of her mother, Mrs. Katie Sneed, 312 Plum Street honoring her sister Kathryn on her birthday, Monday night, February 24. The guests remained in the living room of the home until Miss Seward was sent in. All greeted her with a hearty "Happy Birthday to you" Miss Seward. The evening was then turned into a great enjoyment for the guest with games being played.

The guests were invited in to the dining room for the repast. The table was very beautifully decorated in a color scheme of white with pink and green. The unusually large birthday cake was used as a centerpiece for repast also carried out the evening. The evening was really an enjoyable one.

Mrs. Beatrice Finch is ill at her home on Amber St.

Mrs. Katie Sneed of 312 Plum St. is able to up in her room after a recent illness.

Willie Whitefield entertained a few of his friends on his birth Tukyery Dinner at the home of day last Monday night at Mrs. Evelyn Rogers Thursday home on Plum Street. The evening was carried out splendidly and very much enjoyed.

The Burton PTA will hold a meeting in the school auditorium Sunday, March 16 at 2:30. The program has not yet been announced. The public at large is cordially invited to attend.

The Gospel Chorus of Ebenezer Baptist church, under the direction of Mrs. Bettie Barrett, rendered music at the Shiloh Church, Sunday Mar. 9 at 3 o'clock.

The Manhattan Club was entertained last Monday night by Messrs Gilmer, George Roberts and Willie Crews. The meeting was one of a business nature and plans were discussed for the "Intra Club Get Acquainted Dance" which is dated for March 20. The Manhattan Club extends a cordial invitation to all other clubs and members in the city to attend. A special program has been planned for the occasion that promises every visitor an evening and pleasure.

Herbert R. Tillery, former Business Manager of the CAROLINA TIMES left Monday evening for the Eastern part of the state.

Mrs. Alice Mitchell of Lumberton spent the week with her mother, Mrs. Diana Haywood, Proprietress of the Hollywood Inn.

Miss Maude Austin of 509 Dunbar Street left Saturday to resume her work in the Roanoke Rapid, School system, after undergoing an operation at Duke Hospital.

Friends of Rev. Williams of Sowell Street will regret to learn of his illness at Lincoln Hospital.

MRS. BESSIE A. J. WHITTED ENTERTAINS MISS ETTA MOTEN

Mrs. Bessie A. J. Whitted entertained at an informal Party Friday evening at the Algonquin 9 o'clock, honoring Miss Etta Moten, star of stage and radio. These present were Mesdames Etta Moten, who appeared earlier in the evening in Concert Recital W. A. Cleland, J. W. Goodloe, at the North Carolina College. E. A. Carter; Bessie A. J. Whitted. The guests were greeted by Mrs. Whitted, and then introduced Nola Mae Cox.

to the honoree, Miss Moten, and her accompanist Clyde Winkfield.

Refreshments were served during the evening; and a delightful time was enjoyed by the field, Mrs. Bessie A. J. Whitted guests present, after which a and R. L. McDougald.

PREPARE FOR DAYS AHEAD...

TOMORROW'S SKY-TRAIL BLAZER

may be Your Grimy Bud of today!

BAMBY PULLMAN BREAD

ROYAL BAKING CO. Bamby Baker RALEIGH, N. C.

CHARLOTTE SOCIAL NOTES

Members of the local Chamber of Commerce met Wednesday at Johnson C. Smith's College Union on Beatties Ford road. The Chamber had as guest speaker one of the most outstanding clergymen of the Presbyterian church, Dr. William Loyd Innes of New York City. Dr. Innes spoke briefly on "Business." In his talk he said, "Business is based on three things, Trust, Character and Religion." Dr. Innes made a wonderful talk. I'm sure all that heard him, enjoyed it and were greatly benefited. We also had as a guest J. Frank Hanley, manager of the Fairview Homes Projects. Members present were, Lee Jackson, Zack Alexander, Fred Moore, S. H. Adams, Roy Perry, Archie Nixon, I. M. Martin, Charles Brewington, Kelly Alexander, George James, N. G. Edwards, F. D. Myers, Ned Davis, Ed. White, Dr. and Mrs. McCrorey, Drs. Anderson and Long, Attorney Bowser, W. P. Malone, Miss Alberta White, Mesdames, Lucielle Blakney and B. H. Hardy.

