ROLAND HAYES CONCERT IN RALEIGH, SUNDAY, OCT. 9th

Who are the favorite concert artists of the artists themselves? In the case of two of them, light is shed on the question by a recent episode in the life of Roland Hayes, the eminent tenor, who will give a recital on Sunday, Oct. 9, at 3:00 p.m. at Memorial Auditorium, Raleigh.

Fritz Kreisler had played to a very large audience at Symphony Hall, Boston. At the end of the recital, there was a great crush of admirers in the reception room. From the throng, the distinguished violinist singled out one figure toward whom he pressed his way, his face radiating pleasure.

Negro Rescues White Girl From Mad Sex Fiend

NEW YORK
You always see the story of the Negro who attacks the white woman. This one is different. It involves a 14 year old white girl, who struggled for nearly an hour on the roof of a New York High School—Evander Childs—with a white attacker. It was a young Negro who was the knight in shining armor. He punched the fiend, hepled the victim Jo Rosenfeld to a taxi, gave her $2. for the fare and then left without waiting to be thanked.

The girl's mother told police the story: of how her daughter had stayed after school to help (Please turn to Page Eight)

Negroes in this area whose votes were challenged during the state Democratic primary election have been questioned by FBI agents who began investigation following complaints filed by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People with the Department of Justice. On September 7, Warren Olney III assured a delegation headed by Roy Wilkins, NAACP executive secretary, that a thorough investigation would be made.

The Lowndes County committee resolution called for enactment of a state law "making it a criminal act for any federal agent, officer or employee to interfere with, impede or seek to investigate any matter which lies wholly within the power, authority and jurisdiction of the State of Mississippi, and prescribing a penitentiary sentence as a penalty for violation thereof."
