

Mack's Quack (Teenage Happenings)

By JOYCELYN McKEISSICK

Hi Teens . . . This week-end was really something. North Carolina College won its homecoming game and Hillside beat Ligon High to maintain a 6-4 record. Hillside has one of the best teams it has had in a long time. Co-captains, Charles "Mickey" Day and Jimmy Barnes are playing with all they have. Little James Holloway is one of the most valuable players, too. Along with these are Harrison "Bud" Lyons, Wauna Dooms, Levi Dawson and Bobby Blue. Charles "Butch" Stanback, another valuable player, was injured last Tuesday night. Charles is now suffering from a lacerated jaw, and the team regrets that it won't have his help in their last game, Friday. . . . Durham High played their game against Northern High in the new stadium which seats more than 10,000 spectators.

The Junior and Senior Hi-Fi's of Jack and Jill incorporated solicited donations for UNICEF (United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund) Halloween night instead of the usual game of "Trick and Treat". Members who participated were: Joy Beale, Billy and Wesley Clement, George and Leon Creed, Helen Davis, Wauna Dooms, Betty Goodloe, Biff Henderson, Phyllis Jefferies, Alice Jones, Booker and Evelyn Kennedy, Gregory Kyle, Carol and Betty Phillips, Thomas Sampson, Jacqueline Scott, Leetta Smith, Booker Spaulding, Jan Stawback, Janetta Stewart, Brenda Thompson, James Turner and Carolyn and Leroy Walker.

The E. D. Mickle Youth Club will entertain their parents by having a special parents' banquet on Thursday night. . . . Cloyce Lassiter is attending the National Y-Teen convention in New York City.

The T. A. Grady Youth club has elected a new reporter. This news was reported by Gilford Sowell, the newly elected reporter. . . . The T. A. Grady Recreation Center had some real swinging halloween parties. The Play School's party was held on October 30. The party was begun by a march of the goblins, witches, and the spooks. As they marched the tots made such bewitching noises that they would have frightened any genuine witch. The costumes were most horrifying, most weird and most uncanny. They sang songs and then marsh-mallow, hot dogs, bubble gum and candy were distributed.

The fourth thru the sixth grade Halloween party was held that evening. This party proved to be one of the queerest, ever. If you can imagine a typical scarecrow doing the "Slop" with brooms on, you can very well get a conception of what the party was like. To get into the swing of things, the teenagers had a slack party on Friday night. The slacks were very chic and the girls looked very fashionable in them. Willie Perry, Delores Johnson, Janet Hill, John E. Harrison, and Judith Mitchell are a few of the many present. Saturday night the teens had another jumping party. The center was crowded. Some who were present were: Phil Savate, Barbara Lee, Sandra Criss, Christine Brown, Margaret Harrington, Ronny Richardson, Gustav Jones, Donnie Bass, Ina Fletcher, Jane Sampson, Leon Creed, and loads of others.

Hillside Alumni Wallace Dixon, Robert Grafton, Edward Toole, and Herbert Thornton are all home on furlough. So it's amusing how all of their furloughs included the exact dates of N. C. C.'s homecoming.

Bernard Austin, formerly of Richmond, Va., is now attending Whitted Junior High School. Bernard is the nephew of L. E. Austin of THE CAROLINA TIMES.

Founders Day was celebrated at North Carolina College, Tuesday. High School Band Day will be held at A&T on Saturday.

See you next week. Don't forget to study if you don't do anything else.

MISS MAYNOR

Maynor Concert Recalls Artist's New York Debut

Twenty years after her historic Town Hall debut, Dorothy Maynor will return to the New York scene of one of her greatest triumphs. The twentieth anniversary of her New York debut brings back many memories. The way in which she captivated her audience was reported in Time Magazine. "When Miss Maynor had finished her final encore, 'Depuis le jour' from Charpentier's 'Louise' the house stood still and cheered for twenty minutes."

Shortly after this dramatic appearance Dorothy Maynor appeared in concert in Durham. Ralf Munster, local music critic, wrote after this concert before a capacity audience that "For once the advance publicity did not exaggerate. Here, indeed, is one of the greatest singers of the age."

This time Miss Maynor reverses the script. For eight days before her return to Town Hall the music lovers of the Durham area will have an opportunity to hear her. On Wednesday, November 11, at 8:15 p.m. she will appear in concert at the B. N. Duke Auditorium on the campus of North Carolina College under the auspices of the Durham Chapter of the Hampton Alumni Association. Proceeds will go to the National Hampton Institute Scholarship Fund.

Miss Maynor is a person with a wide range of interests and an exceedingly warm personality. She is an enthusiastic tennis player, swimmer and walker. She is also fond of setter pups. But first and foremost, she loves singing.

There was always music in the Maynor home and on Sunday afternoons the family was joined by the neighbors in singing. Then there was the opportunity to sing in her father's church choir in Norfolk, Virginia. She entered Hampton Institute at 14 and toured Europe with the famous Hampton Institute Choir. Then came the Berkshire Festival, Town Hall and international recognition as a top-flight concert artist.