Dr. Buford Gordon, delivered a wonderful and inspiring sermon to an appreciative audience last Sunday morning at Little Rock church. His subject was "A Good Man, And The Life Of A Good Man." Dr. Gordon is considered a pulpit orator and is noted for speaking far and near. He is also Editor of the AME Zion Sunday School Literature.

Missionary Circle Number 2 of Little Rock church met with Mrs. Elizabeth Locke Wednesday evening at her home on E. Ninth Street.

The ladies auxiliary to the Charlotte Medical society met with Mrs. Estelle Hogans last week at her home on Beatties Ford road. Mrs. Mildred Brodie president, presided. Mrs. Hogans served a delightful bugett lunch.

The auxiliary to the Good Samaritan hospital met last week. Fruit and magazines were distributed among the patients. Mrs. F. D. Alexander, president, Mrs. L. A. Yancey Historian.

The parent Teachers' meeting of the Greenville section met at Fairview school last week. A Negro History program was rendered.

Mrs. J. Walker Stewart of Washington, D. C. was a recent visitor in the city.

The Junior Red Cross has been organized at Fairview school under the direction of Mrs. A. E. Heritage.

Trez Anderson is back in the city after an extended tour of the Southern, Western, and Northern Cities. Mr. Anderson reports a wonderful trip.

Miss Minna Reid was hostess to members of the Aurora Club last Friday night evening at her home on E. 8th street. The home was beautifully decorated with early spring flowers. Games were enjoyed during the evening. Misses Beaulah Moore and Lillian Perry won club prizes. Mrs. Willie Perry won consolation prize and Miss Frances Sampson was presented a guest prize. Members present were, Mesdames Rosa Smith Pitts, Annie Warner, Willie Gabriel Perry, Willette Lino, Misses, Oliva Weddington, Leland Bishop, Beaulah Moore, Minnie Phifer, Minna Reid and Henrietta Dixon.

Marie Downing

BEAUTY AND ROMANCE

SPONSORED BY
LARIEUSE BEAUTY BUREAU

Although it is frequently said that the eyes are "the windows of the soul," I sometimes believe that the hands mirror a person's character almost as well. In a sense, the hands move in a wider orbit than the eyes, and their free and spontaneous actions perhaps claim other people's attention more than we realize.

We all notice hands on occasion. Sometimes our attention is forced on them. Restless hands, fidgety hands, or quiet hands; well-groomed, ill-groomed; the warm hand-clasp, the clammy handshake—we have them all. There are certain occasions when you especially notice other people's hands and your own, as for example, when you are playing cards. You have an opportunity to study the hands of those around you and to compare them with your own hands. You study their size, length, nails, skin texture, movements, etc.

When you do make such observations, how do your hands compare with those of other women?

Perhaps you wish the fingers were a little longer and not quite so thin, and stubby—or that your nails were more almond-shaped. Very few people have perfect hands, but any woman can make her hands attractive if she will watch two things: (1) the use of her hands, and (2) the care she gives them.

The first consideration has to do with the gracefulness of your hands. That doesn't mean you should take a course in dramatics. But here's a tip which comes from the dramatic school: Never gesture for the sake of gesturing, or feel that it is necessary to do this in order to be expressive. A movement of the hand should be as natural as a sincere smile, and as spontaneous. It should be expressive of a thought or feeling within you. The thought or feeling should come first and the gesticulation spring from it, without any effort on your part. Such movements will then have a certain natural grace. If you have a tendency to throw your hands around like a Dutch windmill, or to effect certain mannerisms, try to curb these habits. Keep your hands in quiet repose when you are not using them. Avoid nervous fidgeting or playing with jewelry, or parts of your dress or coat. Of course, I need not caution you against biting your nails or fingers.

The second important consideration is the grooming of your hands—the nails and skin. During these more or less wintry days when you are inside heated rooms, it is very easy for the hands to become rough and chapped. Sometimes this is caused by not thoroughly drying them after they have been in water. At the best, however, you will probably find that a good hand lotion is necessary to keep the skin soft and pliable. Your nails should also be faultlessly manicured—special care given to the cuticle and shaping of the nails. Then, too, add the finishing touch, a well-chosen shade of polish should be applied.

Your hands, the same as you hair, deserve special beauty attention.

What are your beauty problems?
Write: Marie Downing, Larieuse Beauty Bureau, 3509 Lindell Blvd., St. Louis, Mo., and she will be glad to answer them. Be sure to enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.