

Educators From Five States Air Problems Of Teaching, Guidance

GREENSBORO—Some 50 principals, senior class advisors and counselors from high schools in five Southern states met as guests of Bennett College Saturday and Sunday to explore with the college's faculty members and state education officials the possibilities of greater cooperation in curriculum development, testing and guidance.

The conferees heard addresses by Mrs. Fern W. Horne of Pittsburgh, Pa., and William A. Stuart of Princeton, N. J., and, after a panel discussion of the two addresses, divided into two workshops for the afternoon.

"We are suffering from academic 'gaps'—an overlapping of subject matter," Mrs. Horne declared, suggesting that lack of effective communication between high school and college teachers may be partly to blame.

Stuart devoted much of his presentation to testing and guidance needs. "Neither our schools nor the nation," he stated, "can afford to delay much longer taking positive action toward improving guidance. We must do the best we can with what we now have and know."

While recognizing that content is the most important and guidance is a continuous process, if I had to choose a single point for emphasis, it would be the eighth or ninth grade level."

Panelists included Mrs. Dorothy W. Edwards, dean of girls of Northwestern Senior High School, Miami, Florida; Dr. John Tarpley, principal of Dudley High School, Greensboro; Dr. Frank A. Toliver, state supervisor of high schools, Raleigh; and Dr. C. G. Winston, chairman of the social science division at Bennett. There was agreement that administrators in assigning teachers should take into account the fact that some teachers are at their best with the superior students while others are equally effective teaching the slower learners.

The Carolina Times

Editorial Material Explaining Bonus Money Contest

Beginning with the FEBRUARY 7 issue the CAROLINA TIMES will give $50.00 to the church that brings to our office at the end of the month the highest amount of sales tickets from merchants who advertise in the CAROLINA TIMES.

This contest is being staged to encourage our readers to patronize merchants who advertise in the CAROLINA TIMES. For buying from our advertisers we will donate a bonus of $50 each month to the church whose members bring to our office the highest amount of sales slips. All you have to do is save your purchase slips each week and bring them to our office at the end of the month in an envelope properly dated on the outside with your name and address. Please keep slips separated by the week. Be sure and place total value of slips on the outside of the envelope.

Merchants advertising in the CAROLINA TIMES will be listed each week. Only churches of the city of Durham and Durham County are eligible for the $50 bonus money.

Purchase slips must be saved each week as slips only count if the advertisement appears in the CAROLINA TIMES during a given week. No slip will count unless the purchase is made during the week the advertisement appears in the CAROLINA TIMES. At the end of the month purchase slips will be totaled and $50.00 in cash donated to the church having the highest amount.

Shop with CAROLINA TIMES advertisers each week and ask for purchase slips when you buy so that you will get credit for every dollar you spend. If your church does not get the bonus money the first month keep on saving slips and buying from CAROLINA TIMES advertisers each week. Your church can win if you will organize the members into saving their purchase slips. Your church can be a winner more than once, in fact as many times as your accumulated slips earn the top position.

Each week begins Thursday morning and ends the following Wednesday midnight. For instance the first week begins February 5th and ends midnight Wednesday, March 4. For further information call the CAROLINA TIMES, 5-0671. In the event of a tie the $50.00 bonus will be divided equally between the recipients.
