

STATEMENT

We believe that this matter of accomplishing the best education of one of all of the Durham School buildings for all of the Durham public school pupils should be settled here, across the conference table, rather than by resorting to further litigation in the federal courts.

Therefore, we urgently petition you to solve this problem of the present overcrowding of segregated Negro pupils and the expected worse overcrowding next year by making a prompt and reasonable and good-faith start next September in desegregating the public schools of our city. In this way the classrooms in the new Junior High School will serve to relieve the overcrowding of any pupils in any Durham School, without reopening the old Morehead School Building.

STATE CIVIL RIGHTS HEAD AT NCC — McNeill Smith, of Greensboro, chairman of the North Carolina Advisory Committee to the U. S. Civil Rights Commission, will be speaker at North Carolina College's Law Day observance at 10:30 a. m. on Friday, May 1. A world traveler and former newspaper correspondent, Smith will speak in Duke auditorium under the auspices of the NCC Law School Student Government Association.

-BEAUTICIANS

Smith, of Greensboro, president of the state beauticians organization; of C. H. Beckwith, of Charlotte, technical advisor to the beauticians association; and Mrs. Vivian Massey, member of a local cosmet-ologists unit.

Registration will open at Durham Business College at nine o'clock Monday morning, and the convention's business will get underway in earnest.

In the afternoon on Monday, the first in a daily afternoon series of exhibits and hair styling demonstrations will be on display.

Dr. Helen G. Edmonds, distinguished author, lecturer and teacher, will address a banquet on Monday evening at seven o'clock honoring Mrs. Smith, state president. Dr. Edmonds is professor of history at North Carolina College.

Following the banquet will be a formal dance at Hillside high school auditorium.

The major event of the hair styling section of the convention will come on Tuesday night at a "fashion extravaganza" and hair style show. Elsie P. Neal, famed Pittsburgh hair fashions expert and stylist, will be featured demonstrator at the daily hair style clinics and the Tuesday night show.

Reports of various committees will be made on Wednesday and election of new officers will be held. A picnic at the McKinnie farm on Cook road will bring the convention to a close.

Officers of the state organization, in addition to president Mrs. Smith are Mrs. W. F. Henness, Asheville, past president; Mrs. Louise Renwick, Statesville, first vice president; Mrs. Martha Smith, Wilmington, second vice president; and Mrs. Vivian Massey, Winston-Salem, recording secretary.

Heads of the local convention committee, in addition to overall chairman Mrs. Minor, are Mrs. Pecola Jones, co-chairman of the overall planning committee; and subcommittee heads as follows:

Booth and Jobbers: Mrs. Callie Ashford and Mrs. Beatrice Moss; Housing, Mrs. Magnolia Leake and Mrs. Pauline Love; Program: Mrs. Thelma Hill and Mrs. N. J. Curry; Entertainment: Mrs. Jessie Nunn, Mrs. Elveta Monroe and Mrs. Willie Watkins; Fashion and Hair Style Show: Mrs. Maule Burnette and Mrs. Lois Burroughs; Publicity: Mrs. Inez Minor, Mrs. Cora McLeod and Mrs. Fidelia Brooks; Courtesy: Mrs. Josephine Perry, Mrs. Lula Hill and Mrs. Julia Perry; Registration: Mrs. Mozelle Blount, Mrs. Montes Bates, Mrs. Curry and Mrs. Lill; Souvenir Program: Mrs. Callie Daye and Miss Sarah Dotson; and Kits and Baggies: Mrs. Earlie Grandy and Mrs. Lucy Johnson.

various Tar Heel branches.

The North Carolina NAACP currently is in the midst of an expanded attack on segregation in public schools. The organization is either actively involved in or giving moral support to cases pending in federal courts involving segregation in public schools in Mecklenburg, Durham, Greensboro and Montgomery Counties.

Some of the key N. C. NAACP officials to be at the May 8 rally are State president Kelly M. Alexander, of Charlotte, field secretary Charles McLean, of Winston-Salem, Mrs. Ruth Morgan, vice president of the state organization, Mrs. L. L. Graham, of Burlington, treasurer, and Dr. Grady Davis, of Raleigh, chairman of the church committee.

-MASONS

Hardy, Chaplain Dorcas No. 460, will give the invocation, and Lee W. Smith, Jr., Deputy of 14th District, will give the welcome address.

The Male Chorus of St. Mark A.M.E. Zion Church will furnish the music.

