

MRS. THOMAS W. SHERARD

Miss E. Christine Ford And Thomas W. Sherard United In Holy Wedlock

In one of the most fashionable weddings of the season, Miss E. Christine Ford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mannor J. Ford, 345 Forrest St., Jersey City, N. J., became the bride of Mr. Thomas W. Sherard of Chicago, Ill., son of Mrs. Ethel Sherard and Benjamin F. Sherard, Chicago, Friday afternoon, Dec. 31st, 1954 in Salem Baptist Church, Jersey City. Rev. A. Laws officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a gown of white moire and velvet, styled with a sweetheart neckline, fitted pointed sleeves ending in a three tiered velvet chapel train. A fingertip veil was attached to a velvet butterfly crown. She carried white carnations with a single red one for a center. All of the attendants wore white gowns of white tulle and net with matching white tulle crowns. They carried red candles and wore wrist corsages of white carnations. The maid of honor, Miss A. Vivian Boone, Newark, N. J. wore the same attire but carried a white candle and wore a wrist corsage of red carnations. The church was lighted only by candles. Other attendants included Misses Elsie Smiles, New York City; Eleanor Johnson and Mrs. Cammuriel Davis, Jersey City; Mrs. Gwendolyn Edwards, sister of the groom, Chicago, Ill.

The bride's mother chose a gown of aqua tulle and lace with matching aqua accessories, while the groom's mother wore a gown of peach taffeta. Leon

Hillside School Observes Negro History Week

February 13th through 20th is dedicated to the 30th Annual Celebration of National Negro History Week. Since its establishment in 1926 by Dr. Carter G. Woodson, the observance spread to some foreign countries.

The theme this year is: "Negro History a Contribution to America's Inter-Cultural Life."

The Negro History Classes have prepared special reports for each day depicting the lives of outstanding Negroes in music, art, literature, science, sports, business and government. Mrs. Marie J. Speigner is instructor.

Guest speakers for Wednesday's classes were Mr. J. S. Steward, outstanding business and civic leader, and Mr. Colbert Jones, of the North Carolina College History Department, and an authority on Negro History.

On Tuesday, over their weekly program on Radio Station WDNC at 5:15 p.m. The Broadcaster's Club presented the life of Dr. James E. Shepard, founder of North Carolina College, and a pioneer in intercultural relations. Appearing on this program were: Beverly Wright, James Herndon, John Gibson, Mary Ann Daniels, Dovesene Wiggins, and Walter Manuel.

The Lambda Chapter of Tau Gamma Delta Sorority is presenting for the first time in Durham, "The Blue Revue," on February 21, at 8:00 P. M. in the Hillside High School Auditorium. The Blue Revue will consist of local talent.

The proceeds from this show will bring some activity to the individuals who are confined to the Cates Boarding Home.

Panel On 'Child Growth' Set For Local Schools

Thursday, Feb. 24, at 7:30 P. M., in the school cafeteria, Miss J. L. Rebentisch will conduct a forum on "Child Growth and Development" at the regular Parent-Teachers meeting of The W. G. Pearson Elementary School.

Parents' attitudes toward the following topics will be stressed: Children's interest in funny books; teenage boy-girl relationship; children's companions; selection of movies and television programs; sister-brother relationship and adjustment of pupil to members of same age group.

At present Miss Rebentisch is Associate Professor in the Department of Maternal and Child Health, School of Public Health, University of North Carolina—B.S., M.A., Teachers College, Columbia University.

In addition to experience as a nursery school teacher, she has had many years experience in working with children as instructor of pediatric nursing in graduate and basic programs, and in Public Health.

Cub Scouts will be in charge of devotions. Mr. George White, president, will preside.
