

Sixth Anniversary Held For Bronze Mayor Frizelle Daye In Walltown

The Walltown Bronze Mayor and Council observed their sixth anniversary, March 6, at 3 p.m., at the St. John Baptist Church.

The program was opened by singing "Jesus Keep Me Near the Cross" after which the invocation was given by Alonzo Hill. The music was rendered by "The Community Male Chorus" and "The Friendly City City Gospel Singers." The welcome address was given by Rev. L. M. Gooch, the pastor of St. John Baptist Church. The history was read by Miss Juanita Watson and followed with a solo by Bernard Bass. J. J. Henderson had the opportunity to introduce the guest speaker of the day, W. J. Kennedy, Jr., the president of the North Carolina Mutual Life Insurance Company, after which there were remarks by Miss Cleo Russell.

The Honorable platform guests were Mrs. I. H. Russell, the Walltown school retired principal and Hubert S. Robinson, Sr., the city Councilman from Chapel Hill.

FRIZELLE DAYE

Frizelle Daye was awarded a Gold Plate which was presented by Rev. L. M. Gooch. It was given by the citizens of Walltown for his loyal service during the past six years.

The services ended with the benediction which was given by the Rev. W. T. Ratcliff.

Miss Allen

(Continued from Page One) Subsequently she was tried in High Point Municipal Court and convicted of issuing worthless checks in the amount of $252.58. For this the court imposed a total sentence of $25 and suspended on condition that she stay on good behavior for two years.

In the Greensboro court this week, Miss Allen (Augusta Jones) was charged with forging six checks totaling $402, in Greensboro stores February 18 and 19. She was placed under $1,000 after the hearing in Municipal-County Court.

The 30-year-old woman during her spending spree had gone a long way towards elaborately furnishing the quarters in which she proposed to operate her school of charm. Detectives found expensive mirrors on the walls, lush carpets on the floor, and other high-price accessories. The merchandise purchased also included several dresses, an expensive pen and pencil desk set, several floor and table lamps and a quantity of drapery material.

With the latest court action in Greensboro and counts pending against the young lady in other laces, it seems that her dreams of success as a charm school operator have been shattered beyond repair, at least in Durham, if not all over North Carolina.

Boycott

Speaking for the council, actor Dick Campbell reported that during the last month, meetings of the committee with broadcasting and advertising representatives of the American Broadcasting Company and the National Broadcasting Company had brought "sympathy everywhere" but no improvement in the Negro employment situation.

Campbell said that Negroes are "almost totally excluded from employment in the radio and television industry," he added.

"If television shows a subway scene," he asserted, "there is not a single Negro in that subway. When bus drivers, doctors and policemen are portrayed, no Negroes can be seen."

Herbert Hill, national labor secretary of the NAACP, emphasized that the boycott campaign has the full support of the NAACP.

"It is the supreme mission of the association to change the image of the Negro in the consciousness of white Americans. We want for once and for all to put an end to the Amos and Andy image of the Negro in American life."

Banker

The late banker, a life-long Republican, had served on the Republican State Committee for the District, since 1932, and supported Dewey for President, at the GOP Convention, in 1948. He was a member of the Fair Employment Board of the Civil Service Commission until it was replaced, recently, by the President's Committee on Government Employment, and was also a member of the Selective Service Appeals Board.

He was a past president of the National Bankers' Association, a trustee of Lincoln Temple Congregational Church, and a director of the Twelfth St. YMCA.

Besides his son, B. Doyle Mitchell, who succeeded him as president of the bank, Mr. Mitchell is survived by his widow, Mrs. Beatrice Patten Mitchell, a daughter, Mrs. Rosina Mitchell Hayes, and three grand-children.

He was buried Wednesday, in Lincoln Memorial Cemetery, following services at 2:30 p.m., at Lincoln Temple Congregational Church, Eighteenth and R-Streets, N.W.

Mitchell

"This part of the program is fraudulent so far as colored citizens are concerned," he asserted.

It is "fraudulent," he explained, because "the Department of Defense knows that the National Guard program will not be available to colored people in a great many states, and especially will this opportunity be lacking in the states where the colored population is heaviest."

The NAACP official urged sub-committee members to incorporate a provision in the bill specifying that all National Guard units, including those of the Air National Guard, "shall be open to qualified persons without regard to race."

He warned that segregated National Guard units in southern states places "a greater strain" on northern states which have integrated units.

For this reason, Mr. Mitchell maintained, his proposed amendment would be in the interest not just of colored citizens but "of all persons who may be affected by the proposed National Reserve Plan."

He challenged sub-committee members not to "sound the alarm and subject the whole country to a program of compulsory military service" if "there is still time to cater to petty sectional prejudices based on race."

(Continued from Page One) sirens rang in Schmidt's ears and the cops there picked him up and held him until notified by the police at Haledon that Schmidt was in the clear.

EVIDENCE AGAINST HIM NEWARK, N. J. Detectives spotted Dave Smith, 46, walking down the street carrying a burlap bag that seemed to be alive. They found six chickens in the bag — live ones.

Dave said he bought them at the market. When the cops took him back, they found that the market was closed. But nearby was a truck loaded with crates of live chickens. One crate had been pried open. Suspecting foul play anyway and confronted with such evidence, the officers held Dave on larceny charges.

SCHEME BACKFIRED Unemployed Chef William Morgan received a telegram congratulating him for winning a basketball pool. He dashed to tell his landlady. She was thrilled, applauded his plan to invest in a hotel, and lent him money to celebrate. A week later, Chef Morgan was jailed for obtaining money under false pretense. He had sent the telegram to himself.

Also "Plenty Good Room" and "Sister Mary Had a But One Child," arranged by Roland Hayes; "Joshua Fit de Battle of Jerico," arranged by Byron Arnold; and "A Witness," arranged by Charles Ingsford.

The meeting opened with a brief devotional service consisting of the opening hymn "Come Ye Fount of Every Blessing," a prayer by Mrs. Maria Judd, and the hymn "Trust and Obey." Mrs. Cousins was at the piano.

Following devotions, the president made a short talk in which he expressed gratification relative to the enthusiasm shown by the members of this new organization. He said that "the present rate of growth is an indication that the club is meeting a real need. It is affording us the opportunity really to know and appreciate our neighbors and to become real friends rather than merely casual acquaintances."

A brief business session followed in which the minutes of the previous meeting were read and adopted, business matters transacted, and committee reports made.

Three numbers were rendered in a short program: A poem by Mrs. Leathers, a solo by Mrs. Maria Judd, and a paper by Mrs. Theresa Hall.

At this point, dues were paid by the members and six new members were received. Those joining were Rev. Ell Thompson, W. L. Thompson, Johnnie Cousins, Mrs. Daisy Nevels, Mrs. Gilda Sampson, and Miss
