Before joining the American Friends Service Committee, Mr. Yoshino had been engaged in social welfare and public assistance work for the governments of Cook County, Illinois, and the State of Illinois, and in personnel work for private industry.

Prior to 1942 when all Japanese-Americans were evacuated from the West Coast areas, Mr. Yoshino had been in business in Alameda, California. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Y. Yoshino, still live in Alameda.

Mr. Butler, a native of Washington, D. C. is President of the District of Columbia Federation of Civic Associations; Vice President of the District of Columbia Industrial Unions Council; a Member of the Board of the Washington Urban League and consultant to the National Urban League.

Mr. Butler received his A. B. and A. M. Degrees in Economics at Howard University in Washington and took advanced study at the University of Chicago.

He served as an instructor in Economics at Howard University from 1935 to 1940; Counselor and Consultant to the American Youth Commission of the American Council on Education in 1937, and has served with the Department of Labor since the end of World War II, except for a two-year period beginning in 1951, when he served as Chief of the Manpower Requirements Division of the National Production Authority.

Anniversary

(Continued from page 1) Predicting great progress within the next five years, Mr. Washington stated that equal opportunity is "nearer than you think," and he mentioned the names of several "firsts" who, under the Eisenhower administration have been put into jobs and positions, along with some 300 other Negroes, in the over $8,000 income bracket, exclusive of those in atomic industry.

Mr. Washington paid tribute to the founders of the company, and particularly to Attorney J. S. Lanier, the only living founder.

Dr. F. L. Atkins, president of Winston-Salem Teacher College,

Rev. Kenneth R. Williams, pastor, West End Baptist Church and Rev. William R. Crawford, alderman and pastor of Mount Pleasant Methodist Church; and A. W. Harper, auditor.

The First Baptist Church Choir and J. W. Stinson, with Dr. James A. Dillard, at the organ, furnished music for the occasion.

Dr. Jerry Drayton, pastor of New Bethel Baptist Church, gave the invocation and pronounced benediction. Atty. J. L. Lassiter, director ordinary and education of Winston Mutual, introduced company officials and personalities.

Sidney James

The charge continues that "in the presence of his children he drew a revolver and expressed his intention of killing her there and then. She ran through the house, secured a kitchen knife in order to protect herself and children; having in the meantime sent the oldest child next door to call the officer of the law."

"Officers immediately arrived and disarmed" James, "taking from him an unregistered revolver and indicted him for same. Having been tried in Recorder's Court and pleading "not guilty", "he was found guilty by the court."

"It was found not counting his unregistered firearms, he had registered an even dozen pistols and automatics of various types and makes."

She said "since the beating he gave her, he has returned home and beat her in the presence of his children, in a most inhumane manner cursing her in the most vile language."

Mrs. James charges in the indictment that her husband "spends money lavishly upon other women and drives about the country in an air-conditioned, high powered Oldsmobile."

"This plaintiff is without means of support and has no money with which to employ counsel to prosecute her cause."

Wilkins

It would be to subject our by public officials and private groups and individuals," the NAACP leader said that "to turn the list of our members over to Alabama authorities under such circumstances would be to betray their trust and confidence in us. It would be to subject our members to loss of employment, to denial of credit, to threats and intimidation, as well as to possible physical violence."

Because of the Association's "unbroken record of compliance with court orders and laws," Mr. Wilkins declared the decision to withhold the list in the face of the court's order was a difficult one to make. "However," he said, "the atmosphere in Alabama and the incidents that have been taken place there have been such that we feel compelled to protect our members at whatever cost."

Inauguration

(Continued from page 1) firmed with election to the position at a meeting of the trustee board held last January. He had served at the college, both as instructor and dean of the School of Education and Science for more than a quarter century.

Other presidents who had preceded Dr. Gibbs, included James O. Crosby, 1892-1896; Dr. James E. Dudley, 1896-1925 and Dr. Bluford, 1925-1955.

NEGRO FAIR WILL OPEN SEPTEMBER 10

Rev. M. F. Ward, who this year will take over the management of the Durham County Negro Fair announces that the Fair this year will open its doors on Monday September 10th at 7 P.M., the Rev. Ward states that the Fair this year will be a decided improvement over other Fairs staged by the association due to the fact that each department has been fully revised and improved and this is especially true with respect to the increased premium and prizes to be offered to farmers and the local schools.

The Durham County Negro Fair which this year commences its 20th year of consecutive showing to the citizens of Durham County, has been for many years fully approved by the State Board of Agriculture at Raleigh and is among the leaders in its field in the operation of fairs.

Local Negro High Schools will for each one that enters a booth receive a prize of $20, the winner of which will receive the grand prize of $50. In the grammar schools the same prizes will be offered so that they will not have to compete with the High Schools.

There will be a children's matinee on Saturday September 15th.
