Vet Alabama Teacher Dies

MONTGOMERY, Ala. — Within the past three months Alabama State College has suffered a second loss of a veteran staff member in the death of Miss Eula L. Gilbert on Thursday morning. Funeral rites were conducted at Jacob's C.M.E. Church on Sunday afternoon.

Miss Gilbert was a 1921 graduate of Talladega College and received the master's degree from Teachers College in 1928.

Miss Gilbert had just completed 35 years of staff service at Alabama State College as assistant professor of Elementary Education and as associate principal of the Campus Laboratory School. Her service had begun back in 1922 under the administration of the late George W. Trenholm.

Acting Gunnery Sergeant John F. Parrish, of the Second Marine Aircraft Division, was commended for meritorious service for the second time within a week by his commanding officer, Major R. A. Andres. Parrish received the meritorious award on June 18 for his contribution to the Marine Corps field maneuver, "TRALEX 1-59." Last week he received a second meritorious award for helping his section to become "100 percent ready for operations in the field for training or combat."

A native of Bahama, Parrish attended Little River High School in Bahama and was employed by Union Electric Co. of Durham before re-entering the Marine Corps in September 1950. He first entered the Marine Corps in February 1943 and participated in amphibious operations in the South Pacific during World War II.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude W. Parrish of Hillsboro and husband of the former Miss Margarette D. Harris of 2902 Duke Homestead Rd., Durham.

Winston-Salem Urban League Finds Jobs Suiting Students' Careers of summer jobs for students made by the Winston-Salem Urban League reveals that more "jobs variety" exists for students this time than at a similar time last year.

The report also reveals that a record number of students registered at the Urban League office, 610 Coliseum Drive, for summer jobs.

S. D. Harvey, executive director of the Urban League, gave much of the credit for the increase in "qualitative" jobs to the Urban League-Employment Service team-work approach to employers and to the League's new TST (Tomorrow's Scientist and Technicians) program, a youth incentives program, which for the first time this summer placed students in science-related jobs according to their interest.

INTERVIEWERS AT UNC — For the second year, the Urban League is cooperating with the University of North Carolina as they conduct major research studies in selected cities in N. C., and in this connection, beginning July 8th will select a corps of students to work as interviewers who will receive $1.50 per hour, plus auto allowance.

Several other job classifications have been filled by students through the Urban League-Employment Service operation this summer and include engineering students, drafting student, camp counselor, dark room assistant, radio technician, baby sitter, route deliveryman, janitor, office clerk, and typist. Through the Urban League-Employment Service team-work, 10 letters were mailed to employers and 23 contacts were made with industry and heads of other facilities, and 176 students registered for employment.

Convening of Girls' State Spotlights Leader

RALEIGH—The meeting of Girls and Boys State, which opened at Shaw University Monday, brought into focus the interesting life of Mrs. Rosa L. Fox, Belmont, the director of Tar Heel Girls State. The program is sponsored by the American Legion and is carried on for girls and boys who show exceptional aptitude in civic and governmental issues. They are chosen from throughout the state by the American Legion and spend one week annually in Raleigh where they get an opportunity to study government and to gather information pertaining to the two subjects.

Mrs. Fox, the widow of a veteran, showed decided interest in the youth and it was for this reason that she was selected. She is past president of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Legion. She is also active in the A.M.E. Zion Church, currently serving as the president of the Woman's Home & Foreign Missionary of the Western North Carolina Conference. She is a member of Hood Memorial A.M.E. Zion Church, Belmont. She is heading a drive to equip the Dorothy Walls Camp, located in the beautiful range of the Blue Ridge Mountains, near Asheville, which will be formally opened on July 9, by Bishop W. J. Walls and the members of the Western North Carolina Conference. Mrs. Fox is attempting to pick up bed linen and other necessities for the 11 room building that is available to the youth of the state.

Seven To Retire At Howard

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Seven Howard University employees, including six professors, will retire from the University June 30, with an aggregate of 231 years of service. Each has reached the automatic retirement age of 65 years. They will be honored by the University during ceremonies scheduled for Wednesday, June 24, in the Trustees Conference Room at 4 p.m. The retirees are Charles C. Cohen, professor of piano; Stewart R. Cooper, professor of Chemistry; Camille L. Nickerson, professor of piano; Jason C. Grant, associate professor of English; W. Leo Hansberry, associate professor of history; Riley F. Thomas, associate professor of medicine; and C. Albert Chambers, chief guard.

A. U. Grad School Gets $50,000

ATLANTA, GEORGIA, A grant to Atlanta University of $50,000 from the Danforth Foundation has been announced by Dr. Rufus E. Clement, president of the University. The money is to be used for library materials to undergird the graduate program. Dr. Clement said that the Danforth Foundation termed this an "Encouragement Grant" which was made in recognition of the excellent and strength of the Atlanta University graduate program. Atlanta University offers graduate degrees in English, economics, French, history, political science, mathematics, biology, sociology and anthropology, and graduate professional degrees in education, library service, business administration and social work.

Africans Say Governors' Trip Seen As Boost To Communists

MACKINAC ISLAND, Mich. — African leaders today warned the nine American governors who leave for Moscow tomorrow that their trip will be interpreted in Africa as support of Communism. They suggested that the governors choose "Mackinac—not Moscow; Moral Re-Armament—not Communism."

The governors received an open letter sent by telegram to the Roger Smith Hotel in Washington, D. C. last night. They will be briefed by the State Department today and fly to Moscow tomorrow. Their trip is made under the auspices of the Council of State Governors and subsidized by the Ford Foundation. The letter was also sent to President Eisenhower, Vice-President Nixon, and the other 41 state governors.

The African leaders are representatives and delegates from East, West, South and Central Africa to the Summit Strategy Conference for Moral Re-Armament at Mackinac Island, Michigan. They include a Nigerian Member of Parliament; a former Cabinet Minister from French-speaking Dahomey; two Kikuyu representatives from Kenya who were leaders in the Mau Mau uprising; a Basuto Chief, one of the framers

King In Print

ATLANTA, Ga. — The Southern Christian Leadership Conference announced today that Dr. Martin Luther King's prize-winning book "Stride Toward Freedom" is being published in both Europe and Asia this summer.

In England it is to be published by Victor Gollancz with an introduction by Father Huddlestone, who was expelled from South Africa as a result of his fight against segregation. Father Huddlestone calls "Stride Toward Freedom" a "great book."
