

Music Lovers Give Enthusiastic Reception To Duo Piano Concert

Durham is indeed greatly indebted to the North Carolina Federation of Negro Women for bringing to us the musical treat which was presented to a music-minded audience on Friday evening at North Carolina College's B. N. Duke Auditorium.

The selection of Mrs. Barbara Logan Cooke and Howard T. Pearsall to render such a finished duo-piano recital was indeed a "stroke of genius."

The young artists' performance showed careful and excellent preparation and superb training. Both are products of Fisk University. Mrs. Cooke has made Durham her home since early childhood. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Logan and is the wife of Dr. David B. Cooke. Mrs. Cooke studied during her elementary school and high school years at the Chamberlin Studio.

After receiving her B. A. and Bachelor of Music degrees from Fisk she did further study at the Juilliard School of Music. She is the mother of two lovely boys and deserved great credit for not deserting her art during her full time job of being an expert homemaker.

Mr. Pearsall, who is at present head of the Music Department of A. and T. College in Greensboro, received his M. A. degree from Western Reserve University and studied at the Cleveland Institute of Music. He too is married and is the father of a small son. The program was very well arranged and the audience was greatly impressed by the remarkable way in which the performers blended their talents.

Special mention should be made of the "Scenas Infantis" (Memorial of Childhood) by Pinto and the very interesting "Italian Concerto" by Johann Sebastian Bach, to which the artists gave such sympathetic interpretation.

Saint-Saens' beloved and enchanting "Danse Macabre" was quite a highlight on the program and displayed great technical skill. The revised and enlarged version of Thomas Kerr's arrangement of the spiritual "Didn't My Lord Deliver Daniel" was the last number on the program and was repeated as encore. Mrs. Cooke and Mr. Pearsall played its first performance while they were students at Fisk. Then even likable "Malaguena" by Lecuona was chosen as an encore following the second group.

Ensemble playing is always interesting to hear and there are very few duo-pianists among our group. We therefore predict for this pair of accomplished young people a very successful future if they should continue making this great contribution to the musical world.

Mrs. Chambers, Glover United

In an informal ceremony on Friday, December 28, Mrs. Elma P. Chalmers, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ben Page, became the bride of Pealey Glover of Detroit, Mich., son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Turner Glover.

The vows were exchanged at 6 o'clock in the evening at the home of the bride. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. S. P. Perry, pastor of the bride.

The couple was unattended. For her wedding the bride wore a street length dress of dark grey with accessories and a white carnation corsage.

Mrs. Glover will join her husband in Detroit, later in the Spring where they will reside at 1004 East Philadelphia Street.

Mt. Olive Group Renames Officers

Mrs. Sallie Brown of 1231 4th Street was hostess to Steward's Board number one of Mt. Olive A. M. E. Zion Church, Thursday evening, January 17. The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Mattie Lambert. The highlight of the evening was the election of officers. Because of the splendid service rendered by the officers during the past year, all members agreed that the former officers be installed.

The following officers were renamed: president, Mrs. Mattie Lambert; vice president, Mrs. Hannah Ray; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Lillie Lockhart; assistant secretary, Mrs. Annie Perry. Mesdames Ellen Richmond, Lucille Smart, Sallie Brown and Lula McAdams were elected on the sick committee. The names given constitute the entire membership and all were present except Mrs. Lucille Smart.

At the close of the business session a most delectable two course menu was served. Tables were set up for services and the repast was enjoyed from candlelight.

Beautiful handkerchiefs were presented each member. Mrs. Lambert was assisted in service by Miss Goldie Jones.

The March of Polio is OUT-PACING THE MARCH OF DIMES

March of Dimes incurred $5,000,000 debt aiding 67,800 Polio patients in 1951. This included 45,000 cases carried over from previous years.

Despite yearly increases in March of Dimes receipts, the rising tide of polio has forced the National Foundation into debt each of the last four years. The debt in 1951 was approximately $6,000,000. The financial crisis faced by the March of Dimes has been brought about not only by increased incidence but also by increased costs and increased numbers of carry-over cases requiring aid long after they have been stricken. The March of Dimes aided 45,000 such cases last year, in addition to the four out of five new patients needing aid in 1951.
