Bullock by E. L. Ralford, executive secretary of the Bloodworth Street YMCA. A portrait of the minister was presented the church by Dr. N. L. Perry, local physician. It was unveiled by Barbara Ann West, the minister's grand niece.

Other gifts were presented to Rev. and Mrs. Bullock by Mrs. Ellen Alston of the State Baptist Association, and Mrs. N. E. Lockhart, principal of a local school.

Rev. Bullock came to Raleigh from High Point, where he had served as a church pastor for 15 years. A native of Vance County, he is the son of the late Horace and Emma Bullock.

He was trained at the Henderson Normal School and Lincoln University of Pa. The Doctor of Divinity degree was conferred upon him by Lincoln.

Rev. Bullock assumed the pastorate of First Baptist in August, 1951. Since that time, the church has continued to expand in all areas. Rev. Bullock was one of the prime movers in the erection of the State Baptist headquarters building here.

60, with less than six minutes of play remaining, but paced by Brightful, Rozier, and Hudgins, the home team succeeded in widening the gap to 80-71 proportions for the Morganites third victory in three starts. Union's record stands at one-and-one.

Pretty was high-scorer with ten field goals and two foul shots for twenty-two points. Brightful, Hudgins, and Rozier each posted fifteen credits for the victors, while Weldon Montague did likewise for the losers.

NCC Cagers Post 81 Points Per Game Mark

Twelve of Floyd Brown's basketball Eagles averaged 81 points per game on the eve of the North Carolina College Hoopsters invasion of Maryland State College on December 14 and Morgan on December 15.

Paced by the stellar play of James Slish, with 13.7, other Eagles tallying in the double column after games with South Carolina, Howard, and Virginia State were Sam Jones, 12.7; John Keels, 11; Gil Riley and Carlton Bell, 10.3 each.

The Eagles opened play with a resounding 72 to 56 win over Ed Martin's South Carolina State Bulldogs. Later, Floyd Brown's CIAA championship contenders downed Howard 83 to 53 and turned back Shelton Matthews' Virginia State's Trojans 89 to 68. NCC on the eve 59. The Eagles play Savannah of the Union game was averaging 81 points against opponents State there on December 22.

Starting for the Eagles this season have been Sam Jones and Charley Badger, forwards; Slish and Don Burke, guards; and Carlton Bell, center. This group has played virtually half the time with relief from alternates playing the remainder of the time.

Alternating with the starters this season are John Keels and Gil Riley and these cagers: Cal-

A&T Cagers Notch Two CIAA Wins, Over Hampton, Bluefield

GREENSBORO

The A&T College Aggies took its second win of the young basketball season last Tuesday night in defeating Bluefield State College of Bluefield, W. Va., 74-50. The game was played at the local Charles Moore Gymnasium before 2,100 spectators. They opened the season by beating Hampton, 59-51, last Saturday.

The Aggies took the lead from the opening shot, built up an eight-point edge at half-time and were never overhauled. The locals came roaring back, following the intermission, to completely dominate the play. In the first ten minutes of the second stanza, the Aggies scored 10-straight points while holding the visitors to a single field goal. Midway the final period, they led 49-33 and proceeded to pull all stops on the hapless Mountaineers.

The Aggie bench, much improved over last year, with the addition of freshman standouts in Al Attles and Joe Cotten, was the real difference in the contest. Cal Irvin used eleven players to wear down the defense of the visitors and spurred far outfront in the latter minutes of the final half.

High scorer for the Aggies was Foe Howell with 21-points and Cotten was second with 18. The best that Bluefield had to offer was Preston Harrison who sank just 10-counters.

The Aggies had to come from behind in a close contest to nudge Hampton. Behind by six points after five minutes of the second half, the A and T quintet knotted the count at 39 all and finally broke ahead in the last five minutes of the game. A freshman, Carolina boy, Joe Cotten of Garysburg, contributed much to the winners. Besides being high scorer for his team, with 20-points, he was outstanding on defense. He almost completely controlled the visitors' backboard getting a full share of the rebounds under his own goal. Joe Howell was second for the Aggies with a total of 16.

Edward Amos, the lanky center from Hampton Institute, was easily the star of the game. He led the scoring with 28-points and was the top man on defense.

Students Okay Plan To Help Hungarians

HAMPTON, Va.

The Student Council of Hampton Institute last evening at its regular meeting voted unanimously to establish a special "refugee scholarship for any one student from an oppressed country, such as Hungary."

The spontaneous action was prompted by the Council's concern for students all over the world and in particular in countries behind the Iron Curtain and where equal opportunities for education do not exist.

Miss Bettye Tyson, a senior in speech in Drama of Fayetteville, was appointed to steer the scholarship fund committee which will first solicit the student body and the Hampton family, as well as the alumni and community-at-large.

At the same time, Dr. Alonzo G. Moron, president of Hampton Institute announced action taken last Friday, Nvo. 30th, establishing 2 special all expense scholarships for two Hungarian refugee students.

Evans, Arch and John Wilkerson and David Young. Interment was in the Oak Grove Church Cemetery.

Choir In Special NBC Broadcast

NEW YORK

The forty voice student choir of Hampton Institute of Virginia will be heard in special Christmas radio broadcasts over WQXR and NBC during the month of December. Both programs will originate from New York City during the choir's Northern concert tour.

The December 11 program will be broadcast throughout the state of New York, Pa., and Conn., over the WQXR network from 10:05-10:30 P.M.

The NBC broadcast will be part of a special holiday series "Voices of Christmas." The Hampton Choir program is scheduled for December 18 and will be aired over WRCA, 11:30 P.M. to 12:00 midnight.
