

Dr. Thomas Henderson Re-Elected CIAA President

SPEAKING ABOUT SPORTS

BY GIL RILEY

North Carolina College extended its welcome mat this week to a former student and basketball player, Charlie Harrison, who is now taking a break from the rough grind of a strenuous regular season. An All-American selection last year with the championship Eagles, Harrison proved himself worthy of a position among NCC's all time greats.

Tex feels that he has gained very valuable experience from his first season with the "Fabulous Trotters" and that he will profit by this experience.

He will rejoin the team in Chicago on April 11, and will complete the season with the "A" team.

Chip is Ready
The word is going around the circuit very rapidly now that "Chip is Ready." Just in case you fans don't remember who "Chip" is, He is James Sligh of Winston-Salem, the sensational freshman of the 1953-54 Eagles. Sligh was one of the top players in the C.I.A.A. that year but was ineligible for play this season due to scholastic difficulty. "Chip" has returned and overcome his difficulty and is patiently waiting for next season. I am sure that the smile that rests on the face of Coach Floyd Brown's face can mean only one thing—"Chip is Ready!"

Overlooked?
This year, the top miler in the CIAA is known to be Andy Graham of NCC. Andy is a senior and captain of the track team, so this is last season.

The top high school miler in the state last season was Charles Devaugh of Hillside. In a race between Graham and Devaugh last season, Devaugh finished a few strides behind Graham. Devaugh's best time to date has been 4:35, which isn't bad for high school or the CIAA. It seemed very probably that Devaugh was headed for NCC, but suddenly interest seemed to fade, and he wound up at Fayetteville State Teachers College. Was he overlooked? That's the way it looks to me.

Two Promising Pittsburgh Youngsters, Contenders For Berths With Famous Clowns, In Camp Here

WINSTON-SALEM

Two youngsters from Pittsburgh will get their big chance with the nationally famous Indianapolis Clowns this season and are now at the Furmakers' training camp here working out daily in preparation for the Clowns' opening game at Memorial Stadium, Greensboro, this coming Sunday afternoon, April 10, against Dick Lundy and his New York Black Yankees' popular aggregation.

Billy "Beaver" Harris Jr., a nephew of Vic Harris, former star of the Homestead Grays, an all-around infielder, is looking for a berth in the Clowns' inner circle. He's only 18, weighs 150 and stands 5'7". Young Harris has plenty of speed, a good pair of hands and takes a healthy cut at the plate. He has played semi-pro ball in the Pittsburgh area.

Donald Feabry, the other rookie working out with the club, is 19, weighs 170, stands 5'11" and only last year graduated from the Fifth Avenue High School. Also an infielder, Feabry specializes at short and second, and is a righthander all the way. He worked out with the Clowns last season for several days and comes to the club with all the promise of making the grade.

The Clowns, with their new and bigger-than-ever fun show, headed by King Tut, Spec Bebob and the Clowns' Clown Ed Hamman, are out for a big season during 1955. The comedians will get an assist from their new first baseman, Jim "Natureboy" Williams, whose comedy at first closely resembles that of Reece "Goose" Tatum, who got his start as a first baseman for the Furmakers of baseball.

Following their appearance at Greensboro, the Clowns are slated to take on the Statesville Eagles on Easter Monday afternoon at 2:30 in Statesville, and that same night will cross bats with the Lenoir Indians at Lenoir, giving fans of this area an exciting holiday two-game preview of the 1955 edition of the four-time Negro American League champions.

HENRY A. KEARNS, RECREATION EDUCATION AND ATHLETICS; RAYMOND H. KEMP, TENNESSEE'S DIRECTOR OF HEALTH, PHYSICAL EDUCATION, RECREATION AND ATHLETICS.

A University of Michigan doctoral candidate, Kemp will also coordinate graduate instruction and research work in the department. Pennsylvania born and educated Kemp won eleven letters at Cecil High School, Cecil, Pennsylvania and two at Pittsburgh's Duquesne University in track and football where he received both his B.S. and M. S. Degrees.

Eagle Netters Open Drills In Preparation For 1955 Season

DURHAM
With only one returning letterman from last year's tennis team, Coach James W. Younge has a tremendous rebuilding job before the 1955 season's opener against Tenn. A and I at Durham on April 7. Charles Joyner, Durham sophomore, is the lone returner from last year's team which last only one meet.

Younge says he believes that this frosh-studded team could be one of the best produced at North Carolina College. He stated that team cooperation would be necessary. Since NCC athletic funds are low, Younge plans to carry only four men this season.

Alan Townsend, Durham frosh; Malcom Little, Washington, N. C. frosh; Alfred Fisher, Durham junior; Dorian Perriotti, Ashbury Park, N. J. frosh; Ernest Ingram, Durham frosh; and Gilbert Riley, Durham frosh, form the bumper crop from which Coach Younge will choose his quartet.

Townsend, although a Durham lad, graduated from P. S. Jones High School in Washington, N. C. Townsend and Little played for Harold Hunter, former NCC basketball great. Fisher is a transfer student from Virginia Union. Since he was ineligible last year he will be seeking a position on this year's team.

Riley has been having conflicts in attempting to regulate class hours with the practice hours.

After the opener on April 7, the Eagle racksteers play host to Howard Bisons on April 15. On April 16 the Hampton Pirates come to Durham.

