

GROUP PLAY, REGARDED BY modern educational theory as important in the learning process, is stressed at Scarborough Nursery. Here four 'cowboys' check their 'trusty steeds.'

New Unit Being Planned For Scarborough Nursery

Plans for the construction of a $35,000 two story brick addition to the Scarborough Nursery School, increasing its present enrollment from 60 to 100 or more, will enable the 33-year-old United Fund Agency to help approximately 40 per cent more children.

Since its founding in 1925 the Scarborough Nursery School has contributed to the well being of some 4,000 children in the Durham community.

Because a majority of the children come from homes where the mother is employed and often the bread winner, the school has become almost a shrine in the Hayti section.

The children's day starts at 6:30 in the morning and ends at 5:30 in the afternoon. It is filled with activities designed to provide the fullest physical and mental development of children under six.

The school is a monument to J. C. Scarborough, Sr., Durham business man who founded it in 1925 and supported it for several years. Community Chest support came in 1946 and since then the school has been a United Fund Agency.

The school was licensed by the North Carolina Department of Public Welfare in 1938.

'Scarborough continues to be one of the guiding lights in the expansion program which is being sponsored by the Daisy E. Scarborough Foundation.

The Foundation is giving the land and underwriting the cost of the building.

Any child under six is eligible for admission to the Nursery School. Tuition is charged on the ability of the family to pay.

In addition to learning, the values of cooperation, self-reliance, and forming good habits of mental and physical hygiene, the children follow a regularly planned schedule. A typical day's activities include free play, handwork, singing periods, story hours, dramatizations, and supervised outdoor play.

Virtually all children following the school's routine and enjoying its hot noon meal and morning and afternoon nourishment show a noticeable gain in weight after the first week or so. Staff members give each child a daily health inspection. This is followed by a bi-weekly examination from a qualified nurse. Special clinics are held each quarter under the direction of a qualified pediatrician.

The school's health program includes immunization for contagious diseases.

Recognizing the importance of rest, school officials provide a bed for each child and insist that he sleep during the afternoon.

After this period of complete quietness, children enjoy mid afternoon nourishment followed by a special period of music and play.

Mrs. C. F. Scarborough has been director of the school since its founding.

The instructional staff includes three teachers and two part time teachers.

The school is open eleven hours daily, five days a week, twelve months a year.

In addition to Mrs. Scarborough, the director, other officers are J. J. Henderson, President, Mrs. C. T. Russell, Vice-President, and B. W. Kennedy, Secretary-Treasurer.

Members of the board of directors are Mrs. N. A. Cheek, Mrs. R. B. Holloway, Mrs. C. F. Scarborough, Dr. Charles Ray, R. C. Foreman, A. M. Rivera, W. J. Walker, Mrs. Alma Wade, Miss Edna Mason, Mrs. G. W. Logan, Mrs. J. S. Thompson, Mrs. Julia Harris, W. A. Clement, Mrs. Julia Garrett, and Dr. Evelyn Johnson.

The bride was gowned in white lace over taffeta fashioned with a sweet heart neckline, fitted bodice of venetian lace, long sleeves full at the shoulder fastened with tiny buttons at the wrist. A short veil of illusion fell from a tiara of seed pearls and edged with venetian lace. She carried a Prayer Book of roses and carnations with white ribbon.

The bride's mother chose for her daughters' wedding rose silk over taffeta with a corsage of carnations. The groom's mother selected a blue lace gown and a corsage of carnations.

The bride is a graduate of Hillside High School of Durham and received her B.S. degree at Winston-Salem Teachers College. Mr. Timberlake is a graduate of Merrick-Moore and Durham Business School. He is now employed with the Veterans' Administration.

The ceremony was followed by a reception given by the bride's parents at the church. The lace spread table was centered with a three tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom, and on the other was a punch bowl. She was assisted by Mrs. A. M. Rogers, Mrs. Rose Dunn and Mrs. C. Norwood.

The Rev. O. L. Conyer, pastor of the Bible Way Holiness Church of Fayetteville, will be guest speaker for the services. The public is invited.

The time when this nation can afford the doubtful luxury of race segregation is long since past. The U.S. Supreme Court sensed this more than any other agency of government and recognized at long last that segregation under our Constitution is a mockery and indefensible before the world in a nation which proclaims it stands for human freedom everywhere. Only editors blinded by the Dixie propaganda will fail to see this.
