

Sun Today May Hurt Tomorrow

Overdoing the sun this summer, instead of giving you that fashionable tan you seek, may result only in an "overdone" look—red, blistering, painful as it appears. Repeated year after year, this parching procedure can push premature wrinkles, leave blemishes no cosmetic can cure, according to beauty experts.

Their advice is to take your tanning in small doses, wear dark glasses, and hide under an umbrella now and then. Don't forego frequent sun-oil baths. And at the first sore sign, cover up.

If you do get stung by too much sun—treat it carefully as you would any burn. Dip into the first-aid kit that should always accompany beach excursions and quickly apply "Vaseline" petroleum jelly.

When you get home, take a lukewarm shower and gently coat yourself again with the soothing jelly doctors recommend for minor burns. Wrap yourself in cotton or flannel and lie down for at least a half hour. Keep clothing loose—and stay out of the sun for a few weeks.

Remember, one careless season can ruin a whole year's skin-care. Don't let it happen to you!

time by those who heard him. Austin, being known far and wide for his gifted speeches.

Immediately following the program an elaborate reception was held in the modern, 3 story air-conditioned Elks Home on North York Street. As guests entered the home a 3 tiered anniversary cake was right before their eyes, and huge baskets of flowers were placed all over the home. Most of them were gifts from other organizations. There were so many flowers that they had to line them in array along the floor, there being no place else to put them. Visitors were present from Charlotte, N. C., Rock Hill, and Clover, S. C. So after a gala evening and night finally guests and friends departed the Elks home about 3:00 a.m. all Elks no doubt content with the knowledge of a program well put over.

4-H, NFA Show Scheduled At State College

4-H Club and NFA members from Wake and Johnston Counties will hold their Fourth Dairy Calf Show on Thursday, August 2, on the athletic field of Saint Augustine's College, Raleigh.

The show is sponsored annually by the Agricultural Workers of Wake and Johnston Counties and financed by the Raleigh Merchants Bureau of which G. Wesley Williams is Executive Secretary.

At 9:30 a.m. greetings will be brought by Dr. James A. Boyer, president of Saint Augustine's College. R. L. Wynn, Dairy Specialist at A. and T. College, will give a short demonstration on the quality points of a good dairy animal. J. D. George, Dairy Specialist of State College, will serve as the official judge.

According to the Agricultural Workers, this year's show has promise of being the best yet.

The committee is composed of W. C. Davenport and C. L. Boone, Wake Extension Agents; J. T. Locke, T. J. Culler, G. L. Laws, Leroy Burton, B. T. Williams and W. L. Graham, Vo-Ag teachers all of Wake County.

Also, L. R. Johnson and M. E. Riddick, Extension Agents, and M. B. Albright, Vo-Ag teacher, all of Johnston County.

The public is invited.

MRS. LETTIE SMITH IS STATE DELEGATE TO ELKS CONFAB

GASTONIA Mrs. Lettie Smith, Dr. State President of N. C. Elks, was elected as delegate from the State Temple to attend the Elks National Convention which convenes in Los Angeles, California in August. At this time Mrs. Smith is also a Grand Assistant. Escort appointed by the Grand D. Ruler, Mrs. Nettie Carter Jackson.

Rev. Kemp P. Battle, State President of all N. C. Elks, and Grand Esteemed Lecturing Knight from Rocky Mt., will also attend the National Convention. At this time, due to the distance away, some of the regular attendance of N. C. Elks will not be as great. But there are a few whom we feel sure will attend. Among these will be: Dtrs. Nora E. Bailey, Rocky Mt., Grand Traveling Deputy, 2nd Vice President of Dtr. Elks, and Past State recording Secretary; Mrs. Bessie Chavis, District Deputy from Raleigh; Mrs. Tempie McLaurin, a District Deputy from the Wilmington area; Mrs. Kemp P. Battle, State Directress of the N. C. Cottage fund for the John Brown Farm; Mrs. Tempie Sanders, also a district deputy from the Tarboro Area; Rev. and Mrs. Paul Davis, Charlotte and many others too numerous to mention at this time. We feel sure that the crosscountry trip will be an enjoyable one for all who will go and we also feel that the Grand National Convention will be as great as ever.

