

JUSTICE UNIT TO MOVE ON ALABAMA

Four Soldiers Rob Teacher At Fayetteville

FAYETTEVILLE — Four Fort Bragg soldiers, charged with robbing a Negro school teacher early Sunday, were bound over to Superior Court at a hearing on Tuesday.

They were Denton D. Hanlon, 24, Donald E. Higgins, 24, John King, 20, and Joseph Ullila. Bond was set in the case at $500 for each of the arrested men.

The quartet was accused of stealing a car belonging to William A. Bryant after robbing him on a local street.

According to police reports, Bryant told uniformed police that the four men pulled him from his parked car, took his wallet and watch, then forced him back into the car and drove him to his home.

Attempts to further identify Bryant, the robbery victim, were fruitless.

Fayetteville State Teachers College has in its employ a William A. Bryant who is coach of the basketball and football teams. Bryant came to Fayetteville — See SOLDIERS, page 8

Pretty Hattie Lowe, junior from Warsaw, will be crowned Miss TC in homecoming festivities at Winston-Salem Teachers College Saturday. Her attendants will be Marie Jacob, freshman; Betty Pearson, senior; and Altavia Ray, sophomore. The Winston-Salem Rams will take on St. Augustine's College in a football game, the feature of homecoming.

—Photo by Gaines

7 Youths On Rape Rap

Durham Firemen Get First Taste Of Action

Durham's newest firemen got their first taste of action over the week-end as the Fayetteville street station opened for business on Saturday morning, Nov. 1 at seven o'clock.

Up through Wednesday, the firemen had received two alarms, one on Saturday and another on Tuesday.

The Saturday alarm was false. On Tuesday, the company answered a call at a house on John street.

Chief C. L. Cox told the TIMES Wednesday that the new men did not really get a chance to display their ability because another company had answered the John street call and were on the scene battling the minor blaze when the Fayetteville street company arrived. They pitched in and the small residence blaze was quickly extinguished.

Cox described their performance as routine.

The new fire company is equipped with a standard pumping engine and assisted by two veterans, driver acting Lt. Harold Roberts and captain H. A. Miller.

Members of the new company are Walter Thomas, Elgin Johnson, George W. King, Velton Thompson, Robert Medlyn, John O. Lyon, Nathaniel Thompson, Sylvester Hall, Thomas Harris and Linwood Howard.

The date for a formal opening of the new station was not disclosed this week, but it is expected to take place soon.

Youths Accused Of Assaulting White Woman

GOLDSBORO — Wayne County grand jury returned true bills on Monday indicting seven Negro youths on charges of raping a white woman on the night of August 24.

The bills were returned individually against David Lee Hicks, 22, William E. Wilson, 20, Bennie Lee Ford, 16, two 14 year old boys, and a 15 year old.

It was not announced by Solicitor W. Jack Hooks, whether the seventh will be tried at the present two-week criminal term of Superior Court.

They are charged with raping Mrs. Leslie Jerald Strickland, age 21, in a field near the community center here.

Winners in the recently concluded Trade Week contest events are pictured here. At left is North Carolina College junior Davasene Wiggins shown wearing crown of "Miss Trade Week" shortly after coronation in climax of Miss Trade Week contest at Regal theater last Thursday. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Wiggins of 100 E. Enterprise St.

Davasene won over approximately 28 other contestants in the beauty, and talent show. Series of pictures at right show winners in the talent night and dance contests. At top is the Ammorocco quintet, first place winner; lower left, Haywood Enguhart and Patricia Vinson, first place winners in the TV "Top Ten" dance party contest; and lower right, Glennie Moore and Darnice Gaddy, second and third place finishers in the talent contest.

GOP CANDIDATE CHARGES

Negroes Victimized By One Party System

Negroes will continue to receive "crumbs from the political table" as long as they support the Democratic party, Alexander Barnes, defeated Republican candidate for state Senate said this week.

Barnes' statement came in the wake of Tuesday's election which saw a small turn-out of Durham voters give large majorities to incumbent Claude Currie of Durham and Willis Hancock, Jr. of Oxford in their race for two State Senate Seats from the 14th district.

A veteran GOP campaigner, Barnes' statement was interpreted as a criticism of the small Negro vote turn-out.

He told the TIMES he felt he could have easily been elected if half the eligible Negro vote had been cast.

Barnes received 2,282 votes in Durham County. His opponents, winners Currie and Hancock, got 6,518 and 8,282 respectively.

