Shaw U. Outclasses Elizabeth City, 19-0

ELIZABETH CITY
The Shaw University Bears took the measure of an outclassed Elizabeth City football team here last Saturday and scored a 19-0 victory over the Pirates.

The Bears tallied once in the first quarter, and once in the third and final periods.

Except for the lone Shaw touchdown midway the first quarter, the Elizabeth City Pirates played the visiting aggregation from Raleigh on fairly even terms. The Pirates throttled most of the Shaw offensive efforts in the first half and pretty well kept the Shaw team from mounting a serious scoring threat after its initial touchdown drive.

But, the Bears broke loose in the second half for two touchdowns, largely on the strength of the fine running of halfbacks Laverne Hunter and Homer Killings.

The Shaw offense monopolized play throughout most of the game, never allowing Elizabeth City a real opportunity to put together a scoring drive.

Hunter tallied the first Shaw touchdown on a one yard smash early in the first quarter. Short bursts through the Elizabeth City forward wall by Homer Killings, coupled with a fine 22 yard run by quarterback Donald Courts, had placed the Bears in scoring position on the Pirates' two.

Two brilliant runs by Laverne Hunter in the third quarter, one of 21 yards and another for 63, set up the second Shaw touchdown. Courts went over from his quarterback position at the one yard line for the TD.

In the final quarter, a host of freshman backs engineered Shaw's third touchdown drive. Leroy Alexander put the clincher on the drive with a 12 yard sweep around left end.

Louis Hagler booted the extra point following the last Shaw score.

Lincoln High Beats Warrenton For Fourth Conference Victory

WARRENTON
The rampaging Lincoln high school Tigers turned a game with Warren County Training school into a complete rout here on Friday, October 5, and buried the Warren gridders under a 40-0 score.

Freshman coach Willie Bradshaw's eager charges scored twice in the first quarter, twice in the second and kept up the pressure for two more second half touchdowns to win in a "walk."

The Tigers scored before the game was 50 seconds old. On the first play of the evening, All-State end candidate Bobby Norwood raced 50 yards on an end-around play for the initial touchdown. The conversion attempt was missed.

After the Warren County Training school got off a poor punt, the Tigers found themselves again in scoring position. This time, quarterback Winifred Johnson passed nine yards to Norwood for the second score. Braxton Foushee booted the extra point.

In the second quarter, Lincoln's potential all-state fullback James Atwater scored his eighth touchdown of the season by returning an intercepted pass 50 yards across the double stripe. George McNair booted the extra point.

Minutes later, McNair himself raced into the Warren County end zone with an intercepted pass for another Lincoln touchdown. The conversion attempt was missed.

Minutes later, McNair himself raced into the Warren County end zone with an intercepted pass for another Lincoln touchdown. The conversion attempt was missed.

In the third period, Cleavon Atwater scored on a plunge through the middle after Johnson had put the Tigers in scoring position with a 19 yard gain on the option play.

With four minutes left in the game, the Tigers came up with their favorite offensive strategy, the end around, to score the final touchdown. Fred Weaver carried the leather.

-The Issue-

ling away with this foolish militarism, Mr. Stevenson is proving himself to be definitely a man for peace. The people who are for peace in the modern world are the people who are willing to bring forth actions instead of words in favor of peace. Mr. Stevenson evidently believes, as we do, that at the present state of human progress war is a crime against civilization and that there are no differences among nations, including those between the United States and Russia, which cannot be settled justly without the threat or use of force. We hope and pray that Mr. Stevenson may be able to convince enough citizens of this country that this proposition is common sense to elect him as the next president of the United States so that Eisenhower may retire to his farm in Pennsylvania and be relieved of the responsibility of trying to lead this nation backward into the destruction which has been the lot of all great military powers in the history of the world.

Morgan Beats Howard, 41-0 In Homecoming

BALTIMORE, MD.
Stroking for single touchdowns in each of the first two quarters, and then stepping up the tempo to tally twice in the third and fourth periods, the Morgan Bears climaxed a colorful homecoming festival by routing the Howard University Bison, 41-0, before approximately 5,000 spectators who thronged Hughes Stadium for the event.

Jerome McArthur, Morgan candidate for little All-American honors, had a field day, reeling off touchdown gallops of 56 and 24 yds. in addition to electrifying the crowd with a 45-yd. dash of the non-scoring variety, and coming within an eyelash of breaking away again on a 41-yd. punt return.

The parade before the game featured the appearance of several high school bands from all over the state of Maryland, while the halftime activities centered around the making of awards and presentations to Dr. George H. Spaulding in honor of his twenty-five years' service to his alma mater as a teacher. In his undergraduate days the Chemistry department head was an outstanding track and football star.

Lincoln Tops Kentucky, 27-15

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo.
As a prelude to its game next Saturday against Langston University in Kansas City, the Lincoln University (Mo.) Tigers dumped Kentucky State 27-15 in a penalty ridden Midwest Conference game. The loss was the first for Kentucky.

Kentucky State gave up a total of 162 yards in penalties while the winners from Jefferson City, Mo., lost 70 yards in penalties.

Lee Calhoun, North Carolina College Junior, and Joel Shankle, graduate student at Duke University, wave goodbye to well wishers at the Durham-Raleigh airport as the pair prepare to embark for California where the 18th U.S. Olympic team began gathering this week. Calhoun and Shankle are two thirds of the United States' 110 meter high hurdles squad. Lt. Jack Davis of the U.S. Navy is the other member of the high hurdles squad. The U.S. Team is scheduled to leave for Australia, site of the Olympic games, sometime late this month. Members of the team will be put through finishing paces in California for the next few weeks before they embark for the "land down under."

PETERSBURG, Va.
The highly touted North Carolina College offense, unable to get off the ground in its first three outings this season, finally reared into high gear here last Saturday to subdue the Virginia State Trojans, 33-13.

Playing before an estimated 3,500 spectators at Rogers Stadium on the Virginia State campus, the North Carolinians unleashed a powerful air and land offensive which tallied touchdowns in every quarter, counting twice in the third period.

The two-way assault was spearheaded by the fine passing of quarterback Al Montgomery and the running of fullback Cliff Jackson. Montgomery's passing set up two NCC touchdowns and the Gastonia senior sprinted 55 yards for another.

Perhaps the outstanding thrill of the afternoon, however, was the scintillating 100 yard second half kick-off return by Virginia State's sophomore halfback George Moody. It provided the partisan Virginia roosters with one of their few chances to cheer.

Turner opened the scoring for the Eagles with a one yard plunger midway of the first quarter. Montgomery's 39 yard pass to end Charles Baron had placed the NCC team in scoring position.
