Leave For Baltimore
Mrs. Eva Goins and her sister, Miss S. E. Whitted, left by plane Sunday for Baltimore, Md., where they plan to visit through the Christmas holidays.

In Baltimore, they will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Goins, Mrs. Goins' son and family.

A HAPPY WEEK-END

Mrs. Chat Rivera spent last week-end in High Point with her children, the Clarence Yokeleys.

RETURN HOME

Miss Virginia Sotherland and her brother Horace, recent patients at Lincoln hospital, are now recuperating at their home at 1512 Concord Street.

YWCA CHRISTMAS PARTY

If you did not attend the Harriet Tubman YWCA Christmas Party last Tuesday evening, you really missed a treat.

A large number of members of the organization and friends were there, and gave fresh expression to the true Christmas spirit as they joined in singing favorite Christmas carols led by Mrs. Lillian Buchanan and accompanied by Mrs. Marian Warren Brown at the piano.

Guests were especially thrilled by a gift wrapping demonstration put on by Mrs. Barbara Logan Cook. Her artistic skill was as a magic touch, so beautifully done and so very different.

The following garden clubs also displayed some very pretty Christmas arrangements: The Better Homes and Garden, the La Fleur, the La Petite, the Lyon Park, the Tulip, and the Oak Wood Park Beautifiers. Delightful refreshments were served.

HOSPITALIZED

Mrs. M. Wilson is quite ill at Lincoln hospital.

TO BE MARRIED

Garland Burton left last Saturday for his home town, Hickory, where he will be married to Miss Margaret Brown, also of Hickory.

The nuptial vows will be spoken on Saturday afternoon at the Hartzel Memorial Methodist Church.

SS CLASS MEETS

Mrs. Mary Campbell, her mother, Mrs. Fannie McQuigg, were hostesses to their Sunday School class, the Moxhala, on Tuesday evening December 11 at their home on Dawkins St. Mrs. Trumella Smith presided over the meeting. The lesson was taught by Mrs. Jessie Moore. Refreshments were served.

HOLIDAY HOUSE

Sunday afternoon from five until seven o'clock, the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond S. Long at 119 Nelson Street was the scene of this enjoyable annual occasion, called "Holiday House."

This is the third year for the lonely affair, sponsored by the Azalea Garden Club. The object of the Holiday House is to put the city in a festive mood, and if you attend, you will surely get in the mood.

The spacious lawn was decorated with a large silver Christmas tree, and two smaller ones. The color scheme, blue and silver, cast a soft glow which seemed to say, "come on in, you are welcome."

As one entered the cheerful home, attractive Christmas arrangements for the television, coffee tables, mantles, dining tables, and buffet could be seen. The mantle arrangement was especially unique and interesting, portraying the life of Christ from birth to resurrection.

The dining table was covered with a lace cloth, having as a centerpiece blue and silver balls which enclosed the Madonna and child with candleabra on each side.

All of these arrangements were made by members of the Azalea club of which Mrs. Effie Cotton is president. Little Miss Ethel Richardson gave a reading Mrs. Lillian Buchanan presented an original Christmas Story, ending with Christmas carols.

Punch and home made cookies were served. Miss Mary Bryant Baines presided at the punch bowl with Mrs. Charlotte Miller and Mrs. Gladys McNeill alternating.

A large number of friends called during the afternoon and enjoyed the hospitality of the Azalea Garden Club members.

HELPING HAND CLUB MEET

The Helping Hand club will hold its next meeting Dec. 23, at the home of the president, Mrs. Essie Tricke at 613 Grant street. Members and friends are invited to attend.

The Azalea Garden club met with Mrs. P. H. McNeill at her lovely home on Fayetteville street Monday, Dec. 10. The spacious living room was exquisitely arranged with unique Christmas decorations and arrangements.

Mrs. Virgie Davis opened the garden gate after the group sang familiar Christmas carols. She read Christmas customs in other counties from a collection entitled, "Christmas Keepers."

Mrs. Cotton presided over the brief business session. Gifts for the patient service committee were collected and final plans for the Holiday House and Christmas party were made.

A delicious salad plate was served the club members and guests.

As Mrs. Annie Perry closed the garden gate, she thanked Mrs. McNeill for her cordial hospitality.

Enjoying the evening with Mrs. McNeill were Miss Marie Eaton, guest of the club, and club members Mesdames Janie Wheeler, Lena Richardson, Albiner Randall, Annie Perry, Bannetta Peele, Charlotte Miller, Margaret Marsh, Julia Lucas, Cornelia Johnson, Minnie Forte, Virgie Davis, Roxie Davis, Effie Cotton, Callie Ashford, and Misses Cleo Russell and Mary Baines.

compliments given them at this affair.

Pearson School PTA
W. G. Pearson School P.T.A. had its Christmas pageant in the school auditorium Monday at 7:45 P.M. Mr. C. T. Roach's sixth grade students presented THE CHRISTMAS STORY.

Leading roles were played by Gloria Snipes, Clarence Vinson, David Cooke, William Forte and Richard Tucker.

Fifth and sixth grade pupils under the direction of Mr. T. R. Webber rendered special Christmas music.

Final Meeting

A young adult discussion unit of the East Winston Branch Public Library, called the "It's Our America" group, held its final meeting in a series of six at the Branch library last Wednesday, December 5 at 7 p.m. In the meeting, a committee was selected to make plans for the next series of discussions which is scheduled to begin by the last of February. According to Mrs. Mary Bruce, who is leader of the young adult group of the library, the group, which is composed of young married couples, college students and teachers, will not meet again before next spring.