Miss Maynor is contributing all proceeds except expenses to Alma Mater's Scholarship Drive.

Mrs. Harris Host To Flower Lovers

On Wednesday evening, October 28, a group of African Violet enthusiasts met at the home of Mrs. L. M. Harris of Umstead Street to compare notes and exchange ideas on their pet hobby. Mrs. C. B. Nixon, who is becoming an authority on the culture of the African Violet, or Saintpaulia, the scientific name, gave important tips and demonstrations on the violets.

The information given by Mrs. Nixon was so interesting and stimulating that the ladies organized themselves into club naming Mrs. Nixon president.

Enjoying the hospitality of Mrs. Harris and the demonstrations of Mrs. Nixon were Mesdames B. F. Smith, N. C. Miller, R. E. Davis, B. E. McLaughlin, and N. H. Bennett, Jr.

With gardeners' attention turning to indoor plants it is an ideal time for all African Violet enthusiasts to get together. All enjoying this hobby and would like to join the group are asked to call Mrs. L. M. Harris, 9-2023, or any of the above ladies.

"Priceless," Says Mrs. Spaulding of Series of State Dinners, Including Ike's, at Which They Were Guests

Dining with the great and the mighty proved to be routine for Durham's Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Spaulding last week.

Their social calendar for a three-day period included dinner with the United States president and Mrs. Eisenhower, on Monday, Oct. 26; with U. S. Secretary of State, Christian A. Herter and wife, Herter and a party of 50 at the Anderson House on Tuesday night, Oct. 27; and with Governor Luther and Mrs. Hodges and party in Chapel Hill on Wednesday night, Oct. 29.

"Beyond the fondest dreams of a Columbus County farm boy," said Dr. Spaulding, president of North Carolina Mutual Life Insurance Company and one of the United States' top interpersers of the American way of life to foreigners.

To Mrs. Elna Spaulding, the occasions were "almost too fragile; not given enough time to enjoy, get so poignant with memory and hope and challenge as to be priceless troves in a cedar treasury of memories."

Among the guests enjoying dinner with President and Mrs. Eisenhower at the White House on Monday night, October 26 were: President of the National Assembly and Mrs. Saifoulay Diallo; Minister of General Economy

Louis Lanza, Beavogul; Minister of Interior Fodeba Keita; Army Chief of Staff Maj. Nounandian Kette; and Ambassador and Mrs. Diallo.

M. Toure's Military Air Brig. Gen. Noel F. Parrish USAF, was among the guests.

President Eisenhower paid special compliments to the musicians participating in the performance honoring the Toures. Cellist Gregory Piatigorsky and his accompanist Alexander Zakin were warmly greeted by the Eisenhowers. Mrs. Piatigorsky and Miss Jephtha Piatigorsky attended the musicale.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and Mrs. Herter who were host to the Spauldings on Tuesday night headed the Cabinet delegation at the Eisenhower's White House dinner.

Other Cabinet guests included Attorney General and Mrs. Rogers.

Supreme Court guests were Associate and Mrs. Harlan Durham's own George V. Allen, a w. friend of the Spauldings and a recent guest speaker at Shaw University where Mr. Spaulding is treasurer of the trustee board, and Mrs. Allen were also there. Mr. Allen is chief of the United States Information Agency.

"We deliver as many as 125 babies a month," Mrs. Anderson says. "I know how important it is for tiny babies to have the most digestible form of milk for their formulas." More mothers feed Carnation to their babies than any other brand. This milk in the red-and-white can is the world's leader for infant feeding.

Head nurse tells why she selected CARNATION MILK FOR HER OWN BABY

Mrs. Ida Mae Anderson is head nurse and maternity supervisor at a leading hospital in Detroit. She has been a leader in advanced nursing methods for many years.

Mrs. Anderson and her husband have one son, Michael Lynn, a healthy, happy two-year-old.

"Michael was a bottle baby for nine months," Mrs. Anderson says. "His formula milk was Carnation, of course. When Michael changed to the cup we kept him on Carnation. We mix it with an equal amount of water, and it gives him all the food values of whole milk, with extra Vitamin D."

The Andersons with their son Michael at lunch. Dessert will be Mrs. Anderson's Carnation Custard. "Ordinary milk won't do for this custard," Mrs. Anderson explains. "It's never 'watery' with Carnation." Double-rich Carnation is the world's leading evaporated milk.

"FAILURE-PROOF" CARNATION CUSTARD
(Makes 6-8 individual custards)

4 eggs
1/2 cup granulated sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup water
1 1/2 cups (large can) undiluted CARNATION EVAPORATED MILK

Beat ingredients to mix well. Pour custard into 6-8 baking dishes; sprinkle with nutmeg. Put dishes in 2 1/2" deep pan; pour water around the custard dishes. Bake in moderate oven (350°F.) 40-45 minutes, or until knife inserted into custard comes out clean. Remove from water and cool. Add topping, if you desire.
