

ing nations together, continued the Social Welfare Adviser, "is at its imperfect best, the only answer that we have so far found to this gigantic problem, and it is in this area that the United Nations must succeed, if it is to succeed at all. And mind you, to the extent that the United Nations does not succeed, or to the extent that a similar organization does not succeed, to that extent will mankind have failed.

Ability To Forget Past Success Factor

GREENSBORO
Concentration on the present, the ability to forget the past and a forward look were recommended to Bennett College students Sunday as the prime ingredients of a successful life.

Speaking at the 4 p.m. vesper service in Pfeiffer Chapel, the Rev. Melvin C. Swann, pastor of Bethel A.M.E. Church of Greensboro, used the life of the Apostle Paul as symbolic of these elements.

"Many a person has fallen not from a lack of ability but from failure life," he pointed out, "not from to concentrate on one thing at a time. The day of the jack-of-all trades is past, for this is an age of specialization."

The speaker said further that many persons go through life hobbled by their inability to forget unpleasant events of the past. "There are things to be remembered and things to be forgotten," he declared, listing among them blunders, losses,

Pender County School's Drama Group Working On Two Plays

ROCKY MOUNT
The dramatics club of the Pender County Training school is currently working on two productions to be presented in the near future. They are "Superstitious Sadie," by Jay Tobias and "Sittin' Pretty" by James Stone.

Officers of the dramatics clubs are Wilma McIntyre, president; Geraldine Everette, vice president; Deloris Pierce, secretary; Sadie Mercy, Assistant secretary; Deloris Jordan, chairman of the social committee, Wilma Armstrong, Reporter and Earl Hall, Sergeant at arms.

Leaders of the troop are Mrs. Julia McCormick, and Miss M. Barber.

Fun With English
The A and B sections of the ninth grade English classes have organized English clubs to help make class work more enjoyable and functional. All club activities have been planned to afford students a real challenge sorrows and sins. Anticipation of things to come, he emphasized, is a prime requisite for success. This ability to look ahead and to keep moving toward a distant goal, he concluded, has often been the difference between a successful life and one of failure.

for the study of the basic skills necessary for becoming better speakers and writers.

Two sections of the tenth grade have also organized and elected officers.

Officers of the Ten-A section are Wilma McIntyre, president; William Sidberry, vice president; Sadie Mercy, secretary; Sylvia White, assistant secretary; Deloris Weeks, treasurer; Brenda McIntyre and Wilma Armstrong, reporters; Catherine Armstrong, song leader; Geraldine Malloy and Leroy Hicks, sergeants-at-arms; LuePhemia Jones, Bertha Moore and Edna McIntyre, members of the social committee.

Mrs. Foster Sets PTA Aims At First Meeting Of Group

CHAPEL HILL
The first meeting of the Lincoln High School Parents Teachers Association for the school year was held in the Lincoln High School gymnasium with the newly elected president, Mrs. Hattie Foster presiding.

Mrs. Foster reminded the parents, patrons and teachers that this was their PTA, therefore any suggestions and constructive criticisms would be welcomed at all times.

Mrs. Foster, in her opening remarks to the members said, "The success of the PTA movement depends in large measure upon the understanding and cooperation of the citizens of the Community."

"It is desired for the members of the PTA to strive to build a harmonious relationship among the home, the school and the church, so that all three may work together with greater insight and understanding."

Mrs. Foster further stated that one of the main objectives is very simple and "it is to make ourselves at home in the modern world, goodwill and equality with all human beings. If our children are to grow into the intelligent and responsible citizens that is essential to a democratic government, we parents and teachers must make every effort to help them build good habits and provide them with quantities of wholesome and worthwhile leadership."

With these remarks Mrs. Foster challenged the group to work as never before so that the doors of opportunity may open wider to every man, woman and child, and that he may claim what is so rightfully his, a chance to live better, feel better, think better and serve his fellowman better."

Officers of the PTA are Gloria Stanley, president; Melvin Williams, vice-president; Thurman London, secretary; Olith R. Batts, assistant secretary; Hadold Sidbury, treasurer;

United Nations Official Gets Honorary Degree From Smith

CHARLOTTE
A crowd which overflowed the auditorium at Johnson C. Smith University witnessed the conferring of an honorary degree on a prominent United Nations official last Monday.

Ernest C. Grigg, Jr., United Nations Social Welfare Adviser to the Middle East, was awarded the honorary degree of Doctor of Humane Letters by President Hardy Liston in a special convocation. Dr. Grigg is responsible for providing advisory services in a broad social program to the governments of Egypt, Iraq, Israel, Jordan, Lebanon, Syria, Libya, Saudi Arabia, Yeman, Iran, Turkey, Ethiopia and the Italian Somaliland.

Such services include country-wide surveys and studies to determine Government long term plans, help in preparing new legislation, initiation of technical schools, encouraging and arranging for study abroad by selected personnel, assistance in developing basic plans for raising the standard of living of the total population, assistance in planning country-wide reconstruction programs, and related activities.

Before assuming the duties of his present position in 1952 he was director of Field Operations stationed at Geneva Headquarters with responsibility for directing the operations of all IRO offices located in Europe, in the Middle East, the Far East, Australia, New Zealand, North and South America. IRO with a budget of over $400,000,000 provided food and shelter for millions and resettled in new homes over 1,000,000 persons. There is practically no country in the world that IRO operations have not touched.

In an address following the conferring of the degree, Dr. Grigg declared scientific advancement "imposes upon society a tremendous responsibility to find some way by which man can live in harmony one with the other; some way in which his varying desires, his aspirations and his hopes can be brought into compatibility one with the other."
