

...LEST WE BECOME 'VANISHING AMERICANS'

(Continued from Page Two) that they be regarded as dangerous criminals-- as public enemies. It has been pointed out by some leading students of psychology that the cause for an alarming amount of reckless driving and for speeding is due, not as may be expected to a general craving on the part of a driver to speed or drive with reckless abandon, but to a general psychological condition of restlessness which manifests itself, once such a restless driver gets behind the wheel, in reckless driving and in excess speeding. This discovery infers to us that the causes for other forms of dangerous driving may be attributed to temperamental or general psychological disorders.

In light of this recent discovery, we would also suggest that a psychiatrist be employed by the several traffic control of motor vehicle department control department of police forces of the cities of this state and by the several units of the traffic control department of the State Highway Patrol. We would have these psychiatrists administer psychological examinations and offer advice as the prospective drivers received their driving tests. Perhaps no one of the measures mentioned above would work to decrease the blood-letting on North Carolina's highways, but it is quite apparent that some measures will have to be adopted to curb the homicide on our state highways, lest we all become 'vanishing Americans.'

Diggs-Wilkinson Vows Said In Ceremony

Winston-Salem—In a candlelit setting of white gladiolus and greenery in the Gordon Fries Auditorium of the Winston-Salem Teachers' College at high noon on June 10, Miss Rachel Elizabeth Diggs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James I. Diggs, Sr. of Winston-Salem, was married to William H. H. Wilkinson of New York City, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William L. D. Wilkinson. The Rev. Kenneth R. Williams, chaplain of the college, performed the ceremony.

Can't Lena Get Her Story Straight Or Whom Does She Think She's Fooling?

New York City (CNS)—Simultaneously, two reports were released this week on Lena Horne's "marriage" to Lennie Hayton, white musical director for MGM who is currently touring with the star in Europe. One report came from Lena herself, stating to Ollie Stewart, Paris correspondent for the Afro American Newspaper that she was definitely "not married." This was said in an exclusive interview backstage at the swank Club Baccara where she does one "luxury" show a night.

The second report was released by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios who have recently released Lena Horne from their possession. They stated to the daily press that "the secret was out. Lena Horne and Lennie Hayton are married."

Now—what is what and who is fooling whom? Lena will face the American press with an answer to this one in October when she returns to make a picture for 20th Century Fox in Hollywood.

Farm Employment Continues Decline

Washington, D. C.—Over 400,000 fewer persons were employed on farms during the last week of May than in the same period a year ago, according to estimates of the Bureau of the Agricultural Economics of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Altogether, 11,255,000 were at work, compared with 11,936,000 last year.

In the South alone, there were 260,000 fewer persons employed on farms. The decline of family workers in the region was only slightly more than that of hired workers.

The harvest of hay and small grain was under way in most of the States along the Atlantic Coast from Delaware to Florida. In the latter State, the citrus harvest was about over, and in southern Georgia, farmers were completing tobacco setting. Cotton chopping was the major chore in most areas of the South. In Kentucky and Tennessee, tobacco setting was the big job. In Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, and Texas, farmers were harvesting hay and small grain. In these States, most of the crops were already planted except soybeans and sorghum in Oklahoma and rice in Arkansas and Louisiana.

The 41st convention meeting in Boston set Atlanta as the NAACP convention's site for the first time since 1920.

Schlesinger Calls Real Democracy Only Antidote To Totalitarianism

Boston—The best defense of democracy is democracy, Professor Arthur M. Schlesinger, Jr., Pulitzer prize-winning Harvard historian, in an address on "Minorities and Totalitarian Philosophy," told five hundred delegates to the forty-first NAACP convention held here this week at the Union Methodist Church.

"Our job... is to demand freedom for all; and, by demanding it for all, to vitalize it for the entire world," Dr. Schlesinger said. "Totalitarianism... arose in part... from the failure of societies which lacked the courage and equality available to all members of society. Society which is only half-free cannot maintain itself against slavery..."

We can assure the future of freedom only by building a world... in which all people, regardless of race or color or 'innate biological endowment' can partake of the rights and benefits of humanity."

NAACP Delegates Votes To Convene In Atlanta

Boston—Atlanta, Georgia, was selected as the site of the 42nd annual convention of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, to be held in the latter part of June, 1951.

Miss Drayne Becomes Bride Of Rev. Parham In Double Ring Rites

In an impressive double ring ceremony, Sunday afternoon, Miss Geraldine Audrey Drayne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lee Drayne of Salisbury, became the bride of Rev. Ward Seabrook Parham, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Parham of Durham, at the First Calvary Baptist Church here.

Dr. J. P. Johnson and Rev. S. R. Johnson conducted the service before a large gathering of local and out-of-town guests. White gladioli in floor baskets, palms, ivy, and slender tapers in seven-branched candelabra formed a background for the ceremony.

