Paul M. Butler, Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, this week announced a series of regional "Tactics Talks" will be held in September to spark Democratic campaigns for Congress and for state and local offices.

In announcing the "Tactics Talks," Chairman Butler said: "These will be last minute refresher sessions in campaigning and political organization. They will help us to beef-up and coordinate our activities in three fields, (1) fund raising activities, particularly the Dollars for Democrats drive; (2) registration and get-out-the vote drives; and (3) old and new techniques for vigorous exploitation of the issues which favor our party at every level of campaigning."

The first meeting will be held in Atlantic City on September 10 and 11. Representatives from the following states have been invited: Alabama, Connecticut, Delaware, District of Columbia, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Maine, Massachusetts, Maryland, Mississippi, North Carolina, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia, Vermont, and West Virginia.

The second meeting will be held on September 13 at the conclusion of the Mid-West Conference Meeting which will take place in Omaha, Nebraska, on September 11 and 12. Representatives from the following states have been invited: Arkansas, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Louisiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, North Dakota, and South Dakota.

Liberia Opens State Relations With Ethiopia

WASHINGTON, D. C. A new era in the relationships between African countries began Friday when the Embassy of the Republic of Liberia announced the appointment of First Secretary and Consul John W. Grigsby, as Liberia's first ambassador to Ethiopia.

Grigsby's appointment marks the first time an African nation South of the Sahara has had ambassadorial representation in Ethiopia. Similarly an Ethiopian diplomatic mission will be established in Liberia.

Prior to Liberia's mission the only African nations represented by ambassadors in Ethiopia were Egypt and the Sudan.

The exchange of missions between Liberia and Ethiopia is in keeping with decisions reached at Accra, Ghana last Spring when the Conference of Independent African States formulated, among other things, plans for the exchange of trade and diplomatic missions.

Rowan Baptist Association To Be Presided Over By New Moderator

WINSTON-SALEM For the first time in more than 40 years the Rowan Baptist Association will be presided over by a new moderator when it meets here August 19-21, with the Baptist Ministers Conference acting as host. Dr. David R. Hedgley, pastor of First Baptist Church here in Winston will preside over the All Rowan Baptist Assembly for the first time as newly elected moderator. He was elected to the post at Madison, last year when Dr. J. T. Hairston, of Greensboro, became moderator emeritus at his own request.

Meeting here during the week will be the combined auxiliaries of the Rowan Association which includes; the Women's Auxiliary headed by Mrs. F. R. Mason, High Point; the B.T.U., presided over by M. A. Horne, local businessman; the Sunday School Convention, which is led by W. N. Nelson, Greensboro; and the Ushers convention of which L. R. Johnson, High Point, is chief presiding officer.

Hundreds of messengers are expected to come to the Queen City from cities, towns and hamlets throughout western North Carolina as representatives to the first All Baptist Assembly in the Rowan's history. Comprising more than 80 Baptist Churches the Rowan Association is the largest such group among Baptist in this section of the State.

During the three day meeting the question of tenure in regards to officers of the parent body is expected to be discussed at length. For a number of years this question has been considered among a large number of the younger brethren of the group and it is expected to be one of the main issues while the group is in session.

Panelists From Foreign Countries To Give Delegates To AKA And Delta Confs View How Others See U. S.

WASHINGTON, D. C. How the world looks at America will be discussed by panelists from foreign countries representing the uncommitted areas of the world in the East-West ideological struggle and by a noted Negro American author-journalist during a public meeting sponsored by Alpha Kappa Alpha and Delta Sigma Theta Sororities during their national conventions in Washington, D. C. August 17-23.

Scheduled for August 20 at 8 p.m. in the Sheraton-Paris Hotel, the meeting will feature a hard hitting keynote address by Carl Rowan, author of several books, including "South of Freedom" and celebrated newspaper reporter of the Minneapolis Tribune.

Speaking on the subject "America in Perspective," Rowan, whose writing assignments have carried him to Europe, Asia, Africa, and Australia, will discuss the effects of our domestic activities on world consciousness, indicating the domestic problems having the greatest effects in creating the world's image of America.

Following Rowan's address will be four panelists—an Indian, an Iraqi, an African, and an Englishman—who will report on America's image in their respective areas.

The Indian panelist will be Miss Moses Dorothy, of Calcutta, who is a United Nations Social affairs officer and former director of the New Delhi School of Social Work, at India's New Delhi University.

Max Freedman, foreign correspondent of England's Manchester Guardian newspaper, is the European panelist.

Israeli panelist is Dr. Niami El Shami, a psychologist at New York's Columbia University. Dr. Mungai Njoroge, of Kenya, who is a staff physician of New York's Harlem Hospital, is the African panelist.

In naming the panelists, Mrs. Patricia Roberts Harris, Delta's executive director, said:

"Except for the European, the panelists represent the uncommitted areas of the world—areas in which America has great concerns—areas which must choose between Communist and democratic ideals.

"The future of the world depends upon whether the people in these areas see their best interests represented by the United States or by the Marxist-Leninist camp.

Religious Fervor Noted In USSR

RICHMOND, VA. The Russian Baptists are holding their own against anti-religious forces in the Soviet Union. The churches of this denomination are crowded and the people seem thirsty to hear the word of God preached by free men.

"The Russian people are cordial, warm, friendly and most inquisitive as to the American way of life." "I have rarely heard more beautiful music than that sung in the Russian churches."

These are recent quotes from Dr. Samuel D. Proctor who is in Europe. He is a member of a team sponsored by the Baptist World Alliance, currently touring Russia, Poland, and other European countries. Other members of the team are from the Southern Baptist Convention and the American Baptist Convention. Their itinerary includes Paris, Prague, Moscow, Warsaw, Berlin, Frankfurt, Brussels, Zurich, Switzerland, and many other points of interest behind the Iron Curtain and throughout Europe.
