(Continued from Page One) port which evoked much enthusiasm and a prompt reelection. The same prevailed when Grand Treasurer Perry Jackson and Grand Legal Advisor Perry W. Howard made their reports. Howard has handled the legal matters of the Order for nearly half a century and has a record of "never having lost a case" for IBPOEW.

Among The Winners
Among the top prize winners of the five-mile parade which required three hours to pass a given point, were the following: Best band, Quaker City Lodge No. 720; Uniform band, O. V. Catto No. 20; Largest band, Henry Lincoln Johnson No. 630, New York. Best Junior band, Tennessee Valley No. 1152 from Knoxville; and the Manhattan Temple No. 93, NYC. Women's marching unit was declared the best dressed in their class. There were more than two score other prize winners announced.

The local Atlantic City Press was very generous in all its coverage of the entire convention, both in news and photos.

Desegregation

ing compliance are Virginia, Kentucky, Oklahoma, Tenn., and North Carolina. In all of these at least one local school board has announced its intent to desegregate or has made definite desegregation plans.

The six states in which school desegregation was initiated by at least one community between May 17, 1954, and May 31, 1955, are Delaware, Maryland, West Virginia, Missouri, Arkansas and Texas. In these states, and the District of Columbia, some 250,000 Negro and white children were sharing classrooms in 500 previously segregated schools by May 10, 1955.

In four states—Kansas, New Mexico, Arizona and Wyoming, public school segregation was permissive. In some measure school segregation prevailed in all of these except Wyoming, which has a minimum Negro population. The three other permissive states started school desegregation before May 31.

In only six states has there been lack of indication by any community of intent to comply with the Court's anti-segregation school rule. These are Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi and S. C.

Locally Known Woman Passes In Wasington

WASHINGTON
Mrs. Sadie Sumner Ingram, a cousin of the late Mrs. Minnie S. Pearson died Monday, August 22, in Washington, D. C. at her home, 121 Columbia Road, N. W. Mrs. Ingram taught in the high school here for a number of years. She leaves three sisters, Mrs. Miner Peterson and Miss Mary Summer of the home, and Mrs. Westmorland. A niece, Miss Jean Westmorland and a large number of relatives and friends.

Wm. Black

(Continued from Page One) charm ads, Mr. Black, through his untiring efforts was soon able to prove that the Negro press could be profitably used by major advertisers as a medium for their products.

A pioneer in the field, Black introduced many of the advertising innovations in wide use today. Among these are the use of Negro models, sales personnel, and point-of-sale merchandising.

Born in Lake City, Fla., he was a resident of Hastings-on-Hudson, N. Y., and held a Second Lieutenant's Commission in the New York State Guard. Mr. Black served with the Fifteenth Infantry Regiment during World War II.

Al Smith Sparks Crippled Mates

CLEVELAND, O.
To Cleveland, Al Smith is just about the most valuable player in six positions and is their lone .300 hitter. This week he stepped into Larry Doby's job as centerfielder. What with Larry due to be out for three weeks and perhaps the rest of the season, Smith, a Negro, will be carrying the major weight of the club on his shoulders.

Case of Three

(Continued from Page One) mistead M. Dobie, both of the U. S. Fourth Circuit Court. Believed to be the first school segregation suit in the United States since the May 31 Supreme Court edict ordering a "prompt and reasonable start" toward desegregation, the case is due to arouse nation-wide interest.

Prepared by the NAACP, the suit was answered in a document prepared by Attorney General W. B. Rodman and Asst. Attorney General I. Beverly Lake.

Way To Learn If Marriage Will Be Success

WASHINGTON, D. C.
Picture, if you can, the romantic young couple, walking up to a machine, inserting a coin, and knowing within a matter of minutes whether their contemplated marriage will be a success or failure.

Fantastic? Well, maybe not. In this era of "push-button" living Howard University has acquired a machine which can predict, with a great degree of accuracy, whether or not a marriage will be successful. The instrument is the HUEAC (Howard University Electronic Analog Computer). Installed last month at a cost of $10,500, it is one of the latest of the so-called "thinking machines."

HUEAC does not "think," however, and Dr. Herman R. Branson, professor of physics at Howard, is quick to admit it. "The instrument is no better than its operator," he says. "Supply it with the right formulae, and it will be 100 per cent accurate. Misinform HUEAC, and she'll reciprocate."

12-Year-Old

(Continued from Page One) made the decision for Gloria. Said Mrs. Key Tuesday night, "I think the Lord has been very very good to Gloria and I decided we would stop here." The money will go into a trust fund for Gloria's education. Gloria is a Sunday School pupil in her grandfather's church — Orchard Street Methodist Church in this city. She has lived with her grandparents since early childhood. Modest and unassuming, she possesses confidence and has rare poise as she tackles words that would stump many a college professor. Her $8,000 climax word last week was "antidistastabularism." This week she hurled the sentence, "The belligerent arthritic anthropologist annihilated innumerable chrysanthemums."

Miss Patricia Ann Daniels left last Tuesday for Norfolk, Virginia, where she is visiting her sister, Mrs. Bessie Whitehurst. Miss Daniels is the daughter of Mrs. Rosa Daniels, 608 Ramsey Street. She will return September 4.

N. C. Ushers

(Continued from Page One) the winners in the annual oratorical contest. In addition to the scholarships a check for $1,250 was given the Colored Orphanage at Oxford. The Ushers Association has been making an annual donation to the Orphanage for the past 10 or 12 years.

Reports of the various committees disclosed that the organization is growing in financial and numerical strength, as well as in stature. The program for the new year calls for expansion into several counties and cities of the state. On Sunday, October 9, at 3:00 P. M. the Association will present the internationally known singer, Roland Hayes in concert in the Memorial Auditorium in Raleigh. The proceeds will go toward the department of charity of the Association and will be divided between the three organizations now being supported by the Ushers, namely: the Oxford Colored Orphanage, Scholarships and the proposed home for aged ministers and ushers. Tickets are now on sale throughout the state and may be purchased for $2.00 in advance. The price of admission at the door will be $2.25. All seats in the auditorium will be reserved.