Mrs. Eloise Miller Simpson, pianist, Mrs. Juanita S. Lord and Miss Joylene Pryor, vocalists, presented a program of nuptial music.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Rev. Charles G. Kearns, pastor of Trinity Presbyterian Church, Rochester, New York, and brother-in-law of the bridegroom, acted as best man. The ushers were Arthur Lewis Drayne, brother of the bride and Clinton Cowan.

The bride wore an ankle-length gown of white chantilly lace designed with a marquise-cut yoke and a body of chantilly lace trimmed in seed pearls, covered buttons which extend to the tip of the pointed waistline, long lace calla pointed sleeves and a full gathered skirt. She wore a double, fingertip veil of net draped from a heart-shaped lace bonnet headpiece. She carried a prayer book topped with a white orchid.

Mrs. Marjorie J. Ward of Salisbury, matron-of-honor, wore an ankle-length gown of French yellow nylon marquisette with off-the-shoulder chantilly lace collar and a chantilly lace peplum at the waist. Yellow chantilly lace mitts and a matching halo headpiece with a shoulder-length veil and yellow tinted linen shoes completed the outfit. She carried pink carnations.

Hampton Prexy Is Speaker At Va. State

Petersburg, Va.—"We must prepare ourselves for a deeper understanding of human beings and make a psychological adjustment to a new kind of living," Dr. Alonzo G. Moran, President of Hampton Institute, told the faculty and students of the summer session at Virginia State College at the summer convocation which was held on Friday evening at 8 o'clock. "This is an age of specialists," he continued, "and we are going to have to know more and more about the technical aspects of our civilization."

Dr. R. P. Daniel, President of the College announced that over 800 students had enrolled in regular and special courses at the College. The College, he said, will be host to more than 25 conferences during the summer session with a total enrollment of over 3,000 persons. A series of three lectures on immortality will open the lecture series for the 64th summer session, the President announced. These lectures will be delivered by the noted theologian and former president of the Virginia Theological Seminary and College at Lynchburg, Dr. Vernon Johns.

Fla. Negro Undertakers Meet In 26th Session At Famcee

Tallahassee, Florida—The 26th annual session of the Florida Negro Funeral Directors and Embalmers' Association ended here Friday morning, June 23. The meeting, a three day affair at A. and M. College brought together 48 morticians from all sections of Florida and South Georgia.

Highlighting the session was the speech made to summer school students by Dr. Kelsey Pharr, successful Miami mortician. When introduced by J. Maxwell Charlou, president of the association, Dr. Pharr who is also a chiropractor, speaking from the subject, "Good in Everything," told 160 students "If you can't be outstanding, you can be upstanding." He warned teachers against the danger of snobbishness suggesting that teachers of all people must see good in everything and in everybody.

Girls' Camp To Have Experienced Staff

Greensboro—With an experienced and well-trained staff of 12 workers, the Girl Scout headquarters announced the opening of Camp Douglass Long for four one week periods from July 2 to July 30.

The camp will be directed by Mrs. A. J. Taylor, of Greensboro, Field Director of the Guilford - Randolph Area Council. Mrs. Taylor has served the Girl Scout for fourteen years. This is the eleventh year that she has directed camping activities.

Mrs. C.O. Howell, of Greensboro, is Assistant Director and will have supervision of the Craft House. Mrs. Howell was a delegate to the Girl Scout National Convention held in Milwaukee, Wisconsin last year. She has been a troop leader for nine years.

The other personnel of the camp is as follows: Miss Geraldine Staples, graduate of A. and T. College; Miss T. N. Miller, graduate of Bennett and A. and T. Colleges; Miss Mary E. Newberry, Winston - Salem Teachers' College; Mrs. Suella S. Jenkins, A. and T. College, and a former Assistant Day Camp Director; Miss Yvonne Hayes, Hampton Institute, teacher of Physical Education with experience at both Day and Established Camps.

Miss Velma Hudson, a Senior at Morgan State College, and 3 years camping experience; Miss Norma McLaughlin, of Howard University with camp experience at Camp Carlson, Old Mill Camp, Camp Douglass Long, and Camp Mistle at Akron, and who attended the Western Hemp Camp at Michigan as State Delegate; Miss Ann Jackson, a graduate of Palmer Mem-

The rest of her lineup included Stan Husler on first base and flycatchers in Sid Gordon, Duke Snider and Enos Slaughter. As for catcher, the pert actress declined to name. Perhaps because she could hardly have overlooked Roy Campanella, the game's greatest.

574 SUMMER SCHOOL ENROLLMENT AT LINCOLN UNIVERSITY

Jefferson City, Mo.—A total of 54 students have enrolled for the regular summer session at Lincoln University, which includes an over-abundance of women registrants. The presence of the feminine sex in such large numbers necessitated the converting of a man's residence hall (Allen hall) into a dormitory for women.

In the five units of the university are 18 students of journalism, 12 in the School of Law (St. Louis); in the College of Arts and Sciences there are 47 and in the graduate division, 37, according to A. A. Dunson, registrar.

The swelling roll has been partially attributed to the presence of many in-service teachers of the State for additional study.