The Smith Bulls tangle with the Eagles on April 21 at Durham. Younge's netters journey to Hampton on April 23 for a return engagement. They move over to Charlotte on May 3 for an encounter with the J. C. Smith Bulls. The Eagles close out the regular season against Morgan on April 29 at Durham.

This Marks Fourth Time Union Dean Chosen

WASHINGTON, D. C.
Dr. Thomas H. Henderson was re-elected president of the Central Intercollegiate Athletic Association for the fourth time here at the closing session of the 43rd annual meeting at Howard University here Saturday.

Dr. Henderson, dean of Virginia Union University, Richmond, Va., was re-elected along with the entire slate of incumbents who were given a vote of confidence by the newly established Committee on Committees. Officials who will administer the association's affairs for the coming year are G. G. Singleton, secretary-treasurer, Virginia State College, Petersburg, Va.; T. H. E. Jones, assistant secretary-treasurer, St. Paul's Polytechnic Institute, Lawrenceville, Va.; Manuel Rivero, Lincoln University, Pa., vice president, Northern Dist.; L. D. Smith, Virginia Union University, vice president, Central District; James E. Lyle, Shaw University, Raleigh, N. C., vice president, Southern Dist.; Dr. W. H. Robinson, chairman, Eligibility Committee, N. C. College, Durham, N. C.; and R. D. Armstrong, Rocky Mount, N. C., Commissioner of Football Officials.

Armstrong succeeds Prof. Benjamin Washington of Washington, D. C., who is ill in a Wilmington, Del., hospital. The 43rd session was dedicated to Mr. Washington and he was given a special appreciation award, a certificate of merit, and a cash donation.

Some 60 representatives of the conference's 18 member institutions attended the three day session at Carver Hall.

Two of the items considered by the association were submitted for approval by the Council of CIAA Presidents. The first proposed that West Virginia State College be allowed to continue its membership in the CIAA while entering the West Virginia Conference. This proposal was approved for a one year period while the CIAA studies "developments."

The proposal for West Virginia also included "other colleges similarly situated." It was explained that with the coming of integration other colleges may face the situation of having to join regional conferences while desiring to maintain their CIAA affiliations.

The second proposal submitted by the Council of CIAA Presidents limited the number of football players to 36. It was submitted by the chairman of the Council, Dr. Martin D. Jenkins of Morgan State College, Baltimore, Md., who asked the league to approve the proposal "without amendments." Dr. Jenkins explained, however, that the Council would receive "exceptions" after approval of the request ceiling.

A spirited discussion followed Dr. Jenkins' remarks. In his presentation, Dr. Jenkins noted that the proposal had some drawbacks, but he thought it "would help equalize competition between the conference's small and large schools." He said he thought the plan would also effect economies in the schools.

Several CIAA representatives said they had been instructed by their presidents to vote for the proposal, but some of them said they personally opposed the 36 player ceiling.

Several CIAA representatives said they had been instructed by their presidents to vote for the proposal, but some of them said they personally opposed the 36 player ceiling.

As the rule now applies, a list of players must be submitted by October 1 1955, and these players are the only ones who will be eligible for competition. No allowance was made for vacancies by injuries, failures, or transfers.

CIAA President Henderson and a special conference committee are now planning to appeal to the council for modifications of the ceiling as it is now.

Approval of the ceiling was carried by a 12-6 vote. Colleges voting against the 36 player limitation plan included Fayetteville (NC) Teachers, Hampton (Va.), Johnson C. Smith (NC), Virginia Union, Winston-Salem (NC) Teachers, and Lincoln (Pa.). Voting for the measure were Bluefield (W. Va.) State, Delaware State, Howard, Maryland State, Morgan State, North Carolina A and T, North Carolina College at Durham, St. Augustine's (NC), St. Paul's Polytechnic Institute, Virginia State, and West Virginia State.

Among the delegates registering for the first three day's sessions were four representing NCC. They were H. Riddick, Floyd Brown, W. H. Robinson and I. G. Newton.

A panel discussion on "Aid to Athletes" was held on Friday. Participants included Dr. T. P. Fraser, Morgan State, chairman; President Martin D. Jenkins, Morgan; T.H.E. Jones, St. Paul's; Dr. E. L. Jackson, Delaware State; and Dr. T. H. Henderson. Committee reports concluded the 43rd session.

According to reports, the Rams are a top-flight baseball team, having on the team several boys who appear destined for diamond greatness.

Do CRAMPS give you that monthly look? Why let tall tales, "cramps" show in your eyes? Does your mirror show an older-looking, worn-out, narrow face during your "bad days"? Why let men see that you are suffering from monthly cramps? Try a little Cardui each day as thousands of women do. Let it help build strength and resistance so you have less and less misery each month. Some go through periods without feeling any discomfort at all. Also helps relax jittery nerves—sleep better. Look, feel, act younger, more normal all month. Ask for Cardui. (Say "card-goo-ee").

Hampton Tennis Team Faces Twelve Matches

HAMPTON, Va.
The Hampton Institute tennis team has scheduled twelve matches for the 1955 season of CIAA play which begins Sat. April 9, with a meet at Virginia Union University in Richmond.

Runners-up in regular season play last year, the Private net squad coached by Herman N. (Buck) Nelson and Robert Martin, has four returning veterans slated for heavy duty, plus an exceptional crop of newcomers to give the team considerable depth that could easily spell another high finish.
