Sec'y. Mitchell To Address 44th Kappa Conclave In Washington

WASHINGTON, D. C. Secretary of Labor, James Mitchell, will head the array of outstanding Government officials and civic and educational leaders scheduled to participate in the 44th annual Grand Chapter Conclave of the Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity to be held in Washington during the Christmas season.

Secretary Mitchell will speak at the fraternity's public forum to be held Tuesday night, Dec. 28, at Howard University's Andrew Rankin Memorial Chapel. Elmer Henderson, chairman of the conclave program committee, will preside at the session.

The four-day conclave, which opens on Monday, December 27, will center its activities, planning and year's programming around the theme, "Achievement Through Integration."

District Commissioner Samuel Spencer will welcome the visiting delegates to the nation's capital. Other Government officials who will participate in the conclave program include Archie A. Alexander, Governor of the Virgin Islands, and Ernest K. Wilkins, Assistant Secretary of Labor.

The fraternity's business sessions and committee meetings will be held at Miner Teachers College, Georgia Ave., and Euclid Street, N. W., with undergraduate Kappa chapters of Miner and Howard University assisting the Washington Alumni Chapter as hosts to the visiting brothers.

The serious problems of the day will occupy the delegates' attention in the daily and evening sessions, but this part of the agenda has been balanced with an attractive entertainment calendar in line with the holiday mood of the Yuletide season.

Two pre-conclave "Get Acquainted" receptions are scheduled for Sunday, December 26, with a dance at the National Guard Armory on Monday, December 27; the annual Kappa banquet at Hotel Statler on Thursday, December 30. Other local Greek-letter fraternities and sororities are cooperating with Kappa chapters in providing entertainment for the visiting brothers. This will mark the first conclave in Washington since 1936.

Entry blanks must be in by Saturday, December 18, 1954. Judges will begin judging the displays beginning Sunday night, December 19, 1954 at 7:00 p. m.

Life Is Like That-

(Continued from Page Two) men can learn and thus control natural forces, to some extent at least, we have gradually lost our fear of the impersonal.

But we, on the other hand, have learned to fear men increasingly. Why? Because unregenerate human nature equipped with power is the most terribly destructive force on earth. It is the meanest, most cruel most sadistic, most vicious power of all.

No species of wild beasts or combination of them can inflict such cruelties and devastation as man. Instruments of wholesale destruction with which the monuments of civilization, built up during centuries, can be torn down over night; torture chambers, concentration camps, systematic starvation, slavery, etc., these are the inventions and devices of men, men without God, men carnal and unregenerate.

Nobody fears a pocket-knife, axe, pitchfork, sword, pistol, machine gun, airplane or even a hydrogen bomb in itself. We do not even fear them if they fall into the hands of men of good will, men truly born of God. The reason is this: we know that a Christ-like man is harmless whatever his power or the instruments at his control. But when fearful instruments of destruction fall into the hands of men who have no God in them, men who are selfish, ambitious, and merciless, we fear with good reason.

What, then, is the solution to our fears? Drew Pearson says that we have tried every thing from pitch forks to atom bombs to effect peace and failed. He suggests that we now try the Sermon on the Mount.

What Mr. Pearson means, is this: Jesus Christ is our only hope, and the world's against self-destruction and for social salvation.

Straight Ahead

The pattern of segregation is going to change, no matter who opposes it. It's just a question of how smooth the changeover can be, and anyone who helps in clearing the way will be performing real service. The whole television industry has demonstrated how effective it could be in such a situation. Let's hope it is able to play the part it should play.

Man Arrested For Wearing 2 Coats: 1 A Woman's Coat

It is generally accepted that it is alright for a man to wear two coats, but when one of the coats is a woman's coat, police officers naturally become inquasitive. 68-year old Fantz Petree of 407 Henry Street found that out last Friday night when he was taken into custody by detectives who found him wearing under his open topcoat a woman's coat that he had stolen from a Main Street Store a few minutes earlier.

A short while before Petree was arrested, the My Shop reported the theft of a three-quarter length red coat by a man who had gone out of the Parish Street rear entrance and headed south. Not long afterwards, detectives W. H. Upchurch and L. L. Wilkie saw Petree at the corner of Liberty and Cleveland Streets. In talking with him, the officers discovered that he was wearing a red coat under his own topcoat. Further investigation showed it to fit the description of the coat stolen from the My Shop.

Petree was booked on a shop-lifting charge.