The County Negro vote is estimated at approximately 15,000.

According to the trend established at the four largely-Negro precincts in the county, less than 17 percent of the estimated number of Negro voters took part in the election.

(This was in keeping with the city-wide trend which indicated only a 29 percent participation by the total electorate)

In addition to the fact that this was not a presidential election, the light vote among Negroes was attributed to the fact that the Durham Committee on Negro Affairs did not endorse any candidate and took a stand only on two issues, both of which failed to attract much attention.

The Committee recommended that the proposed merger of city and county schools and a proposal to extend jurisdiction of Justices of the Peace be defeated.

Barnes said failure of Negroes to take part in substantial numbers in the election was an indication that "minority groups of the county and state are victims of the one-party system more than anyone else."

Describing the defeat of proposed schools consolidation as an indicative of the fact that "the people do not want power concentrated in one place," he declared that the people "ought to ponder the fact that the political strength of the county is concentrated in the Democratic party."

"Durham County and North Carolina will continue to throb in the abysmal pool of political ineptness as long as the one party system prevails," he said.

Barnes said despite the fact that schools have turned out trained Negro engineers, secretaries, clerks and lawyers, none have been hired by the State Democratic administration.

He called upon "so-called Negro Democratic leaders to go after some valuable jobs and positions for Negroes" and to "not" stop their pressure as soon as election day is over.

This was Barnes' second attempt for the State Senate.

Church Program

Durham Business College is presenting the Livingstone College Choir in Concert, Monday night, November 10, at 8:00 P.M. at St. Mark's AME Church.

The program includes choral numbers by Bach, Mozart, and Gounod—and arrangements of Negro Spirituals by William Dawson.

The Carolina Times

THE TRUTH UNBRIDLED

VOLUME 34—NUMBER 44

DURHAM, N. C., SATURDAY, NOV. 8, 1958

PRICE: TEN CENTS

Dedication of the new Crest Street elementary school (shown in picture) will be held Sunday afternoon at three o'clock. It was announced this week. Formerly the Hicktown school, the new building was opened for classes this year. Dr. Helen G.

Edmonds, professor of History at North Carolina College and outstanding author and lecturer, will make the main address. Immediately following the dedicatory rites.

at which time visitors will be invited to inspect the new building, will be held

U. S. May Probe Arrests Of Alabama Ministers

NEW YORK — The Federal Bureau of Investigation has assigned agents to look into the unprovoked arrest and detention in Birmingham of three Montgomery clergymen.

Announcement of the FBI probe followed receipt of a telegram from NAACP Executive Secretary Roy Wilkins urging the Department of Justice "to make a prompt and thorough investigation" of the case.

The three Baptist ministers—Rev. Solomon S. Seay, executive secretary, Montgomery Improvement Association, and the Revs. H. H. Hubbard and A. W. Wilson—were arrested on Oct. 27 in the home of Rev. F. L. Shuttlesworth who had been previously arrested for refusal to move from a seat on a bus on orders of the driver.

Arrested with Shuttlesworth were the Reverends S. J. Phifer and A. B. Jackson and 11 other Birmingham Negro citizens, including four women, who joined in challenging a local ordinance delegating to bus drivers the power to assign seats on a Jim Crow basis.

In a telegram, dated Oct. 28, to United States Attorney General William P. Rogers, Wilkins called the arrests "a shocking abuse of police power and a flagrant violation of the ministers' constitutional rights." He cited press statements attributed to the "notorious Police Commissioner Eugene (Ball) Connor...whose record of Negro persecution is well known."

In response to Wilkins' telegram, W. Wilson White, assistant Attorney General in charge of the Department's civil rights division, gave assurance that "if report of preliminary investigation in progress establishes basis for federal action, all appropriate steps will be taken by the

REV. F. J. BODDIE

Hillsboro Baptist Church Installs Frederick Boddie As New Pastor

HILLSBORO — The Rev. Frederick J. Boddie, Jr. was installed as minister of Mt. Bright Baptist Church at formal installation services Sunday, Nov. 2.

The Rev. Dr. F. J. Boddie, Sr., father of the new minister and minister of the Tabernacle Baptist Church of Petersburg, Va., delivered the installation sermon. Dr. Boddie was introduced by the Rev. J. H. Thomas, pastor of the Orange Crossroad Baptist Church.

