

Four Hollywood stars, Constance Bennett, Todd Andrews, Frank McHugh, and Robert Strauss will appear in a "Best of Steinbeck" program at North Carolina College at 8:15 p.m., Thursday, November 29. The well known quartet is shown above. Several popular pieces from the well known American author will be dramatized by the group. Reginald Lawrence is the adapter and Elliott Silverstein is director.

Whites Must Change Traditional Attitudes Toward Colored Peoples Of The World, Crack Newsman Says

ATLANTA, Ga. — The two explosive ingredients among Asians and Africans which might lead to revolution are anti-racism and anti-colonialism, newspaper correspondent Carl T. Rowan told an Atlanta University audience this week. Speaking at the opening of the Atlanta University Book Fair on "The World Crisis and the American Dilemma."

Rowan, whose recent travels in Asia and Africa are reported in his book, The Pitiful and the Proud, said that for too long the white peoples of the world had considered the darker races as stupid.

am sure the white nations will stick together on foreign affairs."

"I wish that Eastland and Talmadge had the job of being press officers for the United States in Calcutta or Bombay," he said as he related the anti-American sentiment occasioned by discrimination against an Indian in the Houston airport.

As for the Russians, Rowan feels that they are bluffing about going to war. "They feel that they don't have to go to war," he said. "They can just sit back and let American airplanes do the work for them."

Deplores U. S. Attitude Ignorance on the part of Americans as to the aspiration and hopes of the non-whites was deplored by Rowan. What we are really looking at, he said, are the seeds of turmoil. There are vast millions of human beings who have risen up and say we intend to be free.

Although Rowan saw some communism, he did not feel that this revolutionary movement was essentially pro-communist, but the expression of a desire, not for material things, but for dignity, to be accepted as part of the family of mankind.

Asians Suspicious The Asians are suspicious that the nations of the West conduct international affairs not on the basis of morality but on the basis of race, he said, citing the statement of Sherman Adams about the Suez crisis—"I

Cornerstone Is Laid For Church In Pineview

PINEVIEW — The pastor, Rev. Thurman H. Murphy, officers and members of Johnsonville A.M.E. Zion Church, located in the Johnsonville section, observed a very unique cornerstone laying service here recently, when the local Masons went through the sacred services.

The Rev. Murphy presided. The Rev. D.W.I. McInnis, Fair Promise A.M.E. Zion Church,

Sanford, delivered a very fitting sermon. He likened the building of the church to that of the building of Solomon's Temple. He told of the importance of a fitting edifice, in which to worship. He also admonished his hearers that right living was the thing that really counted. Rev. Dewitt Womack, Aberdeen, sang a solo.

Alexander Barnes, Director of Public Relations, presented the guest speaker and also told of the necessity of being true to the cause of religion and ever mindful of the rights of human beings.

The church is of cinder block and is nearing completion. It will serve a long felt need to this farming community. Rev. Murphy and his congregation are proud of the building and have dedicated themselves to making it a center for the community.

Church Honors New Members, UNC Delegation

FAYETTEVILLE — The College Heights Presbyterian Church was the scene of a fellowship dinner honoring recently added church members, the local Westminster Fellowship and members of the University of North Carolina chapter of the Westminster Fellowship.

Dr. J. W. Seabrook, retired president of Fayetteville State, gave principal remarks at the occasion.

Remarks of welcome came from Lafayette Parker for the Session, William Swann representing the diocese and Mrs. N. K. Daniels, the women's group.

Mrs. T. J. Gavin, Jr., presented corsages and bouquets to Misses Martha Trice, Mary Pifer, Sadye Baten, Shirley Phillips, Barbara Nassey, Mrs. Mary Brown, Eli Anderson, Leroy Horsley and Alex Purcell for their participation in the church and community projects.

U. N. Slogans, and flags from its member nations were used to decorate the dining room at the Oak Grove elementary school as the school observed United Nations Day recently.

Special Events At Elkin School Celebrate 11th Birthday Of UN

ELKIN — United Nations Day was observed at the Oak Grove elementary school here recently with special events and features at the school throughout the day, marking the 11th anniversary of the founding of the world organization.

At 10:45, a radio broadcast, directed by Oak Grove principal Mrs. Oressa Hauser, featured Oak Grove pupils. Nancy Foote, eight grade student, gave the history of the U.N., and the girls' chorus sang the "United Nations on the March."

The functions of the various organizations sponsored by the U.N. were explained to students at Oak Grove by a member of the Jonathan Hunt chapter of the D.A.R., Mrs. R. B. Harrell. She was guest of the school during the day.

A one world theme was carried out in the school lunch menu which consisted of food prepared from recipes of various member nations of the U.N. The menu was prepared by students in the cooking class after they had studied the organiza-

Also heard were Rev. Leighton McKeithan, assistant executive secretary to the Presbytery and Rev. Robert A. Massey, pastor of College Heights