Moloch Lodge of Elks celebrated their 32nd anniversary, and also honored nine charter members. They were: Brothers Napoleon Adams, Claude Blair, Vernon Curry, James Adams, Leroy Pite, Monroe Reid, John Holland, Johnny Williams, and Clarence Rainey. Guest speaker for the occasion was L. E. Austin, Publisher of the Carolina Times, Durham, Honorable Leon Schneider and Rev. J. A. Belton, Pastor of the Host Church which was the St. Stephens A.M.E. Zion on North Marietta Street. Introducing Mr. Austin was Prof. T. Jeffers, Principal of Gastonia High School. Others on program were: "Genial" Jene Potts of Charlotte, a well known disc jockey who launched the elaborate souvenir books—mostly attesting the leadership of James Q. Falls who is Exalted Ruler of Moloch Lodge. The books were given to the audience. Prof. Ralph Gingles was in charge of the unveiling of the photographs appearing in Souvenir books. City Councilman, Nathaniel Barber introduced Exalted Ruler Falls who addressed, congratulated, and shook hands with the charter members. He also asked all Elk Brothens to stand. Speaking in behalf of Daughter Elks of Gastonia was this reporter who is State Recording Secretary of Daughters of Elks and who organized the Local Temple. Last on program was an unexpected guest. He was newly elected Congressman Basil Whitener from the Eleventh District of N. C.

There were about eight clubs and sororities and other organizations represented and their heads were introduced by District Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler George Spencer of Gastonia. Mr. Austin spoke before a capacity audience—being one of the largest gatherings of its kind ever held in Gastonia. To try to tell what Mr. Austin said or even to comment on his address would take up more space than any newspaper will allow, I'm afraid. But we can say it was forceful, up to date, and will, I'm sure be remembered a long time by those who heard him. Austin, being known far and wide for his gifted speeches. Immediately following the program an elaborate reception was held in the modern, 3 story air-conditioned Elks Home on North York Street. As guests entered the home a 3 tiered anniversary cake was right before their eyes, and huge baskets of flowers were placed all over the home. Most of them were gifts from other organizations. There were so many flowers that they had to line them in array along the floor, there being no place else to put them. Visitors were present from Charlotte, N. C., Rock Hill, and Clover, S. C. So after a gala evening and night finally guests and friends departed the Elks home about 3:00 a.m. all Elks no doubt content with the knowledge of a program well put over.

Montgomery Cleric Speaks In Twin City

WINSTON-SALEM Rev. A. W. Wilson, pastor of the Holt Street Baptist Church of Montgomery, Alabama is now conducting services each night at the Union Baptist Church, located on Northwest Boulevard. Rev. A. H. McDaniel is host pastor. Rev. Wilson is married and has one son. He has been pastor of his present church for a period of seven years.

Aside from his religious obligations, Rev. Wilson is a very well and wide known civic and political figure in his home town. Being a valiant and ardent advocate of Human Suffrage during the world renou situation of the bus protest in Montgomery.

From a personal interview with Dr. Wilson in regards to the present situation of the protest, we quote, "It is normal now and has accomplished more on a worldwide scale than it has locally.

"The citizens were acclaimed as being very cooperative by their passive resistance." Rev. Wilson is also a member of the Board of Directors of the Montgomery Improvement Association, Vice president of the Alabama Baptist State Convention and he also spent nine years with the Dept. of Christian Education for the State of Alabama.

Rev. Wilson's last personal remarks in regards to the present conditions in Montgomery were "We Are Still United and We Are Still Walking, he also stated," "I am now and always will be a staunch supporter for the rights of my people, not only in Alabama, but everywhere."

Upon the closing of his revival services Rev. Wilson will return to Montgomery to con-