Members of the committee on arrangements are as follows: Mesdames Vera Owens, Marie Clark, Doris Fitzgerald, Leslie Smith.

Mattie McClamb, Armanda Wallace, Worthy Matron Prospect Chapter, Gladys Dawkins, Worthy Matron Brucilla Chapter and J. W. Barnes, J. A. Sartors, Hulen Allen, Worshipful Master Dorcas No. 460, Fred McNeill, Burley Clements, James Gillis and J. A. Carter, Worthy Patron Prospect Chapter.

-MONROE

Approximately 2,000 Monroe citizens took part in the election. Of the total number of registered voters, it is estimated that some 565 Negroes are listed on the books.

Negroes make up nearly 25 per cent of the city's population of 17,000.

Williams was the second Negro in recent history to run for public office in the city. Four years ago, the Rev. C. C. Johnson made an unsuccessful try for a seat on the city council.

led by Roy Wilkins, NAACP executive secretary; A Philip Randolph, AFL-CIO vice president; the Rev. Martin Luther King, president, Southern Christian Leadership Conference; Mrs. L. C. Bates of Little Rock, Ark.; Jackie Robinson; Harry Belafonte; Judge Hubert Delany; and Rev. Gardner C. Taylor — all sponsors of the demonstration; and also by Tom Mboya, 28-year-old labor and political leader from Kenya, East Africa.

A group of four young people reported to the marchers on their White House conference, earlier in the day. They said that President Eisenhower sent word that he would never be satisfied until the vestige of racial discrimination has disappeared in this country.

The students were Reginal Herbold Green, 23, Walla Walla, Wash.; Harlan E. Joye, 26, Orangeburg, S. C.; Miss Josephine Boyd, 18, Greensboro, N. C.; and Miss Selma Phillips, 17, Haristhorne, Ohio.

Southern youth groups were greatly outnumbered by those from the north and west. Southern schools represented were Hampton, Dilward, Texas Southern, Virginia State, Virginia Union, and North Carolina College.

Groups from Durham, N. C. and Norfolk, Va. were also in the demonstration.

Teen-Agers Meet In Windsor Hall

The Teen Age Adult Advisory Committee to the Teen Age Band Stand Club at Windsor Community Center met on Monday, April 20, at 8 p.m.; it was revealed today by Mrs. Alma Evans, Supervisor of Women's and Girls Activities.

Mrs. Mamie Turner, Chairman, presided over the meeting and other members present were Mrs. Marguerite Robinson, Mrs. Betty Hayes, Mrs. Louise Avant, Mrs. Catherine Doggett, Nolan Lyles, Mrs. Helen Dean, Paul G. Lowry and Mrs. Sadie Sheppard, Secretary of the group.

Plans for the Spring and Summer program for the Teen-Agers were outlined by the group. Mrs. Turner stated that 25 couples from the Teen-Age Club will be selected Thursday, April 30, to appear on the R. C. Dance party over WFMV TV station, channel 2. All members of the Teen-Age Band Stand Club are urged to be present. The Teen-Age Band Stand Club Spring Formal is tentatively scheduled for Thursday, May 21, at 8 p.m. Other activities drafted for the Teen Agers were picnics, tennis instructions, social dancing instructions, girls softball, outdoor basketball, billiards, quiet games, table tennis and dancing. These activities will all be supervised.

The object of the Teen Age Band Stand Club is to unite all Teen-Agers of our community in the closest bonds of good fellowship by: (1) providing a clean whole-

Dr. Browne will speak at the regular 11 o'clock morning worship hour. A highly regarded professional educator, she is also prominent in women's Baptist affairs and a youth leader. An evening service at seven o'clock will feature some of the city's outstanding women musicians, including Mrs. Barbara Cooke, Mrs. Luvonia Parker and North Carolina College music students Miss Elvira Green, Emile Winston, Enid Sutton and Arden McKeathen.

Durham Urban Renewal Group Visits Roanoke

J. H. Wheeler and N. B. White were among members of a Durham delegation scheduled to visit Roanoke, Va. Thursday to inspect that city's urban renewal project.

The Durham delegation was headed by Mayor E. J. Evans and members of the Durham Urban Renewal Commission Robinson Everett, Wheeler, James R. Hawkins, J. F. Glass and R. G. Hurst.

Durham currently has plans underfoot to redevelop the Hayti-Elizabeth Street area along the lines of urban renewal projects carried out in other cities.

The project would remove the blighted, or slum areas from this section of the city.

A request for one million dollars in federal funds has been made by the city to help in the program.
