

LINCOLN HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

CHAPEL HILL
On Saturday, November 8, 1954 representatives of the Lincoln High School chapter of the New Homemakers of America along with representatives of thirty-two N. C. chapters met at Henderson Institute, Henderson, North Carolina. The theme of the meeting—"Builders Today and Tomorrow in Home and Family Living". Barbara Wilson, Little River School, Durham County, brought to the group a detailed report of the National N. H. A. Convention, Shirley Merritt and Ida Battle of Lincoln High School together with two students of Swift Creek School, Whitaker, N. C. conducted the election for the State Historian. Laura Plummer, Warren County Training School, Wise, N. C., was elected.

A most colorful Talent Show was given by representatives of every chapter in the district. Elaine Harrison, graceful talented member of the Home Ec. III class represented our chapter by representing a solo tap dance.

At the conclusion of the morning session we were entertained in the gymnasium for lunch and fun.

The entire day was a profitable one.

8 Shaw Students Named To "Who's Who"

RALEIGH
Dr. F. P. Payne, dean of the college announced that eight Shaw University students have been selected for inclusion in the 1954-55 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. Seniors receiving this distinction for the second time are Clara J. Harrison of Gastonia and Harold G. Ross Jr., of Absecon, N. J.

The six others are Bernard A. Holliday, a senior of Creedmoor; Annie L. Jones, a junior of Greenville; Yvonne D. Lassiter, a senior of Selma; Margaret E. Rascoe, a junior of Windsor; Owen D. Nichols, a senior of Raleigh; and Ottilie L. West, a junior of Willard.

These students are leaders in all areas of campus activities. The selection is made on the basis of scholarship, leadership, cooperation in student affairs, and indications of future achievement.

Gibson Named Director Of Public Relations

GREENSBORO
Appointment of William I. Gibson as director of public relations at Bennett College was announced this week by Dr. David D. Jones, president.

Mr. Gibson, a veteran newspaperman, has served as editor of the AFRO-AMERICAN Newspaper group of Baltimore and as an associate editor of Ebony Magazine of Chicago. He also was professor of journalism and public relations director at Morgan State College, Baltimore, and professor of English and public relations director at Wilberforce University in Ohio.

Mrs. M. H. Lee To Attend Annual Library Confab

Mrs. Mollie Huston Lee, Librarian of the Richard B. Harrison Public Library, has been invited to attend a conference on training needs of librarians doing adult education work. The conference will be held at Allerton Park, a facility of the university of Illinois, November 14-16. Invitations were extended to thirty-five directors of Library schools and administrators of public libraries. The conference is sponsored by the American Library Association, and Mrs. Lee is the only librarian from North Carolina attending.

Charlotte Kappas Elect Officers

CHARLOTTE
The Charlotte Alumni Chapter of Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity elected officers for 1955 in a recent meeting.

sixth consecutive year. The meeting of the Charlotte chapter was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Malone, 2310 Davis Street. The Kappa wives and sweethearts, known as the Silhouettes, also met at the Malones.

-Life Is Like That-

(Continued from Page Two) while living outside the orbit of the divine purpose. To die at ninety, in such a case, is tragic. Only men falling short in spiritual vision measure life in terms of longevity.

Both John the Baptist and Jesus died before thirty-five years. We know the impact they made upon the world and the influence they left behind. Of the one it has been said, "No greater man has been born of woman." Of the other, "The pale hands of the Gallilean have lifted the gates of empires from their hinges." Life lived in their spirit and purpose is triumphant life whether it takes its flight from earth at thirty or ninety. Death at any age for such a life, is but transition into a higher sphere of being. In this light, must we view David's departure.

HIS LIFE A GRAND SUCCESS

David fought a good fight. God and life challenged him to champion the cause of right and justice. He accepted the challenge and died with his armour on. His life was no failure, but a grand success.

OUR MONUMENT

We pay tribute in words to him today. But if we would pay him a lasting tribute we must go beyond words. If we would build a monument to perpetuate his memory and influence, we must find materials other than marble or granite. It must be ours to identify ourselves with the cause that was close to his heart. And that cause, according to a statement made by a commentator from the U. S. Senate Chamber last week, is the greatest moral, spiritual, and intellectual problem facing America today.

POETRY AND COMMENT

I close with an appropriate bit of poetry and comment: "We are living, we are dwelling. In a grand and awful time, In an age on ages telling, To be living is sublime."

Worlds are charging, heaven beholding
Thou hast but an hour to fight
Now, the blazoned cross unfolding,
On, right onward, for the right
David had less than thirty minutes to fight, but what a noble fight he made during that time. Had he been able to speak just before he "put out to sea," speak with the knowledge he has now since his arrival within the courts of Paradise, I am sure he would have said:

"Sunset and evening star,
And one clear call for me!
And may there be no moaning
of the bar,
When I put out to sea."

"But such a tide as moving
seems asleep,
Too full for sound and foam,
When that which drew from out the boundless deep
Turns again home.

Twilight and evening bell,
And after that the dark!
And may there be no sadness
of farewell,
When I embark.

"But tho' from out our bourne
of Time and Place—
The flood may bear me far,
I hope to see my Pilot face to face,
When I have crossed the bar."

The eulogy above appears in this column because it tells a story of faith and courage, and shows that even the most humble of us can accomplish great things when dedicated to the ideal of service.

Which one has that MONTHLY LOOK?

EYES SHOW CRAMPS, "NERVES", MISERY
You, too, may not be able to hide that tired, nervous, jittery look each month no matter how much "make-up" you use. Keep your secret safe during "those" days—don't be the one girl in three who shows the strain from tail-tale nerves and cramps—has "that monthly look."
Take Cardui, a special medicine trusted by thousands of women, girls to help insure against cramps, "nerves" and monthly misery. A little Cardui each day helps build strength so resistance may be greater each month, nervousness and suffering less and less. Look more natural—feel and sleep better. Ask your dealer for Cardui. (Say: "card-you-ey").
*Many scientists estimate that at some time during life 1 out of every 3 women suffers from monthly discomfort.
