BEAU JACK, the Battling Bootblack paid back in full measure the debt he owed Bob Montgomery, the pride of Sun Shipyards for the recent licking Beau took from Bob. On the past Friday night, Beau met Bob again, but this time under radically different circumstances.

On the even of the first Beau-Bob battle the bookies were handing the Battling Bootblack the odds, and Jack was confident he would retain his lightweight title, but on the day of the battle and immediately following the fight, Beau found he wasn't what he was cooked up to be. Bob battered the Beau till he couldn't batter any more and walked away with his newly-won crown, Friday night, it was an entirely different story. Beau Jack entered the ring as the underdog with the bookies laying all their gold on Bob to retain the crown but from the first bell till the last fan was out of the massive arena, Beau Jack was the man of the day. The Battling Bootblack has regained his title and plans to keep it, while Bob Montgomery, sorely defeated, is dreading to go back to the blacksmith shop at Sun's Philly Plant.

AS THE OLD story goes, the pennant-bound record-ruining Hillside Hi Hornets have again been the team to "Come,

HILLSIDE HAS AT LAST FOUND some competition. The only competitor the south has to offer is Addison High of Roanoke, Virginia. The athletic advisory board of Addison high has accepted Hillside's invitation to play in the Hornets nest on Thanksgiving Day. This really promises to be a game and not another Hillside field day. This is the only game of the season on which the writer can give Hillside the opportunity of coming out on the defeated side. I personally am laying odds that the Hornets will take the game only by a one 1, or six point margin, what is really expected of this tie is a scoreless tie.

TWO OLD NORTH CAROLINA rivals meet on the field of conquest at Greensboro on Thanksgiving Day when Johnson C. Smith and A and T throw their fine gridiron groups onto the waffle-like square to see who will take the State championship. Coach DeBerry of the A and T squad deserves a lambast for letting the underdog Virginia State team hand his here-to-fore undefeated 11 a six to nothing defeat. The only way DeBerry can straighten himself with this portion of the press is by giving the Smith Bulls a never-to-be-forgotten licking on this Turkey Day.

SEEMS rather strange not to hear the students at NCCN placing bets, but this year for the first time in a number of years, State will not be in charge of the bench opposite A and T on Thanksgiving Day. War is awful, ain't it?

College Women Hold Meet N. C. College Athletic Discussion

BY CHARLES A. RAY

Women's Sports Day Association's representatives from Virginia State College, Bennett College and A and T College assembled at North Carolina College here last Saturday in what was scheduled as a six-college women's meet to discuss war time sports activities for women. Representatives from Hampton Institute and Howard University, members of the association, were unable to meet.

Sports activities that engaged the women's groups Saturday morning and afternoon included volley ball, badminton, speed ball, shuffleboard and ping pong. An all-