The Rev. Charles W. Blalock, Dean of Men at Shaw University — See BODDIE, page 8

Church Bazaar

ST. JOSEPH'S BAZAAR — A bazaar featuring food, interesting articles for sale, music and entertainment, will be held in the assembly room of St. Joseph's AME church Thursday and Friday, Nov. 6 and 7, it was announced this week.

It is sponsored by all of the church organizations. The public is invited.

Week's School For Baptists Opens Monday

A training institute for Baptist church workers will open for five days at Mt. Gilead Baptist church next week.

Announcement of the institute, to run from Monday, Nov. 10, through Friday, Nov. 14, was made this week by the Rev. William Fuller, president of the New Hope Missionary Association, sponsor of the institute.

The institute sessions, to be held for two hours each night from 7:30 to 9:30, will be divided into two 45 minute class periods and one 30 minute worship period.

Courses dealing with various aspects of church and Sunday school leadership will be led by the Reverends Miles M. Fisher, pastor of White Rock Baptist; Fuller, pastor of Mt. Zion Baptist; E. T. Browne, pastor of Mt. Vernon Baptist; Harold Roland, pastor of Mt. Gilead Baptist; and Mesdames J. B. McLester and A. L. Filmore.

The schedule for the 30 minute worship service to be held during each nightly session of the institute is as follows:

Monday, the Rev. C. E. McLester and the Morehead Baptist church choir; Tuesday, the Rev. James Stewart and White Oak Baptist choir; Wednesday, the Rev. L. E. Daye and the second Baptist choir; Thursday, the Rev. W. R. Grigg and Mt. Gilead Baptist choir; and Friday, the Rev. Fisher and White Rock choir.

Some of the members of the Hunter Dental Society who will take part in the one-day symposium Wednesday shown here are, left to right, Dr. J. M. Hubbard, Sr., Dr. Norman Cordice, Dr. V. W. Love, Dr. T. B. Eam, Jr., Dr. Joseph Campbell, Dr. E. F. Norris and Dr. J. M. Hubbard, Jr. (seated, foreground)

Hunter Dental Society To Hold One-Day Symposium On November 12

A state-wide one-day symposium will be held here Wednesday, November 12 by the Alexander Hunter Dental Society of Durham, it was announced this week by Dr. J. M. Hubbard, Sr., president.

Appearing on the program, which will be held in the Angier B. Duke Nurses Home on Linwood Avenue, some of the leading authorities in several fields of dentistry.

The Hunter Dental Society is a three year old organization of Durham dentists. It was named in honor of the late Dr. Hunter, who was a leading member of the profession in the city, after his death last August.

Among those scheduled for the symposium are, Dr. Grover C. Hunter, Professor and head of the Department of Periodon-tia, College of Dentistry, University of North Carolina and Dr. R. J. Shankle, associate professor of Endodontia, College of Dentistry, University of North Carolina.

The program will get under way at 10:00 A.M., with a panel discussion on "Professional Ethics, a fundamental in Dental practice. Those appearing on the panel will be Dr. G. K. Butterfield, the chairman; Drs. J. F. Coleman, T. B. Bass, N. H. Cordice, W. L. T. Miller, G. S. Shoffner and J. J. Wilson.

Officers of the Society are Dr. Hubbard, Sr., president; Dr. H. H. Cordice, secretary; Dr. E. F. Norris, treasurer; Dr. J. M. Hubbard, Jr., chairman of program; and Dr. J. E. Campbell, chairman of publicity.

NCC Founder Described As Having "Forward Look"

Dr. Charles H. Wesley, president of Central State College, Wilberforce, O., urged a Founder's Day audience at North Carolina College Monday "to put the forward look in your system of values."

He spoke during 11th Founder's Day ceremonies in a program honoring the late Dr. James E. Shepard, NCC's founder and first president.

Lauding Dr. Shepard for "the forward look" that enabled him to "establish a great educational institution," Dr. Wesley said "Education is more than mere information. It should lead to an awakening of the inner self, it should make people dissatisfied with things as they are."

"Dr. Shepard had the forward look. He emphasized the importance of developing the mind," Wesley said.

NCC president Alfonso Elder presided at the ceremony held in the B. N. Duke Auditorium.

Afterwards, students, faculty, and alumni participated in traditional wreath-laying ceremonies at Dr. Shepard's grave in Beechwood Cemetery.

Jerome Dudley, student leader, and B. T. McMillon of the National Alumni Association participated in both rites.

A luncheon for Founder's Day principals in the Guest House and a meeting of the James E. Shepard Foundation in the Administration Building were other features of the day.